McCarthy Says U. S. Delayed H-Bomb Research 18 Months

Wisconsin Senator Replies To Recent Attack By Murrow

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) charged tonight that America deliberately delayed its hydrogen bomb research for 18 months for some mysterious reason.

He made the statement on a reply to radio-television commentator Edward R. Murrow's recent attack on him. He did not refer to Murrow when, in a general discussion of Communist pressure within this country, he said:

"If there were no Communists in our government, why did we delay for 18 months—delay our research on the hydrogen bomb, even though our intelligence agencies were reporting day after day that the Russians were feverishly pushing their development of the bomb? And may I say to America tonight that our nation may well die—our nation may well die because of that 18 month deliberate delay — and ask who caused it? Was it loyal Americans or was it traitors in our government?"

Murrow Linked To Propaganda

Murrow on March 9 accused McCarthy of repeatedly stepping over the line that divides investigation and persecution.

McCarthy retorted tonight that Murrow "as far back as 20 years ago was engaged in propaganda for Communist causes."

Between McCarthy and CBS, the text of the senator's filmed statement was kept secret up to the time of broadcast. However, in a reply prepared in advance, CBS said in part:

"The management of CBS has had ample opportunity . . . to become fully aware of Mr. Murrow's passionate devotion to his country and to the fundamental principles upon which it is built. It also knows of his equally passionate opposition to those who, either within or outside our boundaries, would subvert those principles."

Murrow Releases Statement

Murrow made no comment whatsoever on the television program. "See It Now," itself. But he, too, had a printed statement in reply to McCarthy ready in advance.

He said in part:

"Sen. McCarthy's reckless and unfounded attempt to impugn my loyalty is just one more example of his typical tactic of attempting to tie up to communism anyone who disagrees with him . . . ."

McCarthy's reply to Murrow was filmed late last week. The senator, himself, is in Arizona.

The Wisconsin senator charged that Murrow's March 9 broadcast "followed implicitly the Communist line as laid down in the last six months, laid down not only by the Communist Daily Worker but by the Communist magazine, Political Affairs, and by the National Conference of the Communist party of the U. S. A."

Three Die When Jet Hits Truck, Parked Planes

VICTORVILLE, Calif., April 6 (AP) —A F86 jet fighter crashed into a truck on a runway at George Air Force Base today, burst into a ball of fire and roared into two parked planes.

The pilot and two men on the truck were killed. Five airmen were seriously burned in the huge blaze, which required half an hour to extinguish.

An Air Force spokesman said the plane was about five feet off the ground before striking the truck, used for crash rescue work. The truck was manned by an airman and a civilian.

North Atlantic Council Rebukes French Marshal

PARIS, April 6 (AP)—The North Atlantic Council handed French Marshal Alphonse Juin a rebuke today which a NATO spokesman described as strong enough to provoke him to resign his Allied command.

The council told the Marshal, commander of NATO forces in Central Europe, it regrets deeply his repeated criticisms of the European Defense Treaty. The North Atlantic Treaty Organization supports EDC without reservations.

To make Juin's resignation easier, the council specified there is no plan to replace him with any but another French general officer.

Unprecedented Reprimand

Juin has declared publicly that he will not step out unless he receives iron-clad assurances that his successor will be a French officer with precisely the same powers he holds.

The council's reprimand—unprecedented because NATO never before has found one of its own military officers in disagreement with NATO policy—was handed to France's No. 1 soldier by Lt. Gen. Cortlandt V. R. Schuyler. He is chief of staff to the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther. Gruenther returned from a trip to London today too late to deliver it himself.

Said EDC Unworkable

The scolding was contained in a council resolution which was voted yesterday, saying the council "expresses its profound regret at the public statements made by the commander-in-chief Central Europe on 27th March, 1954, and subsequently reiterated".

The statements by the marshal which the council found objectionable were that the EDC treaty is unworkable and unfavorable to France, therefore a substitute project for Western Europe's defense must be found.

Baton Rouge Delays Polio Vaccine Tests

BATON ROUGE, La., April 6 (AP) —Polio vaccine tests for 4,200 East Baton Rouge parish school children were canceled today pending "clarification of the status of the serum."

Dr. David Brown, parish health officer, announced the postponement after conferring with officials of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and doctors on radio commentator Walter Winchell's remark Sunday that the vaccine may be "a killer instead of a cure."

Reds Say Two More ROKs Seized In Raids

TOKYO, Wednesday, April 7 (AP)—Peiping radio said today two more South Koreans had been captured in "raids" on Red Korean territory even as the Military Armistice commission prepared to meet to consider a neutral zone clash.

A Peiping broadcast said the two were from a party of five which raided a village Monday near Yonan, on the west coast some 50 miles northwest of Seoul.

The broadcast said both "admitted" they belonged to the "American side" and had been sent north to kidnap Red officials.

British Planes Surveyed Sites Of H-Explosions

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill added to Britain's H-bomb furor today by telling the House of Commons that British planes—with American approval—made observation flights at U. S. hydrogen bomb tests last month.

In another of the continuing series of atomic statements, the Foreign Office revealed that the United States asked for and got British permission before dropping the atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945.

The United States acted in accord with a secret pact, disclosed yesterday, between Churchill and the late President Roosevelt pledging the two countries not to use the A-bomb without the other's consent.

Two Of Planes Lost

Churchill told the House that two of the planes assigned to the H-bomb survey were lost, but the Prime Minister insisted this had nothing to do with the bomb blast.

The 79-year-old statesman, engaged in one of the most violent political fights of his career, said the planes surveyed the blast sites March 1 and March 27, a few hours after H-bomb explosions on those dates.

This was the first public acknowledgement that the British government was well enough informed about the tests and their timing to send planes in at the proper time.

It was also the first revelation that the United States had permitted Britain to send such planes to gather information at the tightly-guarded, highly secret test sites.

Ike Not Considering Trip

Churchill's statement made it obvious that the United States was keeping Britain considerably more informed on its H-tests than knowledge of the tests.

As questions about A-bombs and H-bombs flew in Commons, Churchill told the House he would be "delighted" to welcome President Eisenhower here for talks on the problem. He said, however, there was little chance the President "could leave his heavy duties at the present time" to journey to London.

(In Washington, the White House said such a trip was not under consideration.)

Balanced Budget Offered Britain

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—Britain's Conservative government announced a "carry-on" budget today—standing pat on substantially the same fiscal program it claimed sent industrial production to record heights last year.

Giving the impression the Churchill government has no immediate plans for a general election this year, Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler put forward a balanced budget calling for expenditures of 4,523,000,000 pounds ($12,664,400,000) and leaving a "small surplus" of 14 million pounds ($39,200,000).

Butler told the House of Commons: "I will make no change for change's sake" and added that he could offer no major tax remissions.

189,000 Steelmen Idle

PITTSBURGH, April 6 (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the CIO United Steelworkers, said today about 15 per cent of the big union's 1¼ million members are idle at present.

McDonald estimated about 189,000 steelworkers are out of work in the United States and another 7,700 have been furloughed in Canada.

Lindbergh Named To Help Choose Air Academy Site

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A five-man board including Charles A. Lindbergh began today the politically ticklish task of choosing a site for the new Air Force Academy.

Working with the famed transatlantic flier will be two other civilians, President Virgil M. Hancher of the University of Iowa and Merrill C. Meigs, Chicago business man; and two Air Force generals, Gen. Carl A. Spaatz and Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon. No chairman was designated.

The 126 million dollar academy, a "West Point of the air," was authorized in legislation signed into law by President Eisenhower last Thursday. Planned eventually to take care of nearly 2,500 student officers, it is to open July 1, 1955 with an initial class of 300, probably in temporary quarters.

The law which provides for the academy also directed formation of the five-man board to help Harold M. Talbott, secretary of the Air Force, pick a site. If the board's recommendation is unanimous, Talbott is bound by its findings. If not, Talbott will make the final selection from the board's three top choices.

Numerous Congress members already have sought to land the academy for their respective states or districts. They consider it a political plum because of both the size and the permanence of the proposed installation.

U. S. Proposes Pacific Allies Warn Peiping

Dulles, Envoys Draft Declaration Designed To Protect Indochina

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—The United States has called on Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand to join in issuing a stern warning intended to protect war-torn Indochina and the rest of Southeast Asia from further Communist aggression.

The British Foreign Office said terms of the declaration have not yet been completed, but are being hammered out in Washington at conferences between U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and ambassadors of the other countries which would sign it.

U. S. Urges Aid To France

Australian government sources in Canberra said the United States has also asked that country, New Zealand and Britain to give all possible aid to France to prevent Indochina falling to the Reds.

Authoritative Washington reports said the United States was aiming at a Southeast Asian regional grouping which could counter Red threats to that area.

All these moves were evidently part of Dulles' campaign to save Indochina and the rich Southeast Asia territory by "united action" of the Free World.

Britain appears ready to join in some form of declaration concerning Southeast Asia, but the Foreign Office does not want to say so officially until a mutually satisfactory draft is reached.

Dulles Broached Idea

A French Foreign Ministry spokesman said in Paris some Asian governments also would be asked to join in the formal warning. The Philippines and Thailand presumably were the most likely to be approached.

The French spokesman said Dulles had broached the idea to French Ambassador Henri Bonnet in Washington last Saturday. France is now studying the proposal.

The declaration, it was understood, probably would closely resemble that issued last August by the 16 members of the United Nations who participated in the Korean War. That one warned that any violation of the armistice would be resisted and the ensuing hostilities might not be limited to Korean territory.

Senators Debate Indochina Issue

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today "the free nations of the world . . . cannot ignore or sidestep" any Chinese Communist entry in force into the Indochina war.

The Senate Republican leader spoke out during Senate debate while authoritative sources reported the United States is consulting six friendly governments to forge a specific program for united action to save Southeast Asia from communism.

Sen. Jack (D-Wash) demanded that President Eisenhower "come before the Congress' to outline this nation's policy for Southeast Asia.

Jackson said an informed Congress would "do everything possible we can to back up the President of the United States so he will have a strong hand."

"We can't let Indochina fall to anyone," Jackson said. "If we do, it means the fall of all Southeast Asia."

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), reviewing the situation in a major address, declared that the fighting in Indochina is hopeless unless it is recognized that the objective is to free the people and not to maintain French colonialism there.

The result of continued postponement of independence for the Indochinese states, he said, is that French loyal forces are fighting an enemy "which has the sympathy and covert support of the people."

Woman Who Married Queen's Chaplain Dies

BOSTON, April 6 (AP)—Word was received here today of the death in England of Mrs. Ethel L. Paine Moors Raven, 80, who married Canon Charles E. Raven, 68, chaplain to Queen Elizabeth, on March 24.

Relatives said they were informed that Mrs. Raven, a millionairess, suffered a heart attack yesterday at Lyme Regis, Devonshire. The couple flew to England on March 31.

The former Mrs. Moors was a descendant of a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Takes Oath As SBA Counsel

French Stage Their Heaviest Air Assault Of Indochina War

HANOI, Indochina, April 6 (AP)—The French launched their heaviest air assaults of the Indochinese War today to aid the beleaguered defenders of Dien Bien Phu.

American-supplied fighters and B26 bombers laid down barrages of thousands of pounds of high explosives and fire bombs on Communist-led rebel troop concentrations. They ranged out to smash rebel supply convoys, strafed thousands of coolies carrying Red war materiel while cargo planes parachuted tons of ammunition and supplies to men in the beseiged fortress.

All-Out Red Attack Seen

French troops and their Vietnamese allies, bolstered by the air drops, tightened their network of defenses for another expected large scale assault by the Vietminh rebels. Reports were current here that Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap intended to throw tens of thousands of men into battle in a supreme bid to wipe out the fortress.

(A French Press Agency report said Monday that Vietminh commanders were rushing up 20,000 reinforcements. There was no confirmation of this figure.)

As heavy rains hit the mountains and valleys of the pro-French Thai tribal peoples country, Vietminh artillery continued to roar and drew heavy counter-barrages.

French Planes Bomb Roads

The Vietminh concentrated much of their fire upon the main airstrip to prevent it being used for landing troop reinforcements or for the French to evacuate their wounded.

French bombers hit hard against the roads linking Dien Bien Phu with Red China. Thousands of tons of guns, ammunition, war material and rice have been flowing from there to supply the life blood for the furious rebel assaults upon the fortress.

The Vietminh still depend upon Langson, 80 miles northeast of Hanoi and 250 miles northeast of Dien Bien Phu, as the principal point of entry for aid from Red China.

Hickenlooper Disputes HST On Atom Pact

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Former President Truman and Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) hooked up today in a sharp cross-country clash over whether Great Britain still has a veto power over United States use of atomic bombs.

Yes, Britain has, Truman said in an interview at Kansas City.

"Not correct," Hickenlooper told the Senate.

"No comment," Truman said when asked about Hickenlooper's statement. "The record speaks for itself."

James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary declared: "Sen. Hickenlooper is correct."

Everyone agreed, however, that no nation holds veto power over U. S. use of the newly-developed hydrogen weapons.

The question of atomic agreements flared yesterday when British Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons it was the responsibility or misfortune" of Clement Attlee's 1945-51 government that a wartime British-American atomic pact was no longer in effect.

Attlee snapped back that the U. S. Congress ended the agreement, not his government. The agreement, he said, was cancelled by the U. S. Atomic Energy Act of 1946.

At that time, it was reported that the wartime pact, signed in 1943, had been a closely guarded secret from that time on. Truman disputed this today, saying many persons knew about it.

Hall Says GOP Halts Aggression By Reds

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said tonight the Eisenhower administration has "stopped Communist aggression abroad" and has made further Red advances "so risky even the Kremlin will think twice before embarking on them."

Defining "a healthy economy" and the halting of communism as the two basic issues of this year's campaign for control of Congress, Hall said in an address prepared for a Republican women's conference here:

"At home our forthright methods of handling subversion have restored national confidence after two decades of expensive security blindness."

IMPERIA, Italy, April 6 (AP)—A curvaceous brunette was elected "Miss Spring" by popular acclaim at a town party last night.

While the crowd cheered the winner stepped to a microphone and boomed in a clear baritone: "Thank you, ladies and gentlemen for your choice. But I must confess . . . "

The 17-year-old boy student made his escape with the losers in hot pursuit.

All the contestants were in evening dresses.

Soviets Release Two Americans

HEIDELBERG, Germany, April 6 (AP)—Two American soldiers, prisoners of the Russians since yesterday, were released today on orders of the Soviet commander in Germany, Gen. A. A. Grechko.

Grechko's action came in response to an urgent protest of the U. S. military mission in Potsdam in the Soviet zone which charged that the Americans were seized by a Soviet army squad on West German territory.

The Americans, who were freed at the East-West zonal boundary near the small town of Fladungen in Bavaria, are Sgt. William J. Young of (RFD 2) Rochester Mills, Pennsylvania, and Pvt. Luther G. Woods of Winona, West Virginia.

They were taken prisoner by a Soviet army unit of around 20 men. The radio-equipped jeep in which they were patrolling the zonal boundary was taken with them by the Russians and returned with them today.

Husky Bulldozer Operator Wins Battle With Octopus

SANTA ROSA, Calif., April 6 (AP) —A big octopus seized James (Big Jim) Antone while he was abalone hunting yesterday, but the 265-pound bulldozer operator knew what to do.

He pulled the octopus from the submerged rocks to which it was clinging and walked ashore with it while spectators gasped. Then Big Jim beat the octopus' head against a stone until it released its hold on him and died.

Antone said he was hunting abalone, a mollusk which clings to rocks, at Jenner, a seaport town west of here.

He was up to his neck in the water when the octopus grabbed him, and he was unable to free himself from about six of its eight tentacles.

"I felt something like a muscled piece of wire wrap around my left arm," Antone said. "As I reared back another tentacle attached itself, and then another, another and another.

"It was useless to try to tear the tentacles away so I braced myself, heaved, and ripped it from the rocks.

"Its head was like a balloon and it kept spitting water all over me as I walked to shore with it."

Several spectators saw Antone's plight but the sight of the octopus, which measured eight feet from tentacle top to tentacle tip and weighed 40 pounds, frighened them away.

Antone said he walked until he found a large stone. Then he slammed the octopus' head against it.

Sears, Called Pro-M'Carthy, Gives Up Post

Boston Lawyer Says He Is Withdrawing In Public Interest

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Samuel P. Sears, under fire on the ground that he is biased in favor of Sen. McCarthy, today resigned as special counsel for the Senate subcommittee preparing to investigate the hot row between McCarthy and Army officials.

The pipe-smoking Boston lawyer declared he was satisfied he could conduct the big probe impartially, but he felt it was "in the public interest" to withdraw in view of the questions raised about his past praise of McCarthy.

Sears handed in his resignation as members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee met to consider allegations that Sears is a long-time admirer of the Wisconsin senator and therefore might not be accepted by the public as an impartial investigator.

His resignation was accepted unanimously. The vote was 6-0, the same as that by which he was appointed special counsel only last Thursday.

Satisfied He's Competent

"I am completely satisfied in my own mind that I am thoroughly competent to conduct the pending inquiry objectively, impartially and in fairness to all," Sears said in a statement given to reporters.

"However, that is not the test.

"The investigation must go forward not only with the full confidence of those involved but, perhaps more important, with absolute confidence of the people."

Sears' sudden withdrawal left the subcommittee just as far away as ever from the start of its investigation. Now a new special counsel must be found—and the senators no doubt will take special pains to find a man whose impartiality cannot be challenged.

"Dangerous" Precedent

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the subcommittee, disclosed today that in its search for a counsel the group had asked Chief Justice Warren of the Supreme Court about having a federal judge assigned to the job.

Mundt said in a statement that Warren took the question up with his associate justices and they decided unanimously that "It would establish a dangerous precedent which would not be in the best public interest."

"Had the Supreme Court decided otherwise," Mundt added, "we had decided to ask Judge Harold Medina be assigned to the task."

Medina, now a member of the Second U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, presided over the New York trial of 11 American Communist leaders who were convicted of conspiracy to teach the violent overthrow of the government.

Two Die As CAP Plane Crashes

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 6 (AP)—Two Civil Air Patrol members—one a Presbyterian minister—were killed today when their small plane crashed into the Susquehanna River in a dense fog while searching for a missing Air Force jet plane.

The bodies of Capt. Anthony Synodinos, 53, and the Rev. Edward George Conrad, 50, both of Baltimore, were recovered from the wreckage of their plane late this afternoon.

The plane, a single-engine, open-cockpit, Ryan monoplane, had taken off from Harbor Field in Baltimore at 12:10 to take part in the hunt for a T33 Lockheed jet trainer piloted by Col. William H. Councill, missing since it left Farmington, L.I., N.Y., Monday for Langley Air Force Base, Va.

The CAP plane plunged into the Susquehanna where it empties into the Chesapeake Bay, about a half mile from Havre de Grace shore, about 2 p.m.

Searchers, led by Havre de Grace Police Chief William Bullock, and including State Police and local fishermen, found the fuselage of the plane in about 10 feet of water off Penn Beach, near Pt. Concord Light.

Lindbergh Named To Help Choose Air Academy Site

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—A five-man board including Charles A. Lindbergh began today the politically ticklish task of choosing a site for the new Air Force Academy.

Working with the famed transatlantic flier will be two other civilians, President Virgil M. Hancher of the University of Iowa and Merrill C. Meigs, Chicago business man; and two Air Force generals, Gen. Carl A. Spaatz and Lt. Gen. Hubert R. Harmon. No chairman was designated.

The 126 million dollar academy, a "West Point of the air," was authorized in legislation signed into law by President Eisenhower last Thursday. Planned eventually to take care of nearly 2,500 student officers, it is to open July 1, 1955 with an initial class of 300, probably in temporary quarters.

The law which provides for the academy also directed formation of the five-man board to help Harold M. Talbott, secretary of the Air Force, pick a site. If the board's recommendation is unanimous, Talbott is bound by its findings. If not, Talbott will make the final selection from the board's three top choices.

Numerous Congress members already have sought to land the academy for their respective states or districts. They consider it a political plum because of both the size and the permanence of the proposed installation.

U. S. Proposes Pacific Allies Warn Peiping

Dulles, Envoys Draft Declaration Designed To Protect Indochina

LONDON, April 6 (AP)—The United States has called on Britain, France, Australia and New Zealand to join in issuing a stern warning intended to protect war-torn Indochina and the rest of Southeast Asia from further Communist aggression.

The British Foreign Office said terms of the declaration have not yet been completed, but are being hammered out in Washington at conferences between U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and ambassadors of the other countries which would sign it.

U. S. Urges Aid To France

Australian government sources in Canberra said the United States has also asked that country, New Zealand and Britain to give all possible aid to France to prevent Indochina falling to the Reds.

Authoritative Washington reports said the United States was aiming at a Southeast Asian regional grouping which could counter Red threats to that area.

All these moves were evidently part of Dulles' campaign to save Indochina and the rich Southeast Asia territory by "united action" of the Free World.

Britain appears ready to join in some form of declaration concerning Southeast Asia, but the Foreign Office does not want to say so officially until a mutually satisfactory draft is reached.

Dulles Broached Idea

A French Foreign Ministry spokesman said in Paris some Asian governments also would be asked to join in the formal warning. The Philippines and Thailand presumably were the most likely to be approached.

The French spokesman said Dulles had broached the idea to French Ambassador Henri Bonnet in Washington last Saturday. France is now studying the proposal.

The declaration, it was understood, probably would closely resemble that issued last August by the 16 members of the United Nations who participated in the Korean War. That one warned that any violation of the armistice would be resisted and the ensuing hostilities might not be limited to Korean territory.

Senators Debate Indochina Issue

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said today "the free nations of the world . . . cannot ignore or sidestep" any Chinese Communist entry in force into the Indochina war.

The Senate Republican leader spoke out during Senate debate while authoritative sources reported the United States is consulting six friendly governments to forge a specific program for united action to save Southeast Asia from communism.

Sen. Jack (D-Wash) demanded that President Eisenhower "come before the Congress' to outline this nation's policy for Southeast Asia.

Jackson said an informed Congress would "do everything possible we can to back up the President of the United States so he will have a strong hand."

"We can't let Indochina fall to anyone," Jackson said. "If we do, it means the fall of all Southeast Asia."

Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass), reviewing the situation in a major address, declared that the fighting in Indochina is hopeless unless it is recognized that the objective is to free the people and not to maintain French colonialism there.

The result of continued postponement of independence for the Indochinese states, he said, is that French loyal forces are fighting an enemy "which has the sympathy and covert support of the people."

Woman Who Married Queen's Chaplain Dies

BOSTON, April 6 (AP)—Word was received here today of the death in England of Mrs. Ethel L. Paine Moors Raven, 80, who married Canon Charles E. Raven, 68, chaplain to Queen Elizabeth, on March 24.

Relatives said they were informed that Mrs. Raven, a millionairess, suffered a heart attack yesterday at Lyme Regis, Devonshire. The couple flew to England on March 31.

The former Mrs. Moors was a descendant of a signer of the Declaration of Independence.

Barnes, SBA administrator. Present for the ceremony are Schoen's mother, Mrs. Edward Schoen (right), and his sister, Miss Pat Schoen.

French Stage Their Heaviest Air Assault Of Indochina War

HANOI, Indochina, April 6 (AP)—The French launched their heaviest air assaults of the Indochinese War today to aid the beleaguered defenders of Dien Bien Phu.

American-supplied fighters and B26 bombers laid down barrages of thousands of pounds of high explosives and fire bombs on Communist-led rebel troop concentrations. They ranged out to smash rebel supply convoys, strafed thousands of coolies carrying Red war materiel while cargo planes parachuted tons of ammunition and supplies to men in the beseiged fortress.

All-Out Red Attack Seen

French troops and their Vietnamese allies, bolstered by the air drops, tightened their network of defenses for another expected large scale assault by the Vietminh rebels. Reports were current here that Vietminh Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap intended to throw tens of thousands of men into battle in a supreme bid to wipe out the fortress.

(A French Press Agency report said Monday that Vietminh commanders were rushing up 20,000 reinforcements. There was no confirmation of this figure.)

As heavy rains hit the mountains and valleys of the pro-French Thai tribal peoples country, Vietminh artillery continued to roar and drew heavy counter-barrages.

French Planes Bomb Roads

The Vietminh concentrated much of their fire upon the main airstrip to prevent it being used for landing troop reinforcements or for the French to evacuate their wounded.

French bombers hit hard against the roads linking Dien Bien Phu with Red China. Thousands of tons of guns, ammunition, war material and rice have been flowing from there to supply the life blood for the furious rebel assaults upon the fortress.

The Vietminh still depend upon Langson, 80 miles northeast of Hanoi and 250 miles northeast of Dien Bien Phu, as the principal point of entry for aid from Red China.

Hickenlooper Disputes HST On Atom Pact

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Former President Truman and Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) hooked up today in a sharp cross-country clash over whether Great Britain still has a veto power over United States use of atomic bombs.

Yes, Britain has, Truman said in an interview at Kansas City.

"Not correct," Hickenlooper told the Senate.

"No comment," Truman said when asked about Hickenlooper's statement. "The record speaks for itself."

James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary declared: "Sen. Hickenlooper is correct."

Everyone agreed, however, that no nation holds veto power over U. S. use of the newly-developed hydrogen weapons.

The question of atomic agreements flared yesterday when British Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons it was the responsibility or misfortune" of Clement Attlee's 1945-51 government that a wartime British-American atomic pact was no longer in effect.

Attlee snapped back that the U. S. Congress ended the agreement, not his government. The agreement, he said, was cancelled by the U. S. Atomic Energy Act of 1946.

At that time, it was reported that the wartime pact, signed in 1943, had been a closely guarded secret from that time on. Truman disputed this today, saying many persons knew about it.

Hall Says GOP Halts Aggression By Reds

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said tonight the Eisenhower administration has "stopped Communist aggression abroad" and has made further Red advances "so risky even the Kremlin will think twice before embarking on them."

Defining "a healthy economy" and the halting of communism as the two basic issues of this year's campaign for control of Congress, Hall said in an address prepared for a Republican women's conference here:

"At home our forthright methods of handling subversion have restored national confidence after two decades of expensive security blindness."

Brunette Chosen As "Miss Spring" Proves To Be Boy

IMPERIA, Italy, April 6 (AP)—A curvaceous brunette was elected "Miss Spring" by popular acclaim at a town party last night.

While the crowd cheered the winner stepped to a microphone and boomed in a clear baritone: "Thank you, ladies and gentlemen for your choice. But I must confess . . . "

The 17-year-old boy student made his escape with the losers in hot pursuit.

All the contestants were in evening dresses.

Soviets Release Two Americans

HEIDELBERG, Germany, April 6 (AP)—Two American soldiers, prisoners of the Russians since yesterday, were released today on orders of the Soviet commander in Germany, Gen. A. A. Grechko.

Grechko's action came in response to an urgent protest of the U. S. military mission in Potsdam in the Soviet zone which charged that the Americans were seized by a Soviet army squad on West German territory.

The Americans, who were freed at the East-West zonal boundary near the small town of Fladungen in Bavaria, are Sgt. William J. Young of (RFD 2) Rochester Mills, Pennsylvania, and Pvt. Luther G. Woods of Winona, West Virginia.

They were taken prisoner by a Soviet army unit of around 20 men. The radio-equipped jeep in which they were patrolling the zonal boundary was taken with them by the Russians and returned with them today.

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower today selected Rowland R. Hughes, a 58-year-old former New York banker, as director of the Budget Bureau.

Husky Bulldozer Operator Wins Battle With Octopus

SANTA ROSA, Calif., April 6 (AP) —A big octopus seized James (Big Jim) Antone while he was abalone hunting yesterday, but the 265-pound bulldozer operator knew what to do.

He pulled the octopus from the submerged rocks to which it was clinging and walked ashore with it while spectators gasped. Then Big Jim beat the octopus' head against a stone until it released its hold on him and died.

Antone said he was hunting abalone, a mollusk which clings to rocks, at Jenner, a seaport town west of here.

He was up to his neck in the water when the octopus grabbed him, and he was unable to free himself from about six of its eight tentacles.

"I felt something like a muscled piece of wire wrap around my left arm," Antone said. "As I reared back another tentacle attached itself, and then another, another and another.

"It was useless to try to tear the tentacles away so I braced myself, heaved, and ripped it from the rocks.

"Its head was like a balloon and it kept spitting water all over me as I walked to shore with it."

Several spectators saw Antone's plight but the sight of the octopus, which measured eight feet from tentacle top to tentacle tip and weighed 40 pounds, frighened them away.

Antone said he walked until he found a large stone. Then he slammed the octopus' head against it.

Sears, Called Pro-M'Carthy, Gives Up Post

Boston Lawyer Says He Is Withdrawing In Public Interest

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Samuel P. Sears, under fire on the ground that he is biased in favor of Sen. McCarthy, today resigned as special counsel for the Senate subcommittee preparing to investigate the hot row between McCarthy and Army officials.

The pipe-smoking Boston lawyer declared he was satisfied he could conduct the big probe impartially, but he felt it was "in the public interest" to withdraw in view of the questions raised about his past praise of McCarthy.

Sears handed in his resignation as members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee met to consider allegations that Sears is a long-time admirer of the Wisconsin senator and therefore might not be accepted by the public as an impartial investigator.

His resignation was accepted unanimously. The vote was 6-0, the same as that by which he was appointed special counsel only last Thursday.

Satisfied He's Competent

"I am completely satisfied in my own mind that I am thoroughly competent to conduct the pending inquiry objectively, impartially and in fairness to all," Sears said in a statement given to reporters.

"However, that is not the test.

"The investigation must go forward not only with the full confidence of those involved but, perhaps more important, with absolute confidence of the people."

Sears' sudden withdrawal left the subcommittee just as far away as ever from the start of its investigation. Now a new special counsel must be found—and the senators no doubt will take special pains to find a man whose impartiality cannot be challenged.

"Dangerous" Precedent

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), acting chairman of the subcommittee, disclosed today that in its search for a counsel the group had asked Chief Justice Warren of the Supreme Court about having a federal judge assigned to the job.

Mundt said in a statement that Warren took the question up with his associate justices and they decided unanimously that "It would establish a dangerous precedent which would not be in the best public interest."

"Had the Supreme Court decided otherwise," Mundt added, "we had decided to ask Judge Harold Medina be assigned to the task."

Medina, now a member of the Second U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals, presided over the New York trial of 11 American Communist leaders who were convicted of conspiracy to teach the violent overthrow of the government.

Two Die As CAP Plane Crashes

HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 6 (AP)—Two Civil Air Patrol members—one a Presbyterian minister —were killed today when their small plane crashed into the Susquehanna River in a dense fog while searching for a missing Air Force jet plane.

The bodies of Capt. Anthony Synodinos, 53, and the Rev. Edward George Conrad, 50, both of Baltimore, were recovered from the wreckage of their plane late this afternoon.

The plane, a single-engine, open-cockpit, Ryan monoplane, had taken off from Harbor Field in Baltimore at 12:10 to take part in the hunt for a T33 Lockheed jet trainer piloted by Col. William H. Councill, missing since it left Farmington, L.I., N.Y., Monday for Langley Air Force Base, Va.

The CAP plane plunged into the Susquehanna where it empties into the Chesapeake Bay, about a half mile from Havre de Grace shore, about 2 p.m.

Searchers, led by Havre de Grace Police Chief William Bullock, and including State Police and local fishermen, found the fuselage of the plane in about 10 feet of water off Penn Beach, near Pt. Concord Light.

Eisenhower Aid Measure Boosts Help For Indochina

European Funds Cut 58 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—President Eisenhower made a new move toward bulwarking Indochina today by earmarking nearly one third of next year's cutdown 3½ billion dollar foreign aid budget for the Asian war.

The President slashed European aid funds for the next fiscal year one billion dollars, or 58 per cent, under the current year. He sent to Congress a $3,497,700,000 overseas program, including Europe, Asia and other areas, for the year ending June 30, 1955.

The overall program is the smallest since global foreign aid got underway in 1948 and is more than one billion dollars less than the $4,726,000,000 voted by Congress last year.

But it includes $1,122,000,000 for military and economic aid to Indochina, the largest single item in a budget that otherwise reflects a marked scale down in funds for arms.

Foreign Operations Administrator Harold E. Stassen, outlining the program to the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said Indochina is earmarked for 300 million dollars in arms, 800 million in military-supporting expenditures and the balance for economic help.

He said this budget is based on the belief that Indochina must be held and that the war there can be won in two years.

This is about the same total as current expenditures—about 65 per cent of the cost of Indochina fighting—but the new request comes amid fresh concern over the outcome of current bitter fighting.

In all, the Far East and the Pacific are bracketed for a total of $1,768,900,000, a little over half the entire measure. This is a higher percentage than last year but about the same total.

Europe is cut from $2,300,000000 to $947,700,000. Much of this, Secretary of State Dulles told the committee yesterday, reflects a cutdown of new funds for arms to support the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Adlai Says Reckless Use Of Authority May Damage Government

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says that while reckless use of government authority may harm private reputations, it can do even greater damage to the reputation of the government itself.

It is always a lamentable thing when the good name of an individual is unfairly taken from him by anyone," Stevenson says, "but when the filching is done by government or with its connivance, government does immeasurable harm to itself, and the effects on the world we live in are more calamitous than we presently perceive."

Stevenson sets forth his views on "the reputation of the government" in an article in the April issue of Harper's magazine. The 1952 Democratic nominee for president confines himself to a general discussion of the topic and names no one as being reckless with government authority.

Meat In Box Lures Lion From Moat

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (AP)—The lion in the moat at the Philadelphia zoo was lured out today with good red meat in a big strong box as the bait.

Thus ended the 48-hour adventure of Pharoah, bumped into the moat's eight feet of water last Sunday, presumably by another and jealous—lion.

After draining the moat the zoo staff set to work to get Pharaoh back where he belonged.

Over the moat's steep slope attendants placed a bridging, a steel wire mesh net with heavy strips of wood crosswise, so that the lion might gain solid foothold.

Pharaoh lumbered his 400 pounds up to the net yesterday, looked it over sulkily, turned and padded away.

Today the men lowered the box, fitted with a pull-up door at one end and bound round with a thick chain ready for lifting if Pharaoh should be taken. Inside chunks of fresh meat had been placed.

For hours the lion ignored the whole business. Indifferent to the smell of the meat, he settled on a pile of straw that had been thrown to him Sunday night. Just as the zoo people were resigning themselves to a wait of perhaps several more days, until hunger pangs drove Pharaoh up the net or into the box, the lion surrendered to the lure.

Construction Outlays Hit Record 7¼ Billions

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The Commerce Department said today spending for new construction rose to a record 7¼ billion dollars during the first three months of this year.

In March, the report said, outlays for new construction took their usual seasonal rise, and totaled about 2½ billion dollars, almost precisely the same as in March 1953.

Most of the increase in March, the report said, was expansion of outlays on private housing, public utility construction, and highway work. Total private spending rose during the month by 8 per cent. New work on residential construction totaled 854 million dollars, 11 per cent more than in February and slightly less than the 863 millions for March, 1953.

Two Virginians Are Acquitted In Kidnap Trial

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP) — Two young Virginians today were acquitted by a Federal Court jury which tried them on charges of abducting a Hagerstown, Md., girl last October after a fight with her date and his buddy.

The verdict set free Daniel D. Walters, 21, and relieved Earl Leon Tomblin, also 21, of the necessity of serving another sentence on top of a six-month term to which he was sentenced for assault in another escapade.

Left in doubtful status was Marion Francis Hough, 21-year-old farmer who pleaded guilty to the charge and in his testimony against Tomblin and Walters said he only served as chauffeur.

All three live in or near Round Hill, Va., not far from the point where Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland come together at Harpers Ferry.

They were indicted under the Lindbergh law on charges they kidnaped 21-year-old Marie Celine Jolliffe last Oct. 17 and drove her from Hagerstown into West Virginia and Virginia after meeting her in a tavern near Martinsburg, W. Va., and getting in a fight with her two companions.

The all-male jury asked an unusual question of the court just before returning its verdict.

They had deliberated almost 2½ hours when they asked permission to return to the jury box. Could they convict Tomblin and Walters without accepting the charge in the indictment that the abduction was for the purpose of sexual relationship with the girl?

The answer was negative and five minutes later the jury was back again with its verdict of acquittal. They started hearing testimony Monday morning and the final arguments were not finished until mid-afternoon today.

M'Keldin Studies Bypass Question

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin reserved judgment today on the protested location of a north-south highway bypass on the outskirts of Frederick.

There were strong indications, however, he would not upset State Roads Commission plans to build it through the northwest section of the city.

"I have plenty of reading to do before making a decision," the governor commented after a meeting with commission members and spokesmen for unhappy Frederick citizens living in the area.

The reading consisted of charts, aerial photos, transcripts and petitions bearing the names of 458 residents suggesting the bypass be constructed elsewhere.

John R. Fitzpatrick, a lawyer; Earl Hargett, builder of the Biggs Avenue area; Mrs. Madeline Warnock and G. A. Deshazer, who live on Biggs Avenue, told the governor a route on the other side of town would be more economical.

In the northeast it also would be easy to construct and do less property damage, they said.

General Charges Head Of Martin Co. Stole Wife's Love

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Milton Wylie Arnold, a retired Air Force brigadier general, today filed a million dollar suit against George M. Bunker, president of the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Co.

Arnold, now vice president of the Air Transport Assn., alleged Bunker alienated the affections of his wife Sally and their seven-year-old adopted son.

The petition, filed in U. S. District Court here, said she obtained a divorce from Arnold in Coral Gables, Fla., Feb. 17 and four days later married Bunker.

Prince Georges County Battles Big Brush Fire

OXON HILL, Md., April 6 (AP)—A four-alarm brush fire raged out of control in Prince Georges County tonight, burning utility poles and wires despite efforts by 13 fire companies.

No injuries were reported and no homes in the area were immediately threatened.

The blaze roared unchecked across approximately 25 acres of hilly, pine-studded country in the 6500 block of Livingston Road.

Early reports said telephone and light service had been interrupted.

National Democratic Leaders Asked To Keep Noses Out Of Calif. Politics

LOS ANGELES, April 6 (AP)—National Democratic leaders today were asked to keep their noses out of California politics — and let James Roosevelt and Rep. Robert L. Condon run their own congressional races.

In response in a statement by National Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell that the national party will not support Roosevelt or Condon, State Democratic Chairman George Miller Jr. declared:

"Mitchell would do well to keep his nose out of California politics. We're not much interested in what he approves of. The Democrats in Roosevelt's and Condon's districts asked them to run and it's up to the voters to decide at the primary. I see evidences that the climate in Washington is such the boys are afraid of their own shadows. The Democratic level in Washington is one-quarter Stevenson, one-quarter Dixiecrat and one-half scared."

Roosevelt currently is involved in a sensational separate maintenance suit with his wife, Romelle. She has accused him of infidelities with 12 women. Roosevelt has denied the accusations and the case is awaiting trial. He said one of the reasons he is continuing in the race for nomination in the 26th Congressional District at the June 8 primary is to "vindicate" his name.

Rep. Condon of Walnut Creek, in northern California, is seeking re-election in the 6th Congressional District. He was barred by the Atomic Energy Commission from a Nevada test last May 7. Mitchell said the AEC has not lifted this ban and that a Senate-House Committee, before which Condon had a hearing, has made no decision in the matter. Condon, under oath, has denied that he is a Communist. He called the ban "stale political charges."

Senator Would Strip Reds Of Citizenship

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) announced today he is drafting legislation to strip citizenships from members of the Communist party or those who give "allegiance to communism."

Ferguson who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said his proposal would be an expansion of a "decitizenship" measure suggested to Congress by President Eisenhower.

Halleck Supports Wiretapping Bill

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Republican House Leader Halleck of Indiana said today FBI files are "replete" with evidence of treason which cannot be used in the courts because of existing wiretapping laws.

Passage of a bill to legalize use of wiretapped information in the criminal prosecution of spies and saboteurs would be "the strongest blow yet struck by the Republican administration against those who plot daily to destroy us," Halleck said in a statement.

A vote on the measure, proposed by Atty. Gen. Brownell, is scheduled tomorrow.

Halleck said "It is high time to cease being silly about invasions of privacy and civil rights in regard to evidence when treason is involved—treason dedicated to the destruction of all civil rights, all privacy."

The statement was the opening gun of an expected House fight over terms of the bill that would authorize the attorney general to tap wires in national security cases, and to legalize the information thus obtained as evidence in the courts.

The law does not now admit information obtained from intercepted communications as evidence before the federal courts.

Adlai Says Reckless Use Of Authority May Damage Government

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson says that while reckless use of government authority may harm private reputations, it can do even greater damage to the reputation of the government itself.

It is always a lamentable thing when the good name of an individual is unfairly taken from him by anyone," Stevenson says, "but when the filching is done by government or with its connivance, government does immeasurable harm to itself, and the effects on the world we live in are more calamitous than we presently perceive."

Stevenson sets forth his views on "the reputation of the government" in an article in the April issue of Harper's magazine. The 1952 Democratic nominee for president confines himself to a general discussion of the topic and names no one as being reckless with government authority.

Meat In Box Lures Lion From Moat

PHILADELPHIA, April 6 (AP)—The lion in the moat at the Philadelphia zoo was lured out today with good red meat in a big strong box as the bait.

Thus ended the 48-hour adventure of Pharoah, bumped into the moat's eight feet of water last Sunday, presumably by another and jealous—lion.

After draining the moat the zoo staff set to work to get Pharaoh back where he belonged.

Over the moat's steep slope attendants placed a bridging, a steel wire mesh net with heavy strips of wood crosswise, so that the lion might gain solid foothold.

Pharaoh lumbered his 400 pounds up to the net yesterday, looked it over sulkily, turned and padded away.

Today the men lowered the box, fitted with a pull-up door at one end and bound round with a thick chain ready for lifting if Pharaoh should be taken. Inside chunks of fresh meat had been placed.

For hours the lion ignored the whole business. Indifferent to the smell of the meat, he settled on a pile of straw that had been thrown to him Sunday night. Just as the zoo people were resigning themselves to a wait of perhaps several more days, until hunger pangs drove Pharaoh up the net or into the box, the lion surrendered to the lure.

Construction Outlays Hit Record 71 Billions

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The Commerce Department said today spending for new construction rose to a record 7¼ billion dollars during the first three months of this year.

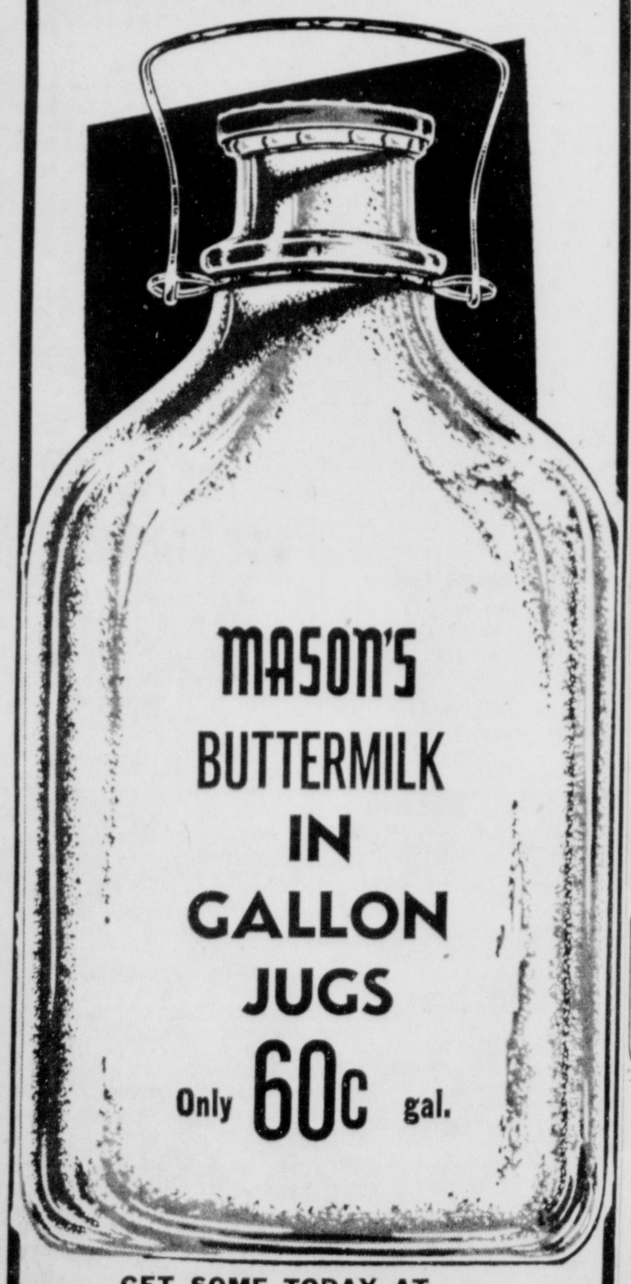

In March, the report said, outlays for new construction took their usual seasonal rise, and totaled about 2½ billion dollars, almost precisely the same as in March 1953.

Most of the increase in March, the report said, was expansion of outlays on private housing, public utility construction, and highway work. Total private spending rose during the month by 8 per cent. New work on residential construction totaled 854 million dollars, 11 per cent more than in February and slightly less than the 863 millions for March, 1953.

Two Virginians Are Acquitted In Kidnap Trial

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP) — Two young Virginians today were acquitted by a Federal Court jury which tried them on charges of abducting a Hagerstown, Md., girl last October after a fight with her date and his buddy.

The verdict set free Daniel D. Walters, 21, and relieved Earl Leon Tomblin, also 21, of the necessity of serving another sentence on top of a six-month term to which he was sentenced for assault in another escapade.

Left in doubtful status was Marion Francis Hough, 21-year-old farmer who pleaded guilty to the charge and in his testimony against Tomblin and Walters said he only served as chauffeur.

All three live in or near Round Hill, Va., not far from the point where Virginia, West Virginia and Maryland come together at Harpers Ferry.

They were indicted under the Lindbergh law on charges they kidnaped 21-year-old Marie Celine Jolliffe last Oct. 17 and drove her from Hagerstown into West Virginia and Virginia after meeting her in a tavern near Martinsburg, W. Va., and getting in a fight with her two companions.

The all-male jury asked an unusual question of the court just before returning its verdict.

They had deliberated almost 2½ hours when they asked permission to return to the jury box. Could they convict Tomblin and Walters without accepting the charge in the indictment that the abduction was for the purpose of sexual relationship with the girl?

The answer was negative and five minutes later the jury was back again with its verdict of acquittal. They started hearing testimony Monday morning and the final arguments were not finished until mid-afternoon today.

M'Keldin Studies Bypass Question

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin reserved judgment today on the protested location of a north-south highway bypass on the outskirts of Frederick.

There were strong indications, however, he would not upset State Roads Commission plans to build it through the northwest section of the city.

"I have plenty of reading to do before making a decision," the governor commented after a meeting with commission members and spokesmen for unhappy Frederick citizens living in the area.

The reading consisted of charts, aerial photos, transcripts and petitions bearing the names of 458 residents suggesting the bypass be constructed elsewhere.

John R. Fitzpatrick, a lawyer; Earl Hargett, builder of the Biggs Avenue area; Mrs. Madeline Warnock and G. A. Deshazer, who live on Biggs Avenue, told the governor a route on the other side of town would be more economical.

In the northeast it also would be easy to construct and do less property damage, they said.

General Charges Head Of Martin Co. Stole Wife's Love

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Milton Wylie Arnold, a retired Air Force brigadier general, today filed a million dollar suit against George M. Bunker, president of the Glenn L. Martin Aircraft Co.

Arnold, now vice president of the Air Transport Assn., alleged Bunker alienated the affections of his wife Sally and their seven-year-old adopted son.

The petition, filed in U. S. District Court here, said she obtained a divorce from Arnold in Coral Gables, Fla., Feb. 17 and four days later married Bunker.

Prince Georges County Battles Big Brush Fire

OXON HILL, Md., April 6 (AP)—A four-alarm brush fire raged out of control in Prince Georges County tonight, burning utility poles and wires despite efforts by 13 fire companies.

No injuries were reported and no homes in the area were immediately threatened.

The blaze roared unchecked across approximately 25 acres of hilly, pine-studded country in the 6500 block of Livingston Road.

Early reports said telephone and light service had been interrupted.

National Democratic Leaders Asked To Keep Noses Out Of Calif. Politics

LOS ANGELES, April 6 (AP)—National Democratic leaders today were asked to keep their noses out of California politics — and let James Roosevelt and Rep. Robert L. Condon run their own congressional races.

In response in a statement by National Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell that the national party will not support Roosevelt or Condon, State Democratic Chairman George Miller Jr. declared:

"Mitchell would do well to keep his nose out of California politics. We're not much interested in what he approves of. The Democrats in Roosevelt's and Condon's districts asked them to run and it's up to the voters to decide at the primary. I see evidences that the climate in Washington is such the boys are afraid of their own shadows. The Democratic level in Washington is one-quarter Stevenson, one-quarter Dixiecrat and one-half scared."

Roosevelt currently is involved in a sensational separate maintenance suit with his wife, Romelle. She has accused him of infidelities with 12 women. Roosevelt has denied the accusations and the case is awaiting trial. He said one of the reasons he is continuing in the race for nomination in the 26th Congressional District at the June 8 primary is to "vindicate" his name.

Rep. Condon of Walnut Creek, in northern California, is seeking re-election in the 6th Congressional District. He was barred by the Atomic Energy Commission from a Nevada test last May 7. Mitchell said the AEC has not lifted this ban and that a Senate-House Committee, before which Condon had a hearing, has made no decision in the matter. Condon, under oath, has denied that he is a Communist. He called the ban "stale political charges."

Senator Would Strip Reds Of Citizenship

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) announced today he is drafting legislation to strip citizenships from members of the Communist party or those who give "allegiance to communism."

Ferguson who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said his proposal would be an expansion of a "decitizenship" measure suggested to Congress by President Eisenhower.

Halleck Supports Wiretapping Bill

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Republican House Leader Halleck of Indiana said today FBI files are "replete" with evidence of treason which cannot be used in the courts because of existing wiretapping laws.

Passage of a bill to legalize use of wiretapped information in the criminal prosecution of spies and saboteurs would be "the strongest blow yet struck by the Republican administration against those who plot daily to destroy us," Halleck said in a statement.

A vote on the measure, proposed by Atty. Gen. Brownell, is scheduled tomorrow.

Halleck said "It is high time to cease being silly about invasions of privacy and civil rights in regard to evidence when treason is involved—treason dedicated to the destruction of all civil rights, all privacy."

The statement was the opening gun of an expected House fight over terms of the bill that would authorize the attorney general to tap wires in national security cases, and to legalize the information thus obtained as evidence in the courts.

The law does not now admit information obtained from intercepted communications as evidence before the federal courts.

Stalin Pictures Hold Prominent Spots In Moscow

(Editor's Note:— A party of 15 American newspaper men and women, led by James L. Wick of the Roanoke Rapids (N.C.) Herald, started seeing the sights of Moscow Monday. They arrived from Warsaw Sunday night for a 20-day visit to the Soviet Union. Ivan Boxell, publisher of the Danville (Pa.) News, writes in the following dispatch of phases of the sight-seeing.)

By IVAN BOXELL

MOSCOW, April 6 (AP)—If pictures tell a story, some of us in a group of American editors visiting Moscow have deduced that Russia since the death of Stalin has become a nation ruled by a committee rather than an individual.

Large photographs and paintings of Stalin still hold prominent places in hotels, banks, assembly halls and theaters a year after his death.

So far as we have been able to see in a day's sightseeing there has been no replacement of any pictures of Stalin by pictures of Premier Georgi Malenkov.

Indeed, so far, I have not seen any pictures at all of Malenkov displayed.

There has been considerable speculation in the United States during recent months that the nine top men of the Central Committee of the Communist party, of whom Malenkov is one, are directing the destinies of the Soviet Union under group leadership.

We have been told by observers here that this is true and increasingly apparent. Our "picture reading" seems to bear this out.

This is especially interesting since, in Prague en route here, we saw numerous picture combinations of Malenkov and Czech President Antonin Zapotocky.

But in Warsaw we saw practically no pictures of any Russian leaders, but only of Polish leaders.

Our interpreters told us there was no need for pictures of Russian leaders in Poland because the bonds of love between the two countries had become so close.

Our group is being given considerable freedom of movement in Moscow, considerably more than a group of American editors who visited here a year ago.

We have been given almost complete freedom in using our cameras and we will be allowed to take our film home for developing.

We have also been promised permission to visit cities in the interior of the Soviet Union and part of our group has already made tentative plans to visit Kiev and other points in the south and east later this week.

I have been favorably impressed by the friendly attitude on the part of the Russians in hotels, banks, custom clearance and elsewhere. Frankly, I had not expected the smiles and generally friendly reception and I frankly must add there has been more friendliness here so far than in some of the 12 Western European capitals we have visited since mid-February.

There has been no conspicuous difference in the sightseeing in Moscow from that in other countires. Elsewhere cathedrals have been at the top of the list, but here we have not had a single church pointed out to us except for famed St. Basil's Cathedral in Red Square which is now a museum.

What Chance Do YOU Have Of Surviving Atom Attack?

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP) — What's your chance of being killed in an atomic attack?

Obviously, it's a lot bigger than a year ago, before Russia learned how to set off a hydrogen explosion, and bigger than five years ago, before she produced her first atomic detonation.

Not even the best geopoliticians and strategists can calculate the prospect that Russia would make an atomic attack. But if she does, here are some factors you can consider in figuring your chances:

1. The prospects that the Soviet Union could maintain an atomic war, once launched, are substantially less than they were two or three years ago. Expanding air power has given this country the ability to strike back swiftly at Russian airdromes and factories. The more enemy installations taken out by retaliatory air strikes, the fewer will be the bombers that can take off for American targets.

2. A network of early warning radar stations is growing, and while it is not now and never will be airtight, the chances of detecting and tracking approaching enemy aircraft are improving. Interceptor forces are expanding with a constant flow of jet fighters from the production lines.

3. Some enemy planes will get through, and each one carrying an A-Bomb or H-bomb can do great damage. But then they run into the close-in defenses, including conventional and "skysweepers" antiaircraft guns and guided missiles such as the "Nike."

4. Against the threat of planes that actually get through with their bombs, there is "passivdefense"—shelter from explosion and heat and radiation, and evacuation of cities after warning.

Doctors Advised Not To 'Casually' Prescribe Diets

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—A nationally-known heart specialist suggested today that doctors try certain "potentially upsetting" diets on themselves before prescribing them for patients.

Dr. Irvine H. Page of Cleveland, president-elect of the American Heart Assn., also cautioned doctors against "casually" prescribing diets of any kind especially those that are very restrictive in certain elements, such as diets low in salt.

"I think a lot of doctors say casually to a patient he should take this or that diet without realizing what a big job going on a diet sometimes is," declared Dr. Page, adding, however, that "many doctors" already realize this.

"In the case of a very restrictive diet, such as a strict low sodium diet, the procedure can upset the home because it means separate cooking and various kinds of readjustment as well as a great deal of expense."

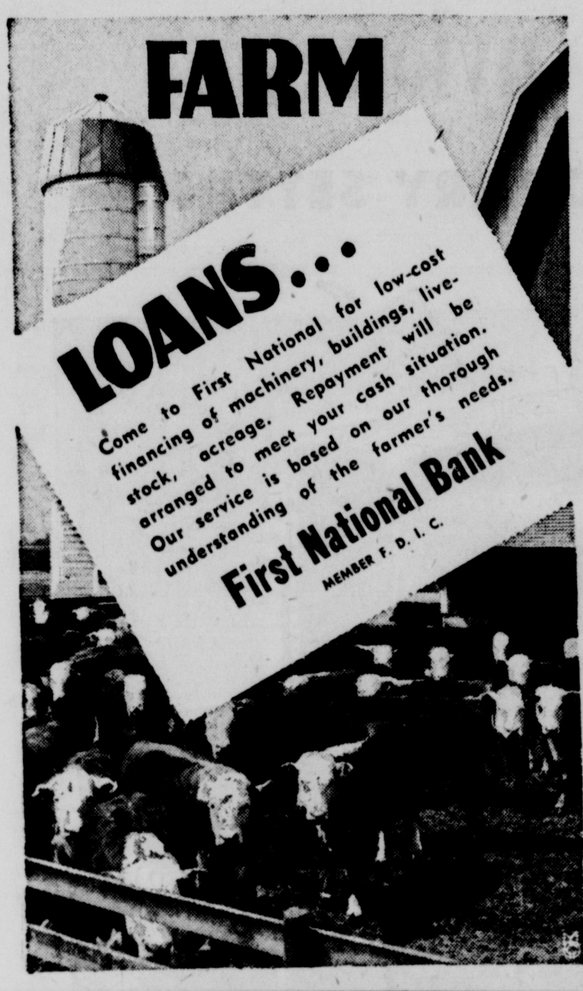

Aside from such "inconveniences," he said, certain "very restrictive" diets are "potentially upsetting" from an emotional and physiological standpoint unless carefully handled, and he added:

"It would be useful for doctors contemplating prescribing such a diet to try it on themselves for two or three weeks.

He made the remarks when asked to amplify on a statement he had made in an address to the American Heart Assn. at its annual clinical meeting.

Describing a year-long dietary "experiment" on himself in which he sharply reduced the fat content of his diet too close to a level he now considers "dangerous," Page said that he suffered gastro-intestinal upsets, as well as "depression and irritability."

The main theme of his talk to the doctors was a plea for more research and more support of research into the cause and treatment of atherosclerosis, the most serious form of "hardening of the arteries" and the type that can lead to heart attacks and "strokes."

Poles Continue Church Interests Without Undue Interference, U.S. Publisher Finds

Editor's Note—Ivan Boxell, president and publisher of the Danville (Pa.) News, is one of a group of small city American newspaper editors and publishers who are visiting Russia and its satellites. In the following story he gives some of his impressions on Poland.

By IVAN BOXELL

WARSAW, Poland, April 6 (AP) — Churches in Warsaw were filled Sunday morning. We stopped briefly at two or three and satisfied ourselves that the Poles are continuing their active religious interests without undue interference.

Indeed I have the distinct impression from discussion here that the Polish people, 95 per cent Catholic, are attending church regularly in greater numbers than ever before. I also learned from sources I would consider completely authentic that the financial contributions for the maintenance of these religious institutions are more liberal than ever before.

As one of the group of American newspaper people currently traveling through Czechoslovakia, Poland and on to Russia, this matter of possible interruption of the religious life of these intensely Catholic peoples in this Communist satellite nation was of deep interest.

A real eyeopener on the current participation in religious life here was my sudden and unscheduled visit to a small Catholic church near the center of the city Saturday. I was passing the edifice and, noticing a man entering, I followed him on a sudden whim.

This was at 5:45 p.m. on Saturday, so you can realize my astonishment when I found an almost completely filled church. Four priests were sitting at confession booths and there were lineups at each.

I was told I could find the same situation almost any day of the week.

WARSAW, April 6 (AP) — Russia and her satellites are playing for keeps if their gifts to one another are any criterion.

In the past three days we have seen two huge construction projects, one to be the highest monument in the world and the other the biggest public hall and cultural center in the world.

The Stalin monument in Prague in which the figure of the deceased Russian leader alone will be over 100 feet high is being financed and built by the Czechoslovakians as a "manifestation of their" love for him.

The Palace of Science and Culture, an unbelievably huge edifice being erected in the center of Warsaw amidst many smaller new postwar buildings, is being financed and constructed by the Russian government as a gift to the people of Poland.

Each in its own way will be an architectural wonder and each will be presumed to be a gigantic exemplification of the bonds of fellowship between these countries.

The palace, which with its grounds must cover about an 8-square-block area, will be a huge pentagon type of thing 750 feet wide, 525 feet deep and with a 45-story edifice rising in its center. The assembly halls, theaters, dining rooms and other such facilities alone will seat more than 12,000 persons. The auditorium of the Congress Hall, which we were told will be used "particularly for peace congresses and other such gatherings," will seat 4,000 in three levels in a great circular room.

A circular restaurant seating 400, a winter garden for teen-agers, a puppet theater for youngsters, huge swimming pools, several museums and seemingly endless space for innumerable other appendages are included in the project due for completion in late 1955. Most of the construction workers are Russian men and women.

The Russian project managers took our touring group of American newspapermen through the partly completed buildings. They seemed delighted to do so.

They gave us a free right of way except for taking pictures. If international relations could only be conducted on the basis of individuals showing off their handiwork and exchanging friendly wisecracks, things might be a lot different.

Incidentally when we were at the top of the skyscraper we could see all Warsaw and the amount of postwar construction is incredible. One cannot possibly comprehend the extent of the rebuilding of this 90 per cent destroyed city unless seen in its overall pattern.

We did not get too close to the Stalin monument under construction in Prague when we were there the other day. We asked to go to it but got no answer. Situated on the side of a hill, it will dominate Prague when completed. It will be all granite and Stalin's head will be six feet tall.

The base will contain restaurants, museums, and two movie theaters.

We are being shown a great deal of Warsaw. This morning we went though the city's biggest newspaper and commercial printing plant, the Gawlik Halina.

It is a modern, excellently equipped, impressive shop indeed. Its impression upon us was heightened by two incidental notes. One was the presence of a 21-year-old girl foreman in a press room. The other was the presence of a slightly older Polish woman security guard, fully uniformed and carrying a rifle. To see her wandering down between the rows of linotype machines was a trifle disconcerting.

Comptroller Tawes Backed For Reelection By Mahoney

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Millard Tawes was endorsed today for reelection as comptroller by George P. Mahoney, and H. C. Byrd said all that meant is "he will get a free ride through the primary."

Mahoney and Byrd are the two candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor, and Tawes has remained publicly aloof from both.

Mahoney's headquarters late today issued a statement announcing Tawes' "association as a candidate on our ticket" and "we welcome Comptroller Tawes as a running mate."

Under questioning, a Mahoney spokesman admitted the announcement might come "as a surprise to Tawes."

Tawes was on his way from Baltimore to rather remote Smith Island at the time of the announcement and could not be reached for comment.

The Mahoney announcement caused no outward concern at Byrd headquarters.

"Millard Tawes and I more than a year ago reached certain definite conclusions as to our positions relative to the elections this spring and fall," Byrd stated.

"I see no reason for any change in my attitude or his and am glad that he will get a free ride through the primary. He has had and continues to have my support."

Byrd and Tawes both are natives of Somerset County and lifelong friends. At one time last year, Tawes also was considered a prospective candidate for governor which would have pitted him against Byrd. Byrd then announced he and Tawes had an "agreement" to which he referred again today but which has never been detailed publicly.

When Tawes announced he would seek reelection as comptroller he made no mention of the governor's primary race and hasn't since.

It is likely that besides having no opposition in the primary he will be the only candidate in the general election as he was the last time he ran.

Sheriff's Office Probe Report Will Go To Grand Jury

HAGERSTOWN, April 6 (AP) — State's Attorney John S. Hollyday said today the report on an investigation of the Washington County sheriff's office will be presented to the May grand jury.

The Board of County Commissioners ordered the investigation two months ago after it was disclosed that Deputy Sheriff Michael Farrie went on a trip to Florida, charging about $36 in gasoline to the county.

The trip was described as a "honeymoon trip." Farrie said the county owed him some money on tires he bought for county vehicles and the $36 was charged off against that.

Hollyday said today he had in hand the complete investigation report from the American Bureau of Investigation in Washington, a private detective organization.

He said he was holding the report for the grand jury.

Farrie today filed for nomination as sheriff. He said he had "no apologies for my conduct as a deputy sheriff during the past three years."

Erased Entries In Piracci Books Bared At Trial

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP) — Contractor Dominic Piracci "very foolishly" tried to erase the names of Mayor D'Alesandro and his wife and City Comptroller J. Neil McCardell from his bookkeeping records, it was disclosed in court today.

Piracci, found guilty last week of conspiracy to defraud the city in connection with the construction of parking garages, went on trial today on another charge, conspiracy to obstruct justice.

In an opening statement, the contractor's lawyer, G. C. A. Anderson, mentioned the erasures.

He said Piracci "very foolishly" sought to get the names of the D'Alesandros and McCardell off of records the grand jury had called for in its investigation of the Rivoli Theater parking garage site.

Anderson said the act was not an obstruction of justice because at the time the grand jury was looking into the single garage site only and was not interested in the mayor and his wife, Nancy, or in McCardell.

The jury of nine men and three women were told the story of the erased entries "never before has been told publicly to anybody."

Assistant State's Attorney Theodore C. Waters Jr. said "a completely phony" cash disbursements book of the Piracci Construction Co. had been especially prepared for the grand jury.

Waters charged there were 63 instances of chemical erasures in one book, 8 instances of abrasive erasures on a second document and 23 abrasive erasures on a third.

He said the Police Department criminal laboratory was able to restore some of the erasures.

"One of the erasures dating in 1948 dealt with the names of Thomas D'Alesandro Jr.," the prosecutor said.

A single orchid seed pod can contain a million seeds.

Grammer Will Learn Date Of Execution On April 20

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Convicted murderer George Edward Grammer learns April 20 the date set for his execution.

A plea for executive clemency could delay his execution. Granting of such a plea would mean the 37-year-old Grammer would get life in prison instead of death on the gallows for the murder of his 33-year-old wife.

The Baltimore Supreme Bench, the Maryland Court of Appeals and the U. S. Supreme Court all failed to save him. His only hope is Gov. McKeldin, who said today he would hold a hearing on a request for executive clemency, if such a plea is made.

Grammer, former New York office manager, comes before Judge Herman M. Moser to hear the week of his execution set.

The Supreme Court yesterday turned down his appeal for a review, putting to an end months of legal moves since he was convicted of the August, 1952 killing of his wife, Dorothy May Grammer.

The state contended Grammer bludgeoned her to death because he loved another woman, then sent her body down a hill in a car in an effort to make it appear an auto accident took her life.

Judge Moser announced the April 20 date today after conferring with the state and with the defense counsel, Joseph Sherbow.

McKeldin said today regarding any plea for commutation of the sentence to life in prison that he has a "completely open mind" on the case. He promised "prompt and earnest consideration" to any commutation plea.

Water Service Extension Banned By Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — Annapolis has placed a temporary ban on extension of water service outside the city limits.

A City Council committee decided to hold up action pending an engineering survey of potential demand and supply. Many suburban property owners have been asking for city water. Privately driven wells are the only other source.

Mayor Arthur G. Ellington said the municipal filtration plant could handle four million gallons daily. Peak demands in the summer run about 3,300,000 gallons.

Friday Is Arbor Day

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin wants everyone to plant a tree this Friday.

He urged "those who can" to do so in proclaiming April 9 as Arbor Day in Maryland. Folks who don't have ground of their own could "assist or encourage" others, he said.

Before 1933, a dime was legal as payment in amounts of $10 or less. In that year, Congress made it legal tender in any amount.

Comptroller Tawes Backed For Reelection By Mahoney

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Millard Tawes was endorsed today for reelection as comptroller by George P. Mahoney, and H. C. Byrd said all that meant is "he will get a free ride through the primary."

Mahoney and Byrd are the two candidates for the Democratic nomination for governor, and Tawes has remained publicly aloof from both.

Mahoney's headquarters late today issued a statement announcing Tawes' "association as a candidate on our ticket" and "we welcome Comptroller Tawes as a running mate."

Under questioning, a Mahoney spokesman admitted the announcement might come "as a surprise to Tawes."

Tawes was on his way from Baltimore to rather remote Smith Island at the time of the announcement and could not be reached for comment.

The Mahoney announcement caused no outward concern at Byrd headquarters.

"Millard Tawes and I more than a year ago reached certain definite conclusions as to our positions relative to the elections this spring and fall," Byrd stated.

"I see no reason for any change in my attitude or his and am glad that he will get a free ride through the primary. He has had and continues to have my support."

Byrd and Tawes both are natives of Somerset County and lifelong friends. At one time last year, Tawes also was considered a prospective candidate for governor which would have pitted him against Byrd. Byrd then announced he and Tawes had an "agreement" to which he referred again today but which has never been detailed publicly.

When Tawes announced he would seek reelection as comptroller he made no mention of the governor's primary race and hasn't since.

It is likely that besides having no opposition in the primary he will be the only candidate in the general election as he was the last time he ran.

Sheriff's Office Probe Report Will Go To Grand Jury

HAGERSTOWN, April 6 (AP) — State's Attorney John S. Hollyday said today the report on an investigation of the Washington County sheriff's office will be presented to the May grand jury.

The Board of County Commissioners ordered the investigation two months ago after it was disclosed that Deputy Sheriff Michael Farrie went on a trip to Florida, charging about $36 in gasoline to the county.

The trip was described as a "honeymoon trip." Farrie said the county owed him some money on tires he bought for county vehicles and the $36 was charged off against that.

Hollyday said today he had in hand the complete investigation report from the American Bureau of Investigation in Washington, a private detective organization.

He said he was holding the report for the grand jury.

Farrie today filed for nomination as sheriff. He said he had "no apologies for my conduct as a deputy sheriff during the past three years."

Erased Entries In Piracci Books Bared At Trial

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP) — Contractor Dominic Piracci "very foolishly" tried to erase the names of Mayor D'Alesandro and his wife and City Comptroller J. Neil McCardell from his bookkeeping records, it was disclosed in court today.

Piracci, found guilty last week of conspiracy to defraud the city in connection with the construction of parking garages, went on trial today on another charge, conspiracy to obstruct justice.

In an opening statement, the contractor's lawyer, G. C. A. Anderson, mentioned the erasures.

He said Piracci "very foolishly" sought to get the names of the D'Alesandros and McCardell off of records the grand jury had called for in its investigation of the Rivoli Theater parking garage site.

Anderson said the act was not an obstruction of justice because at the time the grand jury was looking into the single garage site only and was not interested in the mayor and his wife, Nancy, or in McCardell.

The jury of nine men and three women were told the story of the erased entries "never before has been told publicly to anybody."

Assistant State's Attorney Theodore C. Waters Jr. said "a completely phony" cash disbursements book of the Piracci Construction Co. had been especially prepared for the grand jury.

Waters charged there were 63 instances of chemical erasures in one book, 8 instances of abrasive erasures on a second document and 23 abrasive erasures on a third.

He said the Police Department criminal laboratory was able to restore some of the erasures.

"One of the erasures dating in 1948 dealt with the names of Thomas D'Alesandro Jr.," the prosecutor said.

A single orchid seed pod can contain a million seeds.

Grammer Will Learn Date Of Execution On April 20

BALTIMORE, April 6 (AP)—Convicted murderer George Edward Grammer learns April 20 the date set for his execution.

A plea for executive clemency could delay his execution. Granting of such a plea would mean the 37-year-old Grammer would get life in prison instead of death on the gallows for the murder of his 33-year-old wife.

The Baltimore Supreme Bench, the Maryland Court of Appeals and the U. S. Supreme Court all failed to save him. His only hope is Gov. McKeldin, who said today he would hold a hearing on a request for executive clemency, if such a plea is made.

Grammer, former New York office manager, comes before Judge Herman M. Moser to hear the week of his execution set.

The Supreme Court yesterday turned down his appeal for a review, putting to an end months of legal moves since he was convicted of the August, 1952 killing of his wife, Dorothy May Grammer.

The state contended Grammer bludgeoned her to death because he loved another woman, then sent her body down a hill in a car in an effort to make it appear an auto accident took her life.

Judge Moser announced the April 20 date today after conferring with the state and with the defense counsel, Joseph Sherbow.

McKeldin said today regarding any plea for commutation of the sentence to life in prison that he has a "completely open mind" on the case. He promised "prompt and earnest consideration" to any commutation plea.

Water Service Extension Banned By Annapolis

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — Annapolis has placed a temporary ban on extension of water service outside the city limits.

A City Council committee decided to hold up action pending an engineering survey of potential demand and supply. Many suburban property owners have been asking for city water. Privately driven wells are the only other source.

Mayor Arthur G. Ellington said the municipal filtration plant could handle four million gallons daily. Peak demands in the summer run about 3,300,000 gallons.

Friday Is Arbor Day

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — Gov. McKeldin wants everyone to plant a tree this Friday.

He urged "those who can" to do so in proclaiming April 9 as Arbor Day in Maryland. Folks who don't have ground of their own could "assist or encourage" others, he said.

Before 1933, a dime was legal as payment in amounts of $10 or less. In that year, Congress made it legal tender in any amount.

Sears Blames 'Misunderstanding' For His Troubles As He Resigns McCarthy Probe

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Boston lawyer Samuel P. Sears said today "a grievous misunderstanding" loomed large in events which led to his resignation as special counsel in the McCarthy-Army row.

Sears made the statement at a news conference in his hotel suite here, hours after he had quit the job in the midst of an unproar which had snowballed into major proportions since he accepted it six days ago.

In shirt sleeves, his bright green bow tie pulled partially loose for comfort, he chatted briefly with about a dozen reporters, puffing reflectively on his unlighted pipe. His luncheon dishes were still on a table as he gave the interview.

Sears said the "grievous misunderstanding" had its roots in his news conference statement the day he took the job that "not publicly and not privately" had he ever taken a stand on the subject of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), a figure in the inquiry in which Sears was to have served as the impartial counsel.

Sears told reporters today he had intended "absolutely" in that answer to indicate only that he had no preconceived notion about McCarthy's current row with high Army officials, the one at issue in the investigation.

He said he now recognizes his words were subject to misinterpretation in light of statements he actually had made in praise of McCarthy on other matters in the past. "I think a listening audience would be very justified in that view," he said.

"I would be absolutely naive to think I was not on record on things I was on record with," he said.

Firmly Sears declined to comment on what ground had been explored in talks with senators which led up to his original appointment to the job.

"That's all water over the dam now," he said.

A reporter asked Sears whether he had requested his son-in-law, David Busby of Ada, Okla., to obtain the endorsement he got for the jobs from Sen. Monroney (D-Okla).

"There's a very sensible and respectable story connected with it," Sears said. "But it was not a search for the job." He declined to elaborate.

Asked whether he had sought the endorsements Sen. Saltonstall and Rep. Curtis (R-Mass) had given him, Sears said:

"I can tell you one thing—I never did seek the job."

A reporter asked Sears whether, after his experience with the subcommittee he might hesitate about accepting any possible further assignment with the government here.

Good humoredly, he replied: "I'd love a Washington assignment."

But his eyes snapped angrily when he mentioned reports from Boston quoting James M. Walsh, another attorney, as announcing yesterday that McCarthy's wife had suggested Sears as the man to speak in favor of the senator in a March 11 debate which never was held.

"That irks me beyond words," he said, and told reporters:

"Mr. Walsh, I'm afraid, is an aggrieved person who took off because he didn't get a job."

School Board May Buy Federal Land

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The House passed a bill today to permit the Prince Georges County, Md. Board of Education to buy for school purposes about 22 acres of the St. Elizabeth's Hospital tract.

The bill now goes to the Senate. A committee report said the 22 acres, although still used as part of the hospital farm, is separated from the main tract of some 376 acres by the Indian Head road.

The land would be sold to the board at a fair market price as a site for a junior high school in the federally affected area of forest Heights.

The report said that of the present school population of 42,000 in Prince Georges County, about 12,500 are children of parents who are government workers.

Great Soviet Encyclopedia "Insults" West Virginia

MOSCOW, April 6 (AP)—The people of West Virginia aren't going to like what the Great Soviet Encyclopedia has to say about their state—especially that line that "There is not a single university in this state."

But the boys and girls at West Virginia University can take heart in the Encyclopedia's report that the "progressive forces in West Virginia are intensifying their struggle against the reactionary domestic and aggressive foreign policies of the United States ruling circles."

West Virginia rates a half page in volume 8 of the encyclopedia, against three quarters of a page given to Virginia. Most of the report is devoted to the strikes and clashes that have marked the development of the labor unions in West Virginia, and to the "exploitation of the proletariat."

"The mining industry is highly developed in West Virginia," says the encyclopedia, "but the conditions and work of the miners are hard and they are low paid. Especially exploited are the Negro workers.

"Yet the miners of West Virginia wrote several glorious pages in the class struggle of the United States proletariat . . . .

"'Agriculture in West Virginia is backward and declining, especially in the southern counties. In 1945 there were 98,000 farmers, of which 33,600 made a miserable income of less than 400 dollars per year . . . Predatory exploitation has ruined the best forests. . .

Congressman Proud Of Family Link To Bandits

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Many a congressman can point to a distinguished ancestry, and today it turns out that can include bandits as well as heroes.

Sen. Green (D-RI), for example, is a great-great-grandson of Jonathan Arnold, a delegate to the Continental Congress and a surgeon in the Revolutionary War. Rep. Kean (R-NJ) is the great-great-grandson of John Kean, another member of the Continental Congress and also a revolutionary soldier.

And Rep. Younger (R-Calif) is a relative of the Younger boys who rode with the bank bandit, train robber and celebrated scofflaw, Jesse James.

"My great-great-grandfather was a brother of their father," Younger said. "I've never been ashamed of it."

The careers of the three Younger boys—Cole, Bob and Jim—came to an abrupt end in Northfield, Minn. One was injured in a bank holdup, and the others loyally remained to give first aid. All three wound up in the penitentiary.

"They were the products of their times," Younger said. "They grew up in that fierce warfare along the Missouri border during the Civil War. Their father was killed. Their mother and sister were taken from their home and forced to walk through the snow.

"But in their own way, they were very good citizens. One became a prison librarian, and another an assistant chaplain."

Younger thinks his relatives were well streaked with the traits that made another bandit, Robin Hood, famous before them.

And he told a story you may have heard, of how they once robbed a train, and busily stuffed the wallets and watches in a gunnysack. "I don't know why," Younger said, 'but they alwaays used a gunnysack."

During their getaway, they stopped to eat at the home of a widow who was sobbing because the mortgage man was a-coming to collect $1,500 or take her farm.

"The boys listened to her story," Younger said, "and then wrote out a receipt and told her to make sure the man signed it. They gave her the $1,500 and left.

"Of course, they hid out along the trail, and when he was coming back, they jumped him and robbed him of the $1,500."

It remains the classic story of how to be big-hearted and economical.

Sears Blames 'Misunderstanding' For His Troubles As He Resigns McCarthy Probe

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—Boston lawyer Samuel P. Sears said today "a grievous misunderstanding" loomed large in events which led to his resignation as special counsel in the McCarthy-Army row.

Sears made the statement at a news conference in his hotel suite here, hours after he had quit the job in the midst of an unproar which had snowballed into major proportions since he accepted it six days ago.

In shirt sleeves, his bright green bow tie pulled partially loose for comfort, he chatted briefly with about a dozen reporters, puffing reflectively on his unlighted pipe. His luncheon dishes were still on a table as he gave the interview.

Sears said the "grievous misunderstanding" had its roots in his news conference statement the day he took the job that "not publicly and not privately" had he ever taken a stand on the subject of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), a figure in the inquiry in which Sears was to have served as the impartial counsel.

Sears told reporters today he had intended "absolutely" in that answer to indicate only that he had no preconceived notion about McCarthy's current row with high Army officials, the one at issue in the investigation.

He said he now recognizes his words were subject to misinterpretation in light of statements he actually had made in praise of McCarthy on other matters in the past. "I think a listening audience would be very justified in that view," he said.

"I would be absolutely naive to think I was not on record on things I was on record with," he said.

Firmly Sears declined to comment on what ground had been explored in talks with senators which led up to his original appointment to the job.

"That's all water over the dam now," he said.

A reporter asked Sears whether he had requested his son-in-law, David Busby of Ada, Okla., to obtain the endorsement he got for the jobs from Sen. Monroney (D-Okla).

"There's a very sensible and respectable story connected with it," Sears said. "But it was not a search for the job." He declined to elaborate.

Asked whether he had sought the endorsements Sen. Saltonstall and Rep. Curtis (R-Mass) had given him, Sears said:

"I can tell you one thing—I never did seek the job."

A reporter asked Sears whether, after his experience with the subcommittee he might hesitate about accepting any possible further assignment with the government here.

Good humoredly, he replied: "I'd love a Washington assignment."

But his eyes snapped angrily when he mentioned reports from Boston quoting James M. Walsh, another attorney, as announcing yesterday that McCarthy's wife had suggested Sears as the man to speak in favor of the senator in a March 11 debate which never was held.

"That irks me beyond words," he said, and told reporters:

"Mr. Walsh, I'm afraid, is an aggrieved person who took off because he didn't get a job."

School Board May Buy Federal Land

WASHINGTON, April 6 (AP)—The House passed a bill today to permit the Prince Georges County, Md. Board of Education to buy for school purposes about 22 acres of the St. Elizabeth's Hospital tract.

The bill now goes to the Senate. A committee report said the 22 acres, although still used as part of the hospital farm, is separated from the main tract of some 376 acres by the Indian Head road.

The land would be sold to the board at a fair market price as a site for a junior high school in the federally affected area of forest Heights.

The report said that of the present school population of 42,000 in Prince Georges County, about 12,500 are children of parents who are government workers.

Three Accident Victims Improve

Three persons critically hurt in accidents Sunday were reported "improved" yesterday by Memorial Hospital attaches.

John W. "Jack" Kreitzburg, 30, of 412 Maryland Avenue, suffered extensive injuries in a plane crash at Mexico Farms. The pilot, Percy L. Ruby, 32, of 106 Park Street, was killed.

Injured in an auto crash in nearby West Virginia were James Arthur Meyers, 16, the driver, and Richard Brooks, 17, RD 1, Ridgeley. They had been listed as "critical."

Another youth, Raymond Spencer, 19, also of Ridgeley, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital after the mishap. His condition is "good."

Opening Of City Recreation Season Is Set For June 21

Cumberland's Recreation Department has moved into its busy season—preparing for the heavy spring and summer programs.

For the past several weeks, Director Robert E. Pence, Secretary Helen C. Gilmore and Maintenance Chief Glenwood (Tag) Reel have been inventorying, getting equipment in repair and setting up various activities.

The city's 16 playgrounds will open June 21, one week after leaders undergo a training program. Constitution Park pool will open on Memorial Day, May 30, while the Pine Avenue pool opening for colored folks is still under advisement.

Job Application Monday

Pence said applications for recreation assistants during the spring and summer will be available Monday. He said about 25 playground leaders, 12 pool workers, 6 to 8 ball field leaders and about a dozen umpires to work evening ball games at $1 a contest will be needed.

The playground leaders are usually chosen from among applicants with the most experience and training. Their pay ranges from $20 to $40 a week depending upon experience.

Pool employes include lifeguards, checkers and cashiers.

Already the picnic season has arrived and the Recreation Department is keeping its picnic kits in shape for loan to organizations. This is one of its most popular services outside the regular program.

Heavy Ball Schedule

Early next month, the department sponsored ball playing season gets under way with a staggering total of 96 teams playing twice weekly. Not all of these will start their activity next month, however. The various ball fields will be in shape in the next two weeks, Pence added.

Monday, golf instruction classes were started at Fort Cumberland Golf Club. A horseshoe league is being organized as are tennis classes under the spring program.

Reel has playground equipment in good shape for the season's opening, Pence said. Any new equipment purchased is in conjunction with playground associations with the cost split between the association and department. However, this is "between seasons" as far as the department financing is concerned and little is available to help with new purchases.

Naturally, Pence said, the department hopes for a greater number of participants.

"The recreation program is continually evaluated to bring people to recreation who haven't been reached before," Pence said.

Potomac Edison Plans Open House This Week

The Cumberland store of the Potomac Edison Company will hold "open house" Friday and Saturday, according to H. W. Price, local manager.

Gifts will be presented and the latest model electrical appliances will be displayed.

Neville Named Editor Of New York Mirror

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Glenn Neville, a Colorado-born newspaperman, has been named editor of the New York Daily Mirror and Sunday Mirror.

He succeeds the late Jack Lait, who died last Thursday at 71 after serving as editor of the Mirror for 17 years. Neville has been the Mirror's executive editor since 1943. He also has acted as editor for more than a year, during Lait's illness with a circulatory ailment.

bow was involuntary, but his exit was very definite, and the General made his train.

Sometimes I feel people are taking aim at me—zeroing in. The competition is getting tougher. Things I used to do and get away with a few years ago are no longer acceptable. But I don't aim to "dog it," or fold. I'll keep trying until I find something that is acceptable. I have been too long an entertainer to dismiss the challenge.

But say, I am starting to sound pretty noble here, and I have certainly been talking too much about myself.

John, have a good time abroad. I know you will. I could give you a list of French restaurants as long as your arm, but you would just come back with dyspepsia and be meaner than ever. One place I must put in a plug for, "La Cigoyne," cuisine Alsatian, with great pate de foie gras and cheeses. They serve a drink there called "Framboise"—very lethal—don't take more than one or you'll go right out and bite a gendarme in the leg. And my very best regards of course to Art Buchwald, the Herald Tribune correspondent in Paris. And thanks for the space.

Group Plans Not To Join National Unit

The Association of Friends Aware of Handicapped Children has agreed not to affiliate with the United Cerebral P sy Association at this time.

This was the consensus of those attending the regular session of the group last Friday at Cumberland Savings Bank. The discussion was the major point of business. Literature on the association was distributed to those attending by G. Byron Candle district representative of NCPA.

The discussion was led by Mrs. E. R. Kellough, Mrs. Marcus Naughton, Mrs. Bernard Coulehan, Mrs. Jerome Whitacre and Mrs. Frank Schilling.

A report of the by-laws committee was read by Bernard McGann.

David Hamilton suggested a concentrated program to bring before the public the plight of children for whom no training or educational opportunities are provided.

A social session arranged by Mrs. Naughton and Mrs. McGann followed the meeting at which Mrs. John J. Long, president, presided.

The next meeting wi be held April 23 at Cumberland Savings Bank. Mrs. Opie Annan, executive secretary of the Allegany County League For Crippled Children, will discuss the program available to the cerebral palsied in Allegany County.

Children under five years of age comprise about 11 per cent of the population of the United States.

Thirty-three years is generally considered to be a generation.

200 Parents Attend School Workshop

About 200 parents, representing most of the Allegany County public schools, attended a parent discussion group workshop yesterday at Mt. Savage School.

Dr. Ira Gordon of the Child Study Institute of th University of Maryland, was consultant. Miss Dorothy W. Shires, state supervisor of pupil personnel and parent education, attended both the morning and afternoon sessions. Homer E. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county schools, arranged the workshop.

During the morning session the discussion revolved around "How Children Grow." During the afternoon "Physical Growth" was the main topic.

Magistrate Says

the commissioners, read the letter to the board and as he reached each point raised by the magistrates group he gave an answer for the board.

Following are the points raised by the magistrates and the answer of the county board in parentheses.

"You stated that you had the express authority to pay these expenses, and then you contradicted yourself by quoting Sec. 3 of Article 25 of the Annatotated Code of Maryland," the magistrates wrote. You erroneously stated Code of Public Local Law which contains no such Article 25, which specifically exempts Allegany County from having such authority. In other words you admitted that you do not possess any express authority to act.

(The authority for payment of claims is either by law or by implication, Getty said.

"We note that you only attempted to justify two trips out of a partial list of 14 we mentioned ($336.62 of the $1,370.95 expended), but we ask why was it necessary for six or seven of you to go on those safaris to Ocean City, etc., when one or two could have done just as well or just as badly?"

(No attempt has been made to check each item questioned and to reply in detail thereto nor have the amounts been verified, but the items as listed in your letter have been accepted for the purpose of this reply.

"You admit that you have established a formula for the payment of travel expenses of six cents per mile plus gas and oil. How do you explain the fact that you have paid some county employes as high as 10 cents per mile and further, how can you explain why the county roads supervisor, (you stated he was engineer — is he?) whom you have furnished with a county car with county license tags and county name on doors for official use has been paid a monthly mileage fee? We note from your records that you paid the county roads supervisor on the base of bills submitted by him and also approved by him. Are you paying the county roads supervisor mileage expense on a county-owned car?"

(Absolutely not. Please be advised that not one of the expense items listed in your letter represents a type or class of expense first approved and accepted for payment by the present Board of County Commissioners, but that the travel expenses of commissioners, clerks, assessors, roads supervisor or engineer and attorney have been budget items for a great many years. We did not call the present roads supervisor an engineer, that was a reference to former years when the county did have an engineer who did many of the same duties as the present supervisor. How else could we refer to the former engineers?)

"We again direct your attention to the law case cited in our previous letter relative to the expenses of the supervisor of assessments totaling $4,005.38 for his trips to the State Tax Commission and out of state, in which the Court of Appeals has held that you do not have to reimburse him for."

No Bearing Here

(The case cited, Frederick County vs. Gaver, has no bearing on the situation in Allegany County nor does it now pertain to even Frederick County. The case in question concerned an assessor who had a salary of $1,800 annually and had been paid $2,400. When the county sued for the extra money Gaver allegedly submitted expenses to offset the extra salary paid him, and these expenses had not previously been submitted. It was on this basis that the Court of Appeals ruled and their decision was that the county did not have to pay the expenses, but had authority to do so. Frederick County at present pays current expenses of their assessors, as does every other county in Maryland.)

"In regard to your claim of preserving the financial stability of the county by your trips in a body to Annapolis—don't you believe the credit belongs elsewhere? Didn't you express in writing, at the beginning of the 1953 Legislative session, that you were unalterably opposed to the bill that was passed for which you now claim credit?"

(Our opposition to the mandatory school bill of $6,000,000 was no secret, but this bill was not the one eventually passed by the Legislature. The final bill, under which new schools are being built in the county, was a $3,500,000 school bond bill which was agreed upon at a conference in Annapolis between the County Commissioners, Allegany County Board of Education and the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly).

"We would be remiss if we did not remind you at this time of your total absence from an important meeting in Cumberland last fall sponsored by local citizens and attended by members of the Legislative Council, all other public officials of this county, and interested persons, for the express purpose of discussing problems in Allegany County. Your actions spoke louder than words of your claim of high devotion to public duty."

(Delegate Horace P. Whitworth Jr., had earlier invited the county board to attend a meeting in Luke at the Devon Club at which the Legislative Council would be present. We accepted this invitation but the meeting was cancelled. This meeting had been intended for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the Savage River Dam and a roadway in that area and the board thought it was of sufficient importance to attend. We did not attend the dinner meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club the next day, due to the cancellation of the Luke meeting).

"In conclusion, we desire to state that the responsibility for this extravagant and over-generous spending of public funds rests squarely on the shoulders of you as commissioners and not upon anyone else, and we trust that the general public will be the final judge as to whether or not you have been too free with the taxpayers money."

(We agree that the public will be the final judge of the controversy.

This Law Applies In Russia Too

Before 1917, when there was no Communist government to test the theory, it was easy for Communists to assert that a communistic economy would be free of the difficulties encountered by capitalistic economies. The law of supply and demand, for instance —which they regarded as simply a description of events peculiar to capitalism—would vanish under communism, the Reds said.

It didn't, although orthodox Communists continue to maintain in the face of the facts that Russia can ignore this bourgeois economic law entirely. But people who look at realities instead of theories can see that while the law is on occasion set aside in the United States, to the ultimate regret of taxpayers, it is still a factor in Russia.

The ballyhooed price cuts just announced by Russia illustrate this point. Last August Malenkov promised the Russian people that they would soon have a much larger supply of food and consumer goods. This increased supply, he implied, would lower prices, just as if the capitalist law of supply and demand were operating. But last month his deputy, Mikoyan, said the government was going to cut prices even on commodities for which demand was far greater than supply—ignoring the law of supply and demand.

Now that the price cuts have been announced, it is evident that the Kremlin, despite Mikoyan, has been forced to bow to capitalist economic law. Toys and perfume and other scarce items on which production has been stepped up will be cheaper. But meats, vegetables, dairy products, men's clothing and other cost-of-living products in short supply will cost as much as ever.

For the government to increase the demand by lowering prices when it cannot produce enough to meet existing demand would invite more unpopularity than even a police state can face with equanimity.

Meanwhile, in the United States, the law of supply and demand has been a major factor in halting cost-of-living increases. While this law is not quite as inexorable in practice as it is in theory, it cannot be entirely ignored even by collectivist totalitarians.

The Hiss Pension

A number of bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives to prevent Alger Hiss from receiving a pension when he comes out of prison. Should no legislation be passed, Hiss will get his pension.

H.R. 1239, introduced by W. Sterling Cole of New York, is designed to deny benefits, under civil service or other federal retirement systems, to persons convicted of felonies involving improper use of their authority, power, influence or privileges as officers or employes of the United States. This measure is now before the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service.

Similar bills, now before the same committee, are H.R. 3301, introduced by Representative Frank M. Karsten of Missouri, H.R. 6940, introduced by Mrs. Katharine St. George of New York, H.R. 7381, introduced by Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio, H.R. 7476, introduced by T. Millet Hand of New Jersey, and H.R. 8091, introduced by Richard H. Poff of Virginia.

Representative Kit Clardy of Michigan presented bill H.R. 5299, which deals specifically with Alger Hiss. It reads:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That no part of the civil-service retirement and disability fund shall be used to pay an annuity to Alger Hiss. The Civil Service Commission, within 30 days after the date of the enactment of this act, shall return to the said Alger Hiss the total amount to his credit in such fund."

Alger Hiss does not lose his pension rights because he went to prison. This pension is a contractual arrangement between an employer and an employe, often both sides contributing thereto, by which at a stated period the beneficiary will receive a stated amount. Hiss paid his share into the pension fund and that money is his. The share that he paid in can be returned to him under the terms of some of these bills, but it would be interesting to cogitate on how the courts would hold in a matter that involves a breach of contract or an alteration of the terms of a contract by an ex post facto law.

The question would arise as to whether the government, as an employer, may violate a contract, by act of legislation, which a private employer could not violate under any circumstances. As a matter of fact, the private employer is usually forced to set pension funds apart lest he not have them when required to meet his obligations. Surely, Hiss could get his own money back and it is probable that he would sue for the full amount and take his chances in the court.

In some of the legislation, a distinction is made between "retired pay" and "pension." No matter how one words it, if the prospective recipient of the benefit has entered into a contract and has paid into the fund, which is consideration, it raises a tricky question for the lawyers.

The subject is brought up only to show that it is not always so easy to do as one pleases in a political system in which the law and not the whims of man prevail. The simplest rule of life is "off with his head." But it may be your head or mine and we want protectives. Once the rights of man are recognized and protectives against whimsical tyranny are established, the rules that apply to the good apply equally to the wicked, and if the rules are relaxed so that the wicked may be punished, the good are placed in jeopardy. When it is said that this is a government of law, not of men, it means that the law applies to all, to the wicked as well as the good, and, of course, the wicked usually have the advantage.

Under such circumstances, it becomes increasingly difficult to work reprisals on such a man as Alger Hiss by withholding his pension. If he goes into court over such a question and should the court hold that despite his crime of perjury, he is entitled to his pension, he will get the money and he will use it as he chooses. Many lawyers say that the courts will have no alternatives but to hold that his crime of perjury did not impair his contract as to a pension.

Totalitarian Ideas Seen In Pressures Aimed At Ike

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Totalitarian concepts that could be the forerunner of a new form of fascism some day in America have begun to emerge in the pressures being directed at President Eisenhower to change the historic role of the chief executive and assume functions, called "leadership," but which actually envisage a type of dictatorship.

The first public sign of this pressure appeared yesterday in a paid advertisment in a local newspaper which called upon President Eisenhower to ignore one of the basic constitutional rights of the Congress. It said, in part:

"We would like to see you forbid government representatives to appear before McCarthy's subcommittee until he gives ample and unmistakable proof that he will abide by fair and reasonable rules of procedure in the treatment of witnesses."

Would Undermine System

The 51 Americans who signed this statement are well-meaning, loyal, highly respectable persons who probably never gave a moment's thought to the constitutional implications of the petition which they were urged to sign. For, if the President of the United States is to set himself up as the judge of what is "fair" or "reasonable" about a congressional procedure, than the system of government as the people of the United States have known it since 1787 will have been completely undermined.

The American constitutional system provides that Congress is the coordinate branch of the government, equal in power and authority, in its own sphere, with any other branch, and that the right of Congress to decide what shall be its own rules of procedure cannot be taken away by the executive branch of the government.

There is not a single Supreme Court decision which immunizes employes of the executive branch of the government from obeying a subpoena to appear before committees of Congress. The same holds true for subpoenas by the courts. By long-established custom the President himself has been held to be theoretically immune from the subpoena power, but even this could be overturned by a Supreme Court decision in the future, or by a law of Congress.

If a President were to forbid at his pleasure the appearance of the officials of the executive department and agencies before Congress, he could successfully deprive the legislative branch of the government of the pertinent information it needs in formulating laws, especially appropriation bills. Thus, the whole system of checks and balances set up by the founding fathers would collapse.

Never before in the memory of this correspondent has there been a movement started in America urging the President to assume a virtual dictatorship over the conduct of committees of Congress. If he may pass judgment on its own rules of procedure, he could also, by the same precedent, evaluate at his will the qualifications of the members of Congress, or do anything else which hitherto has been strictly the prerogative of Congress. The road would be open to the Hitler or Stalin practice of "purging" the legislature by order of the executive.

But the new totalitarianism in America is not confined entirely to an effort to make Congress the tool of the executive, as was the case with the German Reichstag under Hitler. There is, for instance, a drive to insist on a conformity of thought on the part of persons employed by congressional committees. They must conform to the ideas of pressure groups who evidently seek the support of President Eisenhower in their present drive. The controversy over what Samuel P. Sears said publicly concerning Communists in government, or his expressed beliefs that persons should not abuse the Fifth Amendment, or his political remarks in favor of a Republican candidate for senator in the state of Wisconsin in 1952, makes it apparent that only those who conform to certain precepts would be permitted hereafter to serve their government if the pressure groups have their way.

Not Liberal Views

Since Mr. Sears, three-time president of the Massachusetts Bar Association, is considered ineligible by some of these groups to act as counsel for a congressional committee because of his political views in 1952, or his expressed opposition toward Comunist sympathizers in government, or at Harvard Law School, then Justices William O. Douglas and Robert H. Jackson of the Supreme Court of the United States, who have made speeches off the bench dealing with the touchy subject of civil rights and Communists in government, may have to consider disqualifying themselves hereafter from sitting in any cases involving the anti-Communist controversies of these emotional times.

This is the totalitarian trend of the hour. It is amazing that most of the outcries that would seek to punish a man like Mr. Sears for his past views are coming from the very faction which has been describing itself as "liberal." These concepts of suppression of speech, and the imposition of conformity of thought are, of course, the extreme opposite of true liberalism.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Been keeping score on our international romances. And find the knights in shining amour hang the shiners on their girl friends.

Indicating it's the gals who should be wearing the armor.

Five of our loveliest ladies spend most of the winter looking like one-eyed racoons.

Looked up Emily Post on the subject but couldn't find it in the fine print on the manly art of womanly defense.

Emily does say when a gentleman offers a lady his arm he shouldn't use the La Blanche backswing.

Nor should the wedding chimes be rung on the gong in Madison Square Garden.

In addition to the quintet of elipsed eyes we are morose to tabulate that one gal had her pearly teeth shucked like oysters, another was booted out of a taxicab and a third had her ankle busted on her honeymoon.

So many dames are being slugged on Park Avenue a veteran dowager had shatter-proof glass put in her lorgnette.

In our own Park Row set we never strike a lady. First.

So we suspend these alien Lochinvars 30 days without alimony. All the ladies in the main bouts are rich beyond the clutch of avarice. At the debutantes' brawl this spring the debbies are classified by weights, reach and kayos.

If it's love at first sight be sure you can see out of both eyes.

New Remedies For Motion Sickness Give Much Help

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many new motion sickness remedies were introduced during the last decade and claims are made that the majority will give more than 90 per cent improvement when used properly. Some of these compounds were found to be of value also in ordinary dizziness and in controlling the nausea and vomiting of pregnancy.

At the turn of the century, seasickness was a common topic of conversation because immigration was at its height. Engineers designed ingenious devices to help prevent sea voyagers from developing motion sickness. Bessemer, the pioneer steelmaker, suspended passenger cabins on brackets. Gyroscopic stabilizers were incorporated into the hull to controll the roll of the ship. Others used projecting strips of metal along the length of the ship (bilge keels).

Today's travel problems are different. Automobile, train, and plane compete with lake steamers, ocean liners, and river boats. The manufacturers of modern conveyances have done everything to make riding smooth but they have no control over nature or war. As a result, the problem of motion sickness had to be solved at the passenger level. Most of the advances came during World War II when the success or failure of many ventures depended upon the avoidance of air-or seasickness. What would have happened, for example, if all the servicemen approached the shores of Normandy or Saipan "as sick as a dog?"

Motion sickness stems from a disturbance in the inner ear. To be more specific, motion affects the organ of balance, the bony labyrinth of the inner ear. The nerves in this area are sensitive to rotary motion and when stimulated in an unusual manner, the individual encounters vertigo, nausea, sweating, and vomiting. It has been estimated that nine out of 10 persons will develop one or more of these symptoms in rough traveling. Moderate turbulence affects 10 to 30 per cent; and three to five per cent never become ill. To the best of our knowledge, the balancing mechanism of these good sailors and passengers is capable of rapid adjustment to sudden changes in pitch, roll, altitude, and turning movements.

In the past, the old standbys were atropine, hyoscine, and scopolamine. Sedatives were recommended when psychological factors entered the picture, such as in persons who became seasick as soon as they began walking up the gangplank. Modern remedies include dramamine, scopodex, marezine, and bonamine. All have their devotees and since there are various symptoms in motion sickness, some products do a better job of relieving nausea, for example, whereas another is more effective against vomiting.

TOMORROW: Ganglion yields to hydrocortisone.

RUPTURED ULCER

C. F. writes: What causes a peptic ulcer to rupture?

REPLY

Neglect is the most common cause. The individual fails to take proper care of himself and, as a result, the lesion grows and enlarges until it erodes thru the wall of the stomach or duodenum. In a recent series of cases of ruptured ulcer, 47 per cent of the victims were alcoholics; 35 per cent were intoxicated on arrival at the hospital.

PARASITIC INVASION

W. E. writes: When I was overseas in World War II, I was told I had kala-azar. What kind of disease is it?

REPLY

This tropical disorder is caused by a spindle-shaped parasite that is transmitted through the bite of a sandfly. Outstanding symptoms are fever, enlargement of the spleen and liver, and anemia. Good treatment cures about 96 per cent.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Walter Johnson, immortal pitching star, was not only famed as the swiftest pitcher of his time, but was one of the most courteous. One evening he was hurrying to catch the opening of a show with his teammate, Clyde Milan, when a stranger tugged on his arm and engaged him in conversation. Milan waited impatiently until Sir Walter finally rejoined him, then grumbled, "We'll be late. Who was that bozo?" "Fellow said he knew my sister," explained the Big Train. "Your sister?!" echoed Milan. "I never knew you had one." Johnson answered, "I haven't."

A farmhand ambled up to the owner of the place and drawled, "Thought ye might like ter know the bull's got loose and been chasin' yer wife around the pasture fer the past half hour or so." The owner jumped to his feet in panic and shouted, "You blasted fool! Why have you waited so long to tell me?" "What's the matter, boss?" asked the farmhand in some surprise. "Your wife shortwinded?"

McCarthy Blames Jenner For "Leak" Of Information To Drew Pearson

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin and Senator Jenner of Indiana both are good friends and fellow Red-hunters. But the other day they got just a little miffed at each other over the question of this writer.

When this column carried an advance story on how Jenner's committee was going to use ex-Ambassador Spruille Braden as a star witness against Alger Hiss and the State Department, McCarthy blew up.

He claimed that Jenner's committee had been infiltrated. "Pearson," he claimed, "had planted a spy" inside the committee.

Senator Jenner also got worried, began to talk about the possibility of a "secret Harold Ickes" being on his committee staff. The liberal Republican he suspected at first was Charles Grimes, new counsel for the Internal Security Committee and a former Dewey crime-buster.

This writer had praised Grimes as fair-minded, so Jenner immediately suspected that he was the "Pearson spy," and even enlisted the services of the FBI to track down the leak.

I can assure you, however, Senator, that Mr. Grimes was not the source of my advance story on your operations. And just to prove that he wasn't, here is further secret information about another phase of your activity, in the Rules Committee, which has nothing to do with Mr. Grimes and which I am sure he know nothing about—until he reads this. Here is the next move you are contemplating:

Democratic Primaries

The secret minutes of Jenner's Rules Committee show that he is planning to repeat his political strategy of 1948 and investigate Democratic primaries this year, then publicize Democratic "election scandals" on the eve of the general election.

In the past, it has been the committee's practice to keep out of party primaries, investigate only final elections. Only exception to this came during the GOP 80th Congress, when Jenner headed the Senate Elections subcommittee, at which time he rushed around investigating Democratic primaries, trying to dig up dirt against Democratic candidates before the general election. Simultaneously he ignored Republican primaries, including a smelly GOP scandal in Rhode Island.

However, behind the closed doors of the Senate Rules Committee Jenner announced that he would ask the Senate for $75,000 to investigate primaries again.

The secret minutes quote Jenner's announcement as follows: "Thirty-five senators will be up for re-election this year. Thirty-four will be running in primaries during the months of April, May, June, July, August and September. Delaware alone will hold a convention.

"Many of these contests are expected to be close and result in hard campaigning," the minutes continue, quoting Jenner. "The experience of the committee in the past has been that primary elections demand equal attention from the Privileges and Election subcommittee.

"For this reason, a compact staff should be established at the end of March to undertake spot investigations arising out of complaints which may be made in the forthcoming primaries, and for which there is adequate precedent on the committee records," Jenner adds, neglecting to mention that the only precedents were set by himself in 1948. "If these primaries result in more contests than could be expected, the Senate can raise the ante sometime in July or August before it adjourns."

Democratic senators agreed this might be a good idea—provided Republican as well as Democratic primaries are investigated.

Brownell's Wire-Taps

Attorney General Brownell has been literally begging for someone to introduce his wire-tap bill on the Senate side of Congress. So far, only Senator McCarthy has offered to sponsor the bill, and Brownell just doesn't like the idea of having McCarthy's name on it.

The attorney general tried to persuade McCarthy's colleague, senior Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, to introduce the bill, but Wiley insisted that the question of whose phones were to be tapped should be left up to the courts, not the attorney general. So he said no. Meanwhile Brownell's wire-tap proposal is lying in Vice President Nixon's office, waiting for some senator—other than McCarthy—to pick it up.

NOTE—The Brownell proposal would make wire-tap evidence admissible in the courts retroactively; in other words wire-tap evidence taken illegally several years ago would now become admissible. McCarthy's Democratic friend, Senator McCarran of Nevada, is vigorously opposed to the wire-tap bill. He suspects his own phones have been tapped.

Washington Pipeline

Vice President Nixon told friends privately that "McCarthy has finally gone too far. He's hanged himself." This comes from the former peacemaker between the White House and McCarthy . . . Government storage bins are so jammed with surplus foods that the Agriculture Department won't be able to store the surplus from this year's harvest. The experts are gloomily predicting that over 200,000,000 bushels of grain will have to be dumped on the market at cut-rate prices or else left in the fields to rot—unless Secretary Benson gets busy now providing more storage space . . . Postmaster General Summerfield has privately backed down on his plan to increase first-class mail from three to four cents. He has called key congressmen and offered not to demain four-cent stamps if they in turn will increase second- and third-class rates. (However, it's a safe prediction that the postal rate increases will remain bottled up right where they are in the House Rules Committee.) . . . Four big gas and oil companies—Sinclair, Sohio, El Paso Natural Gas, and Peoples Production Company—will form a joint venture to explore for underocean oil in the Gulf of Mexico off Texas and Louisiana.

The Best TV Personality

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—I thought President Eisenhower made every other commentator on television look fumbling and ill-at-ease, during his Monday night chat. I know of no television personality who has improved more than Ike.

This may be an indirect plug for Robert Montgomery, who has been around the White House in recent months trying to get the Prez more comfortably into the TV groove. But in all probability it is a combination of several things, including the determination of the President to master the new medium. That, he surely has done.

If he used a tele-prompter or cards the other night, as he sat casually on the edge of a desk and talked about the groundless fears of the country, it was hardly discernible. This was man-to-man talk without a stumble, hesitation or doubt. The President has found the priceless knack of projecting his small-room personality into countless millions of small rooms.

His most reassuring note, I thought, was the matter-of-fact way in which he reduced the massive threat of the other great power in the world to terms of petty individuals and their preference to stay in power rather than risk losing it all.

"They've studied Mussolini, Hitler and even Napoleon," he said of the men in the Kremlin and the apprehension they spread through the U. S. When dictators overreach themselves they, in time, lose the very power which they sought and gained as dictators, he went on.

This is a great deterrent against World War III, the President said earnestly. So is the Russians' knowledge that they would have to use their captive satellite troops in any great war. Napoleon tried that once, invading Russia, and the desertions were appalling. The President urged constant alertness, but said that Russia isn't likely to move because she knows (among other things) that we produced 2½ billion barrels of oil last year to her half billion, and twice as much steel.

The President didn't mention it, in the course of his talk about fear of a depression, but he might have said that surburbanite New York is about to get the world's largest shopping center. Industry and trade is catching up with the movements of people from town. "The Cross County Center," located at Yonkers, will employ up to 5,000 people. It cost $30,000,000 and will open April 28.

The site of the center is particularly rich in history. It was a meeting place for Indian tribes for centuries prior to the arrival of Henry Hudson. A 10-ton chip off the ancient trading rock where the Indians exchanged goods, gossip and peace pledges will occupy a prominent place in the center.

The site was additionally rich. Much of it was a golf range for years. A soggy one. About 10,000 balls were recovered by excavators.

Dude ranch owner I know from Grand Lake, Colo., name of John Holzwarth, dropped in on the big town the other day to look around and pine for Neversummer Mountain, which towers over his valley near the Great Divide.

John says business is booming in his line, and he believes Hopalong Cassidy, Roy Rogers, Gene Autry and other TV cowpokes are chiefly responsible. The kids pester their parents into buying them cowboy equipment bearing the brands of their heroes. Once in such clothes, the kids want to ride a horse.

Holzwarth's advice to dude ranch owners: Keep it rugged, simple, honest, and don't try to give the adults night-club entertainment. They can get it better in town. He's all for keeping close to nature, too. "The wood I split keeps me a lot warmer than gas from the utilities company," he said. "The water tastes better out of a bucket because I had to carry the bucket."

Says he and his friends are a little sore about California getting all that water from the Colorado River, but he added, with a shrug, "Anyway, we take a bath in it first before we send it on."

Opening Of City Recreation Season Is Set For June 21

Cumberland's Recreation Department has moved into its busy season—preparing for the heavy spring and summer programs.

For the past several weeks, Director Robert E. Pence, Secretary Helen C. Gilmore and Maintenance Chief Glenwood (Tag) Reel have been inventorying, getting equipment in repair and setting up various activities.

The city's 16 playgrounds will open June 21, one week after leaders undergo a training program. Constitution Park pool will open on Memorial Day, May 30, while the Pine Avenue pool opening for colored folks is still under advisement.

Job Application Monday

Pence said applications for recreation assistants during the spring and summer will be available Monday. He said about 25 playground leaders, 12 pool workers, 6 to 8 ball field leaders and about a dozen umpires to work evening ball games at $1 a contest will be needed.

The playground leaders are usually chosen from among applicants with the most experience and training. Their pay ranges from $20 to $40 a week depending upon experience.

Pool employes include lifeguards, checkers and cashiers.

Already the picnic season has arrived and the Recreation Department is keeping its picnic kits in shape for loan to organizations. This is one of its most popular services outside the regular program.

Heavy Ball Schedule

Early next month, the department sponsored ball playing season gets under way with a staggering total of 96 teams playing twice weekly. Not all of these will start their activity next month, however. The various ball fields will be in shape in the next two weeks, Pence added.

Monday, golf instruction classes were started at Fort Cumberland Golf Club. A horseshoe league is being organized as are tennis classes under the spring program.

Reel has playground equipment in good shape for the season's opening, Pence said. Any new equipment purchased is in conjunction with playground associations with the cost split between the association and department. However, this is "between seasons" as far as the department financing is concerned and little is available to help with new purchases.

Naturally, Pence said, the department hopes for a greater number of participants.

"The recreation program is continually evaluated to bring people to recreation who haven't been reached before," Pence said.

But I don't aim to "dog it," or fold. I'll keep trying until I find something that is acceptable. I have been too long an entertainer to dismiss the challenge.

But say, I am starting to sound pretty noble here, and I have certainly been talking too much about myself.

John, have a good time abroad. I know you will. I could give you a list of French restaurants as long as your arm, but you would just come back with dyspepsia and be meaner than ever. One place I must put in a plug for, "La Cigoyne," cuisine Alsatian, with great pate de foie gras and cheeses. They serve a drink there called "Framboise"—very lethal—don't take more than one or you'll go right out and bite a gendarme in the leg. And my very best regards of course to Art Buchwald, the Herald Tribune correspondent in Paris. And thanks for the space.

Group Plans Not To Join National Unit

The Association of Friends Aware of Handicapped Children has agreed not to affiliate with the United Cerebral P sy Association at this time.

This was the consensus of those attending the regular session of the group last Friday at Cumberland Savings Bank. The discussion was the major point of business. Literature on the association was distributed to those attending by G. Byron Candle district representative of NCPA.

The discussion was led by Mrs. E. R. Kellough, Mrs. Marcus Naughton, Mrs. Bernard Coulehan, Mrs. Jerome Whitacre and Mrs. Frank Schilling.

A report of the by-laws committee was read by Bernard McGann.

David Hamilton suggested a concentrated program to bring before the public the plight of children for whom no training or educational opportunities are provided.

A social session arranged by Mrs. Naughton and Mrs. McGann followed the meeting at which Mrs. John J. Long, president, presided.

The next meeting will be held April 23 at Cumberland Savings Bank. Mrs. Opie Annan, executive secretary of the Allegany County League For Crippled Children, will discuss the program available to the cerebral palsied in Allegany County.

Children under five years of age comprise about 11 per cent of the population of the United States.

Thirty-three years is generally considered to be a generation.

200 Parents Attend School Workshop

About 200 parents, representing most of the Allegany County public schools, attended a parent discussion group workshop yesterday at Mt. Savage School.

Dr. Ira Gordon of the Child Study Institute of th University of Maryland, was consultant. Miss Dorothy W. Shires, state supervisor of pupil personnel and parent education, attended both the morning and afternoon sessions. Homer E. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in the county schools, arranged the workshop.

During the morning session the discussion revolved around "How Children Grow." During the afternoon "Physical Growth" was the main topic.

Magistrate Says

the commissioners, read the letter to the board and as he reached each point raised by the magistrates group he gave an answer for the board.

Following are the points raised by the magistrates and the answer of the county board in parentheses.

"You stated that you had the express authority to pay these expenses, and then you contradicted yourself by quoting Sec. 3 of Article 25 of the Annatotated Code of Maryland," the magistrates wrote. You erroneously stated Code of Public Local Law which contains no such Article 25, which specifically exempts Allegany County from having such authority. In other words you admitted that you do not possess any express authority to act.

(The authority for payment of claims is either by law or by implication, Getty said.

"We note that you only attempted to justify two trips out of a partial list of 14 we mentioned ($336.62 of the $1,370.95 expended), but we ask why was it necessary for six or seven of you to go on those safaris to Ocean City, etc., when one or two could have done just as well or just as badly?"

(No attempt has been made to check each item questioned and to reply in detail thereto nor have the amounts been verified, but the items as listed in your letter have been accepted for the purpose of this reply.

"You admit that you have established a formula for the payment of travel expenses of six cents per mile plus gas and oil. How do you explain the fact that you have paid some county employes as high as 10 cents per mile and further, how can you explain why the county roads supervisor, (you stated he was engineer — is he?) whom you have furnished with a county car with county license tags and county name on doors for official use has been paid a monthly mileage fee? We note from your records that you paid the county roads supervisor on the base of bills submitted by him and also approved by him. Are you paying the county roads supervisor mileage expense on a county-owned car?"

(Absolutely not. Please be advised that not one of the expense items listed in your letter represents a type or class of expense first approved and accepted for payment by the present Board of County Commissioners, but that the travel expenses of commissioners, clerks, assessors, roads supervisor or engineer and attorney have been budget items for a great many years. We did not call the present roads supervisor an engineer, that was a reference to former years when the county did have an engineer who did many of the same duties as the present supervisor. How else could we refer to the former engineers?)

"We again direct your attention to the law case cited in our previous letter relative to the expenses of the supervisor of assessments totaling $4,005.38 for his trips to the State Tax Commission and out of state, in which the Court of Appeals has held that you do not have to reimburse him for."

No Bearing Here

(The case cited, Frederick County vs. Gaver, has no bearing on the situation in Allegany County nor does it now pertain to even Frederick County. The case in question concerned an assessor who had a salary of $1,800 annually and had been paid $2,400. When the county sued for the extra money Gaver allegedly submitted expenses to offset the extra salary paid him, and these expenses had not previously been submitted. It was on this basis that the Court of Appeals ruled and their decision was that the county did not have to pay the expenses, but had authority to do so. Frederick County at present pays current expenses of their assessors, as does every other county in Maryland.)

"In regard to your claim of preserving the financial stability of the county by your trips in a body to Annapolis—don't you believe the credit belongs elsewhere? Didn't you express in writing, at the beginning of the 1953 Legislative session, that you were unalterably opposed to the bill that was passed for which you now claim credit?"

(Our opposition to the mandatory school bill of $6,000,000 was no secret, but this bill was not the one eventually passed by the Legislature. The final bill, under which new schools are being built in the county, was a $3,500,000 school bond bill which was agreed upon at a conference in Annapolis between the County Commissioners, Allegany County Board of Education and the Allegany County delegation to the General Assembly).

"We would be remiss if we did not remind you at this time of your total absence from an important meeting in Cumberland last fall sponsored by local citizens and attended by members of the Legislative Council, all other public officials of this county, and interested persons, for the express purpose of discussing problems in Allegany County. Your actions spoke louder than words of your claim of high devotion to public duty."

(Delegate Horace P. Whitworth Jr., had earlier invited the county board to attend a meeting in Luke at the Devon Club at which the Legislative Council would be present. We accepted this invitation but the meeting was cancelled. This meeting had been intended for the purpose of discussing matters pertaining to the Savage River Dam and a roadway in that area and the board thought it was of sufficient importance to attend. We did not attend the dinner meeting at the Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club the next day, due to the cancellation of the Luke meeting).

"In conclusion, we desire to state that the responsibility for this extravagant and over-generous spending of public funds rests squarely on the shoulders of you as commissioners and not upon anyone else, and we trust that the general public will be the final judge as to whether or not you have been too free with the taxpayers money."

(We agree that the public will be the final judge of the controversy.

Mt. Savage Asks For 15-Cent Special Tax Rate

Street Lighting Funds Provided

A resolution was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from the Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area setting the tax rate for street lights in that community at 15 cents per $100 of assessable property.

The assessable valuation of property in Mt. Savage is $820,000. The 15-cent rate will provide $1,250 for street lighting for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The resolution was sent in by a Citizens Committee of Mt. Savage and signed by Colin C. Bowers, chairman, and Thomas E. Stephens, secretary.

The board also received from the state comptrollers office the audit of the tax accounts of Thomas H. Taylor, District 3, for the years 1947 to 1950 and from 1952 to September of 1953, and for James Park, District 3, for the period between 1951 and September, 1953. The audit reported the accounts in good shape.

A letter was received from Joseph M. Miller, superintendent of the Western Maryland Railway, relative to the county's request for permission to remove the stonework at an underpass in Borden Shaft.

Piedmont Hears Progress Report On Federal Bill

Measure Awaits Senate Approval

PIEDMONT — A measure has passed the House of Representatives in Washington which would provide Piedmont and other cities planning to construct sewage systems one-third of the funds needed for engineering work in the building of such facilities.

The bill, which would provide one-third Federal funds for engineering costs, is now before the U. S. Senate, according to a telegram from John R. Williams of the Falls Church, Va., engineering firm of Johnson and Williams. The telegram was read of the Monday evening meeting of Mayor Allan Hill and City Council.

Williams conferred with the Mayor and City Council here and Mayor W. D. Biddinger, J. H. Simmons, town attorney and O. R. Poling, former mayor, representing the Town of Ridgeley.

The state is urging that the city construct a sewage system. The bill now before the U. S. Senate would lend the communities the money for surveys. When the preliminary survey is made and application aproved the federal government would pay the engineering firm one third of the cost of the survey. When the final survey is made the federal government would pay the firm the other two thirds of their charges.

The city would not be required to repay this money to the federal government until they began the construction of the project.

The City Clerk, Ormond Ledlow, was authorized to advise the Johnson and Williams firm that at this time they did not think it wise to obligate the town for the amount of money that might be involved without having better concensus about the matter.

The letter also stated appreciation for the cooperation of the engineering firm in the assistance they have given the town about the sewage problem they are faced with.

This Law Applies In Russia Too

Before 1917, when there was no Communist government to test the theory, it was easy for Communists to assert that a communistic economy would be free of the difficulties encountered by capitalistic economies. The law of supply and demand, for instance —which they regarded as simply a description of events peculiar to capitalism—would vanish under communism, the Reds said.

It didn't, although orthodox Communists continue to maintain in the face of the facts that Russia can ignore this bourgeois economic law entirely. But people who look at realities instead of theories can see that while the law is on occasion set aside in the United States, to the ultimate regret of taxpayers, it is still a factor in Russia.

The ballyhooed price cuts just announced by Russia illustrate this point. Last August Malenkov promised the Russian people that they would soon have a much larger supply of food and consumer goods. This increased supply, he implied, would lower prices, just as if the capitalist law of supply and demand were operating. But last month his deputy, Mikoyan, said the government was going to cut prices even on commodities for which demand was far greater than supply—ignoring the law of supply and demand.

Now that the price cuts have been announced, it is evident that the Kremlin, despite Mikoyan, has been forced to bow to capitalist economic law. Toys and perfume and other scarce items on which production has been stepped up will be cheaper. But meats, vegetables, dairy products, men's clothing and other cost-of-living products in short supply will cost as much as ever.

For the government to increase the demand by lowering prices when it cannot produce enough to meet existing demand would invite more unpopularity than even a police state can face with equanimity.

Meanwhile, in the United States, the law of supply and demand has been a major factor in halting cost-of-living increases. While this law is not quite as inexorable in practice as it is in theory, it cannot be entirely ignored even by collectivist totalitarians.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Hiss Pension

A number of bills have been introduced in the House of Representatives to prevent Alger Hiss from receiving a pension when he comes out of prison. Should no legislation be passed, Hiss will get his pension.

H.R. 1239, introduced by W. Sterling Cole of New York, is designed to deny benefits, under civil service or other federal retirement systems, to persons convicted of felonies involving improper use of their authority, power, influence or privileges as officers or employes of the United States. This measure is now before the Committee on Post Office and Civil Service.

Similar bills, now before the same committee, are H.R. 3301, introduced by Representative Frank M. Karsten of Missouri, H.R. 6940, introduced by Mrs. Katharine St. George of New York, H.R. 7381, introduced by Thomas A. Jenkins of Ohio, H.R. 7476, introduced by T. Millet Hand of New Jersey, and H.R. 8091, introduced by Richard H. Poff of Virginia.

Representative Kit Clardy of Michigan presented bill H.R. 5299, which deals specifically with Alger Hiss. It reads:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That no part of the civil-service retirement and disability fund shall be used to pay an annuity to Alger Hiss. The Civil Service Commission, within 30 days after the date of the enactment of this act, shall return to the said Alger Hiss the total amount to his credit in such fund."

Alger Hiss does not lose his pension rights because he went to prison. This pension is a contractual arrangement between an employer and an employe, often both sides contributing thereto, by which at a stated period the beneficiary will receive a stated amount. Hiss paid his share into the pension fund and that money is his. The share that he paid in can be returned to him under the terms of some of these bills, but it would be interesting to cogitate on how the courts would hold in a matter that involves a breach of contract or an alteration of the terms of a contract by an ex post facto law.

The question would arise as to whether the government, as an employer, may violate a contract, by act of legislation, which a private employer could not violate under any circumstances. As a matter of fact, the private employer is usually forced to set pension funds apart lest he not have them when required to meet his obligations. Surely, Hiss could get his own money back and it is probable that he would sue for the full amount and take his chances in the court.

In some of the legislation, a distinction is made between "retired pay" and "pension." No matter how one words it, if the prospective recipient of the benefit has entered into a contract and has paid into the fund, which is consideration, it raises a tricky question for the lawyers.

The subject is brought up only to show that it is not always so easy to do as one pleases in a political system in which the law and not the whims of man prevail. The simplest rule of life is "off with his head." But it may be your head or mine and we want protectives. Once the rights of man are recognized and protectives against whimsical tyranny are established, the rules that apply to the good apply equally to the wicked, and if the rules are relaxed so that the wicked may be punished, the good are placed in jeopardy. When it is said that this is a government of law, not of men, it means that the law applies to all, to the wicked as well as the good, and, of course, the wicked usually have the advantage.

Under such circumstances, it becomes increasingly difficult to work reprisals on such a man as Alger Hiss by withholding his pension. If he goes into court over such a question and should the court hold that despite his crime of perjury, he is entitled to his pension, he will get the money and he will use it as he chooses. Many lawyers say that the courts will have no alternatives but to hold that his crime of perjury did not impair his contract as to a pension.

Totalitarian Ideas Seen In Pressures Aimed At Ike

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Totalitarian concepts that could be the forerunner of a new form of fascism some day in America have begun to emerge in the pressures being directed at President Eisenhower to change the historic role of the chief executive and assume functions, called "leadership," but which actually envisage a type of dictatorship.

The first public sign of this pressure appeared yesterday in a paid advertisment in a local newspaper which called upon President Eisenhower to ignore one of the basic constitutional rights of the Congress. It said, in part:

"We would like to see you forbid government representatives to appear before McCarthy's subcommittee until he gives ample and unmistakable proof that he will abide by fair and reasonable rules of procedure in the treatment of witnesses."

Would Undermine System

The 51 Americans who signed this statement are well-meaning, loyal, highly respectable persons who probably never gave a moment's thought to the constitutional implications of the petition which they were urged to sign. For, if the President of the United States is to set himself up as the judge of what is "fair" or "reasonable" about a congressional procedure, than the system of government as the people of the United States have known it since 1787 will have been completely undermined.

The American constitutional system provides that Congress is the coordinate branch of the government, equal in power and authority, in its own sphere, with any other branch, and that the right of Congress to decide what shall be its own rules of procedure cannot be taken away by the executive branch of the government.

There is not a single Supreme Court decision which immunizes employes of the executive branch of the government from obeying a subpoena to appear before committees of Congress. The same holds true for subpoenas by the courts. By long-established custom the President himself has been held to be theoretically immune from the subpoena power, but even this could be overturned by a Supreme Court decision in the future, or by a law of Congress.

If a President were to forbid at his pleasure the appearance of the officials of the executive department and agencies before Congress, he could successfully deprive the legislative branch of the government of the pertinent information it needs in formulating laws, especially appropriation bills. Thus, the whole system of checks and balances set up by the founding fathers would collapse.

Never before in the memory of this correspondent has there been a movement started in America urging the President to assume a virtual dictatorship over the conduct of committees of Congress. If he may pass judgment on its own rules of procedure, he could also, by the same precedent, evaluate at his will the qualifications of the members of Congress, or do anything else which hitherto has been strictly the prerogative of Congress. The road would be open to the Hitler or Stalin practice of "purging" the legislature by order of the executive.

But the new totalitarianism in America is not confined entirely to an effort to make Congress the tool of the executive, as was the case with the German Reichstag under Hitler. There is, for instance, a drive to insist on a conformity of thought on the part of persons employed by congressional committees. They must conform to the ideas of pressure groups who evidently seek the support of President Eisenhower in their present drive. The controversy over what Samuel P. Sears said publicly concerning Communists in government, or his expressed beliefs that persons should not abuse the Fifth Amendment, or his political remarks in favor of a Republican candidate for senator in the state of Wisconsin in 1952, makes it apparent that only those who conform to certain precepts would be permitted hereafter to serve their government if the pressure groups have their way.

Not Liberal Views

Since Mr. Sears, three-time president of the Massachusetts Bar Association, is considered ineligible by some of these groups to act as counsel for a congressional committee because of his political views in 1952, or his expressed opposition toward Comunist sympathizers in government, or at Harvard Law School, then Justices William O. Douglas and Robert H. Jackson of the Supreme Court of the United States, who have made speeches off the bench dealing with the touchy subject of civil rights and Communists in government, may have to consider disqualifying themselves hereafter from sitting in any cases involving the anti-Communist controversies of these emotional times.

This is the totalitarian trend of the hour. It is amazing that most of the outcries that would seek to punish a man like Mr. Sears for his past views are coming from the very faction which has been describing itself as "liberal." These concepts of suppression of speech, and the imposition of conformity of thought are, of course, the extreme opposite of true liberalism.

Indicating it's the gals who should be wearing the armor.

Five of our loveliest ladies spend most of the winter looking like one-eyed racoons.

Looked up Emily Post on the subject but couldn't find it in the fine print on the manly art of womanly defense.

Emily does say when a gentleman offers a lady his arm he shouldn't use the La Blanche backswing.

Nor should the wedding chimes be rung on the gong in Madison Square Garden.

In addition to the quintet of elipsed eyes we are morose to tabulate that one gal had her pearly teeth shucked like oysters, another was booted out of a taxicab and a third had her ankle busted on her honeymoon.

So many dames are being slugged on Park Avenue a veteran dowager had shatter-proof glass put in her lorgnette.

In our own Park Row set we never strike a lady. First.

So we suspend these alien Lochinvars 30 days without alimony. All the ladies in the main bouts are rich beyond the clutch of avarice. At the debutantes' brawl this spring the debbies are classified by weights, reach and kayos.

If it's love at first sight be sure you can see out of both eyes.

New Remedies For Motion Sickness Give Much Help

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Many new motion sickness remedies were introduced during the last decade and claims are made that the majority will give more than 90 per cent improvement when used properly. Some of these compounds were found to be of value also in ordinary dizziness and in controlling the nausea and vomiting of pregnancy.

At the turn of the century, seasickness was a common topic of conversation because immigration was at its height. Engineers designed ingenious devices to help prevent sea voyagers from developing motion sickness. Bessemer, the pioneer steelmaker, suspended passenger cabins on brackets. Gyroscopic stabilizers were incorporated into the hull to controll the roll of the ship. Others used projecting strips of metal along the length of the ship (bilge keels).

Today's travel problems are different. Automobile, train, and plane compete with lake steamers, ocean liners, and river boats. The manufacturers of modern conveyances have done everything to make riding smooth but they have no control over nature or war. As a result, the problem of motion sickness had to be solved at the passenger level. Most of the advances came during World War II when the success or failure of many ventures depended upon the avoidance of air-or seasickness. What would have happened, for example, if all the servicemen approached the shores of Normandy or Saipan "as sick as a dog?"

Motion sickness stems from a disturbance in the inner ear. To be more specific, motion affects the organ of balance, the bony labyrinth of the inner ear. The nerves in this area are sensitive to rotary motion and when stimulated in an unusual manner, the individual encounters vertigo, nausea, sweating, and vomiting. It has been estimated that nine out of 10 persons will develop one or more of these symptoms in rough traveling. Moderate turbulence affects 10 to 30 per cent; and three to five per cent never become ill. To the best of our knowledge, the balancing mechanism of these good sailors and passengers is capable of rapid adjustment to sudden changes in pitch, roll, altitude, and turning movements.

In the past, the old standbys were atropine, hyoscine, and scopolamine. Sedatives were recommended when psychological factors entered the picture, such as in persons who became seasick as soon as they began walking up the gangplank. Modern remedies include dramamine, scopodex, marezine, and bonamine. All have their devotees and since there are various symptoms in motion sickness, some products do a better job of relieving nausea, for example, whereas another is more effective against vomiting.

TOMORROW: Ganglion yields to hydrocortisone.

RUPTURED ULCER

C. F. writes: What causes a peptic ulcer to rupture?

REPLY

Neglect is the most common cause. The individual fails to take proper care of himself and, as a result, the lesion grows and enlarges until it erodes thru the wall of the stomach or duodenum. In a recent series of cases of ruptured ulcer, 47 per cent of the victims were alcoholics; 35 per cent were intoxicated on arrival at the hospital.

PARASITIC INVASION

W. E. writes: When I was overseas in World War II, I was told I had kala-azar. What kind of disease is it?

REPLY

This tropical disorder is caused by a spindle-shaped parasite that is transmitted through the bite of a sandfly. Outstanding symptoms are fever, enlargement of the spleen and liver, and anemia. Good treatment cures about 96 per cent.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

By Bennett Cerf

Walter Johnson, immortal pitching star, was not only famed as the swiftest pitcher of his time, but was one of the most courteous. One evening he was hurrying to catch the opening of a show with his teammate, Clyde Milan, when a stranger tugged on his arm and engaged him in conversation. Milan waited impatiently until Sir Walter finally rejoined him, then grumbled, "We'll be late. Who was that bozo?" "Fellow said he knew my sister," explained the Big Train. "Your sister?" echoed Milan. "I never knew you had one." Johnson answered, "I haven't."

A farmhand ambled up to the owner of the place and drawled, "Thought ye might like ter know the bull's got loose and been chasin' yer wife around the pasture fer the past half hour or so." The owner jumped to his feet in panic and shouted, "You blasted fool! Why have you waited so long to tell me?" "What's the matter, boss?" asked the farmhand in some surprise. "Your wife shortwinded?"

McCarthy Blames Jenner For "Leak" Of Information To Drew Pearson

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Senator McCarthy of Wisconsin and Senator Jenner of Indiana both are good friends and fellow Red-hunters. But the other day they got just a little miffed at each other over the question of this writer.

When this column carried an advance story on how Jenner's committee was going to use ex-Ambassador Spruille Braden as a star witness against Alger Hiss and the State Department, McCarthy blew up.

He claimed that Jenner's committee had been infiltrated. "Pearson," he claimed, "had planted a spy" inside the committee.

Senator Jenner also got worried, began to talk about the possibility of a "secret Harold Ickes" being on his committee staff. The liberal Republican he suspected at first was Charles Grimes, new counsel for the Internal Security Committee and a former Dewey crime-buster.

This writer had praised Grimes as fair-minded, so Jenner immediately suspected that he was the "Pearson spy," and even enlisted the services of the FBI to track down the leak.

I can assure you, however, Senator, that Mr. Grimes was not the source of my advance story on your operations. And just to prove that he wasn't, here is further secret information about another phase of your activity, in the Rules Committee, which has nothing to do with Mr. Grimes and which I am sure he know nothing about—until he reads this. Here is the next move you are contemplating:

Democratic Primaries

The secret minutes of Jenner's Rules Committee show that he is planning to repeat his political strategy of 1948 and investigate Democratic primaries this year, then publicize Democratic "election scandals" on the eve of the general election.

In the past, it has been the committee's practice to keep out of party primaries, investigate only final elections. Only exception to this came during the GOP 80th Congress, when Jenner headed the Senate Elections subcommittee, at which time he rushed around investigating Democratic primaries, trying to dig up dirt against Democratic candidates before the general election. Simultaneously he ignored Republican primaries, including a smelly GOP scandal in Rhode Island.

However, behind the closed doors of the Senate Rules Committee Jenner announced that he would ask the Senate for $75,000 to investigate primaries again.

The secret minutes quote Jenner's announcement as follows: "Thirty-five senators will be up for re-election this year. Thirty-four will be running in primaries during the months of April, May, June, July, August and September. Delaware alone will hold a convention.

"Many of these contests are expected to be close and result in hard campaigning," the minutes continue, quoting Jenner. "The experience of the committee in the past has been that primary elections demand equal attention from the Privileges and Election subcommittee.

"For this reason, a compact staff should be established at the end of March to undertake spot investigations arising out of complaints which may be made in the forthcoming primaries, and for which there is adequate precedent on the committee records," Jenner adds, neglecting to mention that the only precedents were set by himself in 1948. "If these primaries result in more contests than could be expected, the Senate can raise the ante sometime in July or August before it adjourns."

Democratic senators agreed this might be a good idea—provided Republican as well as Democratic primaries are investigated.

Brownell's Wire-Taps

Attorney General Brownell has been literally begging for someone to introduce his wire-tap bill on the Senate side of Congress. So far, only Senator McCarthy has offered to sponsor the bill, and Brownell just doesn't like the idea of having McCarthy's name on it.

The attorney general tried to persuade McCarthy's colleague, senior Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, to introduce the bill, but Wiley insisted that the question of whose phones were to be tapped should be left up to the courts, not the attorney general. So he said no. Meanwhile Brownell's wire-tap proposal is lying in Vice President Nixon's office, waiting for some senator—other than McCarthy—to pick it up.

NOTE—The Brownell proposal would make wire-tap evidence admissible in the courts retroactively; in other words wire-tap evidence taken illegally several years ago would now become admissible. McCarthy's Democratic friend, Senator McCarran of Nevada, is vigorously opposed to the wire-tap bill. He suspects his own phones have been tapped.

Washington Pipeline

Vice President Nixon told friends privately that "McCarthy has finally gone too far. He's hanged himself." This comes from the former peacemaker between the White House and McCarthy . . . Government storage bins are so jammed with surplus foods that the Agriculture Department won't be able to store the surplus from this year's harvest. The experts are gloomily predicting that over 200,000,000 bushels of grain will have to be dumped on the market at cut-rate prices or else left in the fields to rot—unless Secretary Benson gets busy now providing more storage space . . . Postmaster General Summerfield has privately backed down on his plan to increase first-class mail from three to four cents. He has called key congressmen and offered not to demain four-cent stamps if they in turn will increase second- and third-class rates. (However, it's a safe prediction that the postal rate increases will remain bottled up right where they are in the House Rules Committee.) . . . Four big gas and oil companies—Sinclair, Sohio, El Paso Natural Gas, and Peoples Production Company—will form a joint venture to explore for underocean oil in the Gulf of Mexico off Texas and Louisiana.

The Best TV Personality

By Bob Considine

NEW YORK—(INS)—I thought President Eisenhower made every other commentator on television look fumbling and ill-at-ease, during his Monday night chat. I know of no television personality who has improved more than Ike.

This may be an indirect plug for Robert Montgomery, who has been around the White House in recent months trying to get the Prez more comfortably into the TV groove. But in all probability it is a combination of several things, including the determination of the President to master the new medium. That, he surely has done.

If he used a tele-prompter or cards the other night, as he sat casually on the edge of a desk and talked about the groundless fears of the country, it was hardly discernible. This was man-to-man talk without a stumble, hesitation or doubt. The President has found the priceless knack of projecting his small-room personality into countless millions of small rooms.

His most reassuring note, I thought, was the matter-of-fact way in which he reduced the massive threat of the other great power in the world to terms of petty individuals and their preference to stay in power rather than risk losing it all.

"They've studied Mussolini, Hitler and even Napoleon," he said of the men in the Kremlin and the apprehension they spread through the U. S. When dictators overreach themselves they, in time, lose the very power which they sought and gained as dictators, he went on.

This is a great deterrent against World War III, the President said earnestly. So is the Russians' knowledge that they would have to use their captive satellite troops in any great war. Napoleon tried that once, invading Russia, and the desertions were appalling. The President urged constant alertness, but said that Russia isn't likely to move because she knows (among other things) that we produced 2½ billion barrels of oil last year to her half billion, and twice as much steel.

The President didn't mention it, in the course of his talk about fear of a depression, but he might have said that surburbanite New York is about to get the world's largest shopping center. Industry and trade is catching up with the movements of people from town. "The Cross County Center," located at Yonkers, will employ up to 5,000 people. It cost $30,000,000 and will open April 28.

The site of the center is particularly rich in history. It was a meeting place for Indian tribes for centuries prior to the arrival of Henry Hudson. A 10-ton chip off the ancient trading rock where the Indians exchanged goods, gossip and peace pledges will occupy a prominent place in the center.

The site was additionally rich. Much of it was a golf range for years. A soggy one. About 10,000 balls were recovered by excavators.

Dude ranch owner I know from Grand Lake, Colo., name of John Holzwarth, dropped in on the big town the other day to look around and pine for Neversummer Mountain, which towers over his valley near the Great Divide.

John says business is booming in his line, and he believes Hopalong Cassidy, Roy Rogers, Gene Autry and other TV cowpokes are chiefly responsible. The kids pester their parents into buying them cowboy equipment bearing the brands of their heroes. Once in such clothes, the kids want to ride a horse.

Holzwarth's advice to dude ranch owners: Keep it rugged, simple, honest, and don't try to give the adults night-club entertainment. They can get it better in town. He's all for keeping close to nature, too. "The wood I split keeps me a lot warmer than gas from the utilities company," he said. "The water tastes better out of a bucket because I had to carry the bucket."

Says he and his friends are a little sore about California getting all that water from the Colorado River, but he added, with a shrug, "Anyway, we take a bath in it first before we send it on."

You're Telling Me!

By William Ritt

Despite Senate OK, Alaska and Hawaii which seek statehood may find the going tougher in the House. As far as the U. S. flag is concerned the two territories are not yet stars, just planets.

In California a pamphlet on how to drink intelligently has just been issued. A sort of tips to tipplers?

A best-seller too often is a novel referred to five years later as that "You-Know" book written by "What's-His-Name."

Grandpappy Jenkins dug his old golf knickers out of the mothballs yesterday, and tried 'em on again. His worst fears were realized—he still looked like a little boy with chin whiskers.

It's always easy to believe the excuse of a man who is late for lunch—you offered to buy.

We wouldn't know about Tibet's Abominable Snowman, but this last winter we experienced more than enough abominable snowstorms.

How come, asks the man at the next desk, the symbol of Easter—which is a holiday of renewed hope, youth and good will — is often presented as a hard-boiled egg?

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (INS) — At Dr. Mark Rabwin's party honoring Sir Alexander and Lady Fleming, I cornered Dore Schary to ask him the inevitable question, "What's new?" He laughed and said, "Well, we just signed Eleanor Parker as the star of 'Interrupted Melody.' "

This is the story of Marjorie Lawrence, the Metropolitan Opera star who was struck with polio at the height of her career, but who later bravely sang from her wheel chair. She's often visited in Hollywood and she's a charming woman.

"What about the songs, will Marjorie sing them?" I asked.

But about this Dore was very evasive and said, "Well, perhaps some of them."

Originally, "Interrupted Melody" was bought for Greer Garson and Producer Jack Cummings has the script in readiness.

Goes without saying that 20th is well satisfied with Edmund Purdom in "The Egyptian," or else their two million suit against Marlon Brando never would have been settled. True, Brando will pay some of the expense incurred when he walked out on the picture.

There are apparently no hard feelings as he does get his heart's wish, the chance to play Napoleon in "Desiree." Now the question is, will Marlon be around when the shooting time comes?

The death of his mother had a great sobering effect on the high strung young actor. And he has been visiting a psychiatrist, so he may have had his lesson. According to his friends, it's a strange feeling of fright that affects him when he walks out.

Lost: One diary, which can only be of interest to its owner, Jean Wallace. She said she had it on the plane coming back from Europe and it mysteriously disappeared.

"I told everything," she said, "everything that happened on our trip."

"Any secrets Cornell shouldn't hear?" I asked her.

"No, but I told about things that could only be of interest to Cornel and me, and you don't like people reading your life story."

Jean said that Franchot Tone is coming to take the two boys on their Easter vacation.

I pinned Cecil B. De Mille down after I heard he had looked at "Man With a Million," the Gregory Peck picture, and had greatly admired Jane Griffiths.

"Is she going to have one of the top roles in "The Ten Commandments?" I asked C. B.

"No," he said, "she's a beautiful girl and a very good actress, and I would like to use her in another picture, but I cannot seem to feel she's right for the role I had in mind for her."

C. B. said "Man With a Million" is a very funny picture. It's based on Mark Twain's story, "Million Dollar Note."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lana Turner turned down a Lux program to go with Lex Barker to the Mojave Desert on location for "Nevada Gold." And boy, is it hot there!

Singer Patti Page of "Tennessee Waltz," is saving all her waltzes for Art Fellows, to whom she is reported engaged.

Spike and Helen Jones are putting on the cutest Easter program with the young fry participating—the two and four year old Jones children are hosts. A dwarf will play Peter Cotton Tail, who leads a 14 "carrot" band. Spike invited me to come to see the children, and I hope I can.

At the dinner Milton and Kay Pickman gave honoring Myrt Blum and his bride, Peter Ustinov said their baby will be born in Hollywood.

What a nice thing for Cobina Wright to do. She gave her housekeeper, Elisabeth Nicol, and Felicien Philippe a wedding. They had champagne, a cake and all the trimmings. Judge Joseph Marchetti performed the ceremony before a flower-bedecked altar, with Cobina as matron of honor and Tony Longinotti as best man.

All of Hollywood goes to the Beaux Arts Ball at the El Mirador Hotel in Palm Springs. Lily Pons is queen and Ray Ryan King. The hotel will be transformed into a "Night in Spain."

John Wayne's TV test is getting raves — but is that surprising?

A Charley Foy twosome, Jack Dempsey and Helen Gurley.

While Jack Entratter was in town, he signed Peggy Lee for an engagement at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas. It's nice that Peggy is feeling better and is doing so well.

That's all today. See you tomorri.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Shorter hemlines and new fashions in shoes and stockings make grooming of feet and legs important.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Yesterday I told you about fashions with leg and foot interest. Now let's plunge, feet first, into plans for grooming legs and feet so that you can wear those new fashions—and the shorter hemlines—attractively.

Your feet work hard for you, and they deserve as much pampering as your hands. Give yourself a pedicure as frequently as you manicure.

Soak your feet in warm water, then scrub them with a stiff brush to stimulate circulation and remove dead cuticle and calluses. (If calluses are pronounced, use a pumice.) Dry briskly, with particular care around nails and between the toes.

Nail Care

Thumb on instep, fingers on sole, massage each foot with cream. Rub oil around the nails and push back the cuticle with a towel. Don't clip the cuticle if you can possibly avoid it.

Cut the nails straight across, and not so short that the soft flesh is exposed. Curving down into the corners is simply asking for ingrown nails. Now wash away the oil, and file off the rough edges with an emery board.

If you polish your toenails, use a shade that matches your fingernails. Cotton balls between your toes will avoid smudging. Polish over the end of the nails, as this smoothness protects your stockings.

Like the rest of your body, your feet need relaxation—shoes off, feet up—and exercise. In the summer, go barefoot on sandy beaches; otherwise, exercise barefoot at home.

Do, of course, wear shoes that fit. Stand and walk correctly. Good posture helps to keep feet straight.

Leg Lines

Legs benefit, too, from good posture, exercise and relaxation. One good tip for keeping them shapely is to relax, whenever possible, with feet higher than head.

You can slim your thighs and calves with massage, this way: lie on your back and lift one leg high; gently pull with your hands on the leg muscles, working them in circular motion. Then do the same with the other leg.

To improve calves, try this exercise: stand behind a chair holding onto its back. Feet together, slowly lower yourself to a deep knee bend, staying on the balls of your feet and holding your back straight. Don't squat on your heels—this is not the idea. Balancing in the raised heel position strengthens the muscles of the legs and slims their contours.

Tomorrow—Slimming hints for hips.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Jim Tatum To Direct All-Stars

To Lead Collegians Against Pros Aug. 13

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—Jim Tatum, coach of the Maryland team voted tops in the 1953 Associated Press football poll, today was named to direct the college All-Stars against the Detroit Lions at Soldier Field the night of Aug. 13.

Jim Tatum

Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune which sponsors the All-Star game, said that while Tatum will be in command of the collegians, his specific job will be to prepare the defenses against the Lions.

One of his All-Star assistants, Charles Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, will be in charge of the collegiate offense. Several more assistants, from the Far West and Midwest, will be named later.

Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners defeated Tatum's Maryland Terrapins, 7-0 in last New Year's Orange Bowl game at Miami for Maryland's sole loss of the season.

Tiger Jack Fox Drops Dead Of Heart Attack

Former Light-Heavy Fighter Dies Broke

SPOKANE, Wash., April 6 (AP)—Tiger Jack Fox, who made a small fortune as a lightheavyweight boxer and came close to the title in 1939, dropped dead of a heart attack today, broke and half paralyzed.

The Tiger collapsed at the door of a 25-cent theater where he went almost daily to rest a weary body left crippled by a stroke two years ago. He was dead when help arrived.

His was the familiar story of a great athlete who spent money freely while he made it, wouldn't quit when the time was right and wound up a pitiful figure helped along by friends who knew him when.

The lean Negro came out of an Indiana blacksmith shop in 1932 and in 14 years as an able lightheavyweight won 111 fights, 73 by knockouts, and lost just 14. His 24 first round KO's were second in number only to Jack Dempsey.

Williams Says 1954 His Last In Baseball

NEW YORK, April 6 (INS)—Ted Williams said today in a Saturday Evening Post article that this will be his last year in baseball.

The Boston Red Sox slugger said he had made up his mind to retire even before he broke his collarbone last month.

Terps Win, 11-5

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 6 (AP)—Tom Baden's second homer in as many days featured a seven-run lucky seventh as Maryland defeated William and Mary 11-5 for its third straight victory of the baseball campaign.

The visitors had a 3-2 lead before Maryland tied it up in the sixth. The Terps then sent ace pitcher Connie Hemphill to the mound to replace Warren Grafton and the Indians were shut out in their half of the seventh.

Eight-Run Outburst In Third Frame Wins For Garrett Outfit

KEYSER, April 6—Making its 1954 debut under its new coach, Leonard Ritchie, Southern High School of Oakland, Md., defeated Keyser High School's baseball team in the opening game for both schools today before a large crowd at Newcome Field. The score was 11-5.

An eight-run explosion in the third inning put the game on ice for the Garrett countians.

Coach Fred "Tack" Clark used 22 players in an effort to pull the game out of the fire but the home team was unable to overcome the big lead given Fred Colaw in the first three frames.

Colaw let Keyser down with seven hits, two of which were credited to Tom Melody. Bob Glaze and Fred Colaw shared four of Oakland's eight safeties. Tim Sisler and Howard Sweitzer of Oakland and Melody of Keyser rapped three-baggers.

Colaw struck out six. Eddie Smith, starting pitcher, was charged with the defeat. He was followed to the hillock by Roland, Raines, Dave Blackburn and George Rosedale.

Victors Get 18 Hits, Rosen Wallops Homer

NEW ORLEANS, April 6 (AP) — The Cleveland Indians made it three in a row over the New York Giants by winning 10-5 before a crowd of 8,009 today.

A two-run homer by Al Rosen, the American League's most valuable player, broke a 2-all tie in the fifth inning and put the Indians ahead to stay.

The Tribe piled up a total of 18 hits, with first baseman Luke Easter collecting four singles.

Early Wynn, who is expected to pitch the regular season opener for the Indians, went the first seven innings, and, though belted for 11 hits, received credit for the victory.

Ruben Gomez, Giant starter, was plastered with the defeat. Gomez worked six innings, with Al Corwin and George Spencer finishing up.

The Giants had a rough day in the field, committing four errors. Three of them came on a single play in the eighth inning when right-fielder Don Mueller fumbled Luke Easter's single and second baseman Dave Williams and Spencer chipped in with wild throws.

Mt. Savage Asks For 15-Cent Special Tax Rate

Street Lighting Funds Provided

A resolution was received yesterday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners from the Mt. Savage Special Taxing Area setting the tax rate for street lights in that community at 15 cents per $100 of assessable property.

The assessable valuation of property in Mt. Savage is $820,000. The 15-cent rate will provide $1,250 for street lighting for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Piedmont Hears Progress Report On Federal Bill

Measure Awaits Senate Approval

PIEDMONT — A measure has passed the House of Representatives in Washington which would provide Piedmont and other cities planning to construct sewage systems one-third of the funds needed for engineering work in the building of such facilities.

The bill, which would provide one-third Federal funds for engineering costs, is now before the U. S. Senate, according to a telegram from John R. Williams of the Falls Church, Va., engineering firm of Johnson and Williams. The telegram was read of the Monday evening meeting of Mayor Allan Hill and City Council.

Williams conferred with the Mayor and City Council here and Mayor W. D. Biddinger, J. H. Simmons, town attorney and O. R. Poling, former mayor, representing the Town of Ridgeley.

The state is urging that the city construct a sewage system. The bill now before the U. S. Senate would lend the communities the money for surveys. When the preliminary survey is made and application aproved the federal government would pay the engineering firm one third of the cost of the survey. When the final survey is made the federal government would pay the firm the other two thirds of their charges.

The city would not be required to repay this money to the federal government until they began the construction of the project.

The City Clerk, Ormond Ledlow, was authorized to advise the Johnson and Williams firm that at this time they did not think it wise to obligate the town for the amount of money that might be involved without having better concensus about the matter.

The letter also stated appreciation for the cooperation of the engineering firm in the assistance they have given the town about the sewage problem they are faced with.

Eighty To Start Play In Masters Golf Tourney Thursday

Hogan Will Defend Title In 18th Event

No Player Has Won Tourney At Augusta Twice In Succession

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—If you discount Ben Hogan's chances for an unprecedented repeat victory, about half the 80 golfers in the field automatically become eligible for selection as possible winners in the 18th Masters tournament.

But you never can discount Hogan. That's one of the things that makes picking a winner difficult.

There probably hasn't been a time since the Masters was instituted in 1934 that one man has dominated the field the way Hogan does now.

Play Starts Thursday

Ben hasn't been out grubbing for the weekly purses like most of the 60 or so professionals who'll start play Thursday. That might count against anyone else, but Hogan has his own ways of sharpening his game for competition.

He has been here more than a week, practicing diligently over the Augusta National course.

The strictly unofficial reports of his scores on practice rounds indicate he's shooting the same kind of golf that he did a year ago when he set the tournament record of 274.

But no player ever has won the Masters twice in succession. And only one, Jimmy Demaret, ever has achieved the third victory Hogan is aiming for.

All but two of the other winner winners are on hand. They all must be conceded a chance, along with such noted non-winners as Sam Snead.

Snead is another player like Hogan who never can be counted out, even though he isn't "tournament hard" now. The semi-retired slugger from West Virginia hasn't played much competitive golf this winter, but he went down to Panama in January and fired a winning 271.

Snead Has Won Twice

Snead has won the Masters twice and there's probably nothing he'd like better than to make it three and at the same time get even with Hogan for the licking Ben gave him in the Open last year.

THEY'RE FAVORITES IN 18th ANNUAL MASTERS GOLF

Jimmy Demaret | Ben Hogan | Sam Snead

FORMER WINNERS of the Masters Golf tourney, Jimmy Demaret, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan rule as the favorites in the 18th annual links classic at Augusta, Ga., April 8-11. Demaret is a three-time winner and Snead and Hogan are two-time winners. Hogan is the defending champion, having set a new tourney record of 274 last year. (International)

Ted Williams May Return To Majors May 1

Broken Collarbone Is Healing Fast

By WHITNEY MARTIN

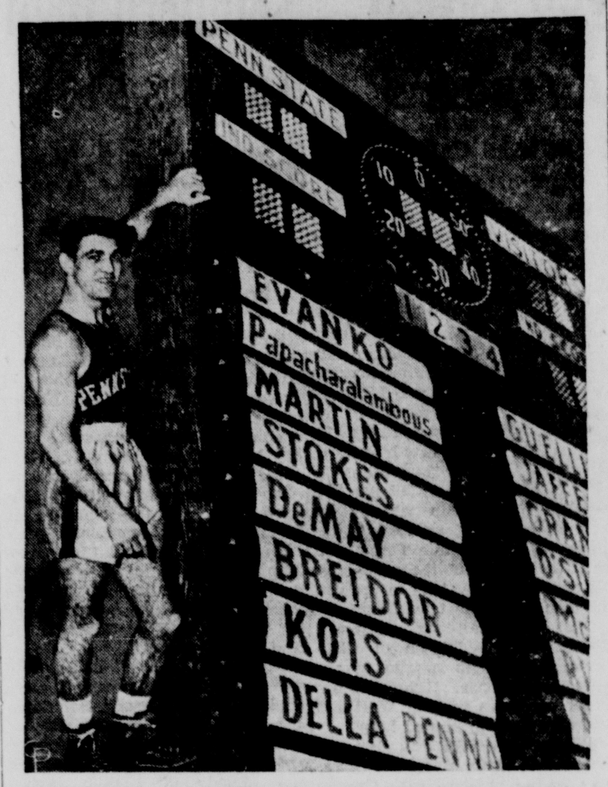

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Despite gloomy predictions, there is a better than fair chance that Ted Williams' name will be in a Boston Red Sox box score about May 1.

Maybe not as a starter, but as a pinch hitter showing at least a reasonable facsimile of the power that has made him an awesome figure when he steps to the plate.

His broken collar bone has been healing so fast it is not improbable he will be taking light workouts in Fenway Park in 10 days or less, and by April 21 he should be swinging at the ball fairly hard.

He is due for another checkup and X-ray tomorrow, probably his last. After getting this once-over he will be on his own, with the problem of others most interested in his welfare being to hold him down. He's fizzing with energy and enthusiasm.

Oh Mein PAPAcharalambous!

WHAT'S in a name? Well, Harry Papacharalambous, featherweight boxer on the Penn State college team, certainly is no favorite of the intertype operators in newspaper composing rooms but he is a favorite of Lions' fans. He will compete in the National Collegiate boxing championships at State College, Pa., April 8-10. (International)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 6 (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 17-10 today in an exhibition contest marked by 37 hits—nine of them home runs.

The Athletics collected 21 hits off Pirate hurlers Don Dangleis, Nelson King and Lino Donoso. The Pirates gathered 16 hits off Alex Kellner who went the distance.

The A's Gus Zernial and Bill Renna and the Pirates' Frank Thomas each swatted two round-trippers. Three other Pirates — Preston Ward, Dick Cole and Jack Shepard—got the balance of the homers.

Yankees Win 7-2 Over Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 6 (AP) — After trailing for seven innings, the New York Yankees unleashed a six-run rally to defeat the Greensboro Patriots today 7-2.

Paul Aylward, who relieved Clair Parkin for Greensboro in the seventh, took the brunt of the punishment, which included a three-run homer by Irv Noren.

Bob Grim pitched seven innings for the Yankees and got credit for the victory although Artie Schallock, pint-sized southpaw, finished.

Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, April 6—(INS)—We felt confident Bobo Olson would beat Kid Gavilan.

We feel even more confident that in his next title defense Olso will knock out Joey Giardello.

While it lasts—probably 10 or 12 rounds—this should be more exciting than the Gavilan fight. Giardello may hit a little harder than Gavilan, but his midriff isn't too strong and that's where Olso will throw most of his punches.

Olso will have to chase Giardello because Joey is inclined to backtrack a lot when anybody starts pounding his spare ribs as Olso surely will.

We shuder to think of the amount of unadulterated tripe the International Boxing Club tub-thumpers are going to hand out before this fight.

You will be told about the "dynamic" challenger and his "murderous" left hook—but nothing about Olso probably throwing a lot of stiff straight rights over the left hook—and all about how Giardello stopped Willie Trop in seven rounds.

And that brings us to some more of the facts of life, especially that one pertaining to easy or synthetic or phony knock-outs.

Pay no attention to a "great" record of KO's.

Most early career knockouts are at the expense of bums your Aunt Emma could flatten.

These records look better in the book than they did in the ring. Thus you will find some in Giardello's early career. But last year against stiffer opposition he fought eight times. He won six by decision and lost two to Billy Graham and Johnny Saxton and not a kayo in the lot.

The Willie Troy he flattened was a raw novice who didn't know the first rudiments of boxing.

Probably the greatest string of phony knock-outs ever scored was by Primo Carnera in 1930.

That, you will recall, was in the heydey of prohibition and Primo was controlled by a gang of racket boys. Poor Muscle-bound Primo must have been amazed at the ease of his "victories."

The mobsters took him across the U. S. as a build-up toward a title fight and Primo scored 22 consecutive knock-outs. Seven were in the first round, seven more in the second round and none went more than six rounds.

Anybody who was big and could breathe was shoved in to show his aquatic skill against Primo and Major Sammy Lee could have taken lessons from some of them.

Eventually the mob had Primo in with Champion Jack Sharkey and Primo won the title by a kayo in six rounds. To this day the fight mob refers to that one as the kayo of the invisible punch.

On that kayo tour Primo thought he had earned about $300,000 for himself but when the mobsters got through figuring, it appeared poor Primo had earned nothing but experience, which has little value in buying groceries.

Coleman, Pillette Or Larsen To Hurl

NEW ORLEANS, April 6 (AP)—Manager Jimmy Dykes said today he knows who's going to be everywhere except on the mound when the Baltimore Orioles open their American League season next Tuesday in Detroit.

"It'll be either Joe Coleman, Duane Pillette or Don Larsen," he said of his starting pitcher.

Picking the first pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles in the American League in 52 years is expected to be only the beginning of a season of mound problems for Dykes

The pitching staff which won only a total of 54 games as the St. Louis Browns last year is basicaly the same. The two veteran acquisitions are Coleman and Vern Bickford. Coleman won three for the Philadelphia Athletics and Bickford two for Milwaukee last year.

The only rookie likely to be carried is Jehosie Heard, a little Negro southpaw who won 16 for Portland in 1953. He has been hit soundly in recent spring exhibition games with the Chicago Cubs.

Dykes listed the rest of his lineup as Bobby Young, 2b; Eddie Waitkus, 1b, Gil Coan, cf; Vic Wertz, rf; Sam Mele, lf; Vern Stephens, 3b; Billy Hunter, ss; and Clint Courtney, c.

Judson And Zuverink Yield Only Four Hits

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 6 (AP)—The Cincinnati batting barrage blasted 20 hits, including three homers, off Washington today for a lopsided 18-1 victory.

Howie Judson held the Senators to four hits in six innings, and rookie George Zuverink, who pitched for Indianapolis last season, reeled off three hitless frames.

Bobby Adams led off with a homer in the first, added his second in the fifth, the same frame Ted Kluszewski contributed his circuit blow.

Washington's only marker was a home run by Ed Fitzgerald.

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 6 (AP) — Maryland scored its 19th straight lacrosse victory over Harvard today, downing the Crimson stickmen 15-5.

Maryland, led by Charlie Wicker and Charlie Longest with three each, opened the scoring on an unassisted backhand shot by Dick Corrigan and the Terps ran the score to 6-0 before Harvard got its first goal, Lloyd Aiello scoring with less than half a minute to play in the half.

Rennie Smith scored twice for the Terps in the first half and assisted on another. George Corrigan and Wicker also hurled two into the net and Wicker and Longest made it 7-1 as the half ended.

It was Maryland's third straight win. Harvard has won one and lost one.

SHREVEPORT, La., April 6 (AP)—Vic Raschi and Stu Miller combined pitching talents today and Rip Repulski and Stan Musial bat power as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Chicago White Sox 9-2.

Raschi and Miller allowed seven hits between them, Raschi starting the exhibition game and leaving after six innings with an 8-1 lead. Repulski started the 13-hit Card assault by socking Sox starter Jocko Thompson's third pitch over the left field wall. It was Rip's fourth homer of the spring. Musial got his roundtripper with two men on base during the four-run St. Louis sixth.

NBA Title Series Resumes Thursday

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 6 (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers, confident of winning another world basketball championship, and the Syracuse Nationals, hoping to get its injured stars back in business, both worked out today for their NBA championship tilt Thursday.

Laker Coach John Kundla, with a two to one lead in the best-of-seven series, aimed his workout at keeping his favored club in the pink.

Al Cervi of the Nats worked toward getting five of his players out of the black and blue. Cervi said he expected George King, suffering from a broken wrist, to be able to play in the fourth game of the series.

He added that Dolph Schayes had a new light cast on his broken wrist and probably would see considerable action. Earl Lloyd has a broken bone in his right hand.

Davey And Dreyer Clash On Coast

OAKLAND, Calif., April 6 (AP)—Chuck Davey today ruled a strong favorite to win his 10-round nationally televised fight tomorrow night against Gerry Dreyer, former British empire welterweight champion.

But local boxing followers believed Davey may have all he can handle and more when he faces Dreyer in Oakland Auditorium.

Speed and boxing skill favor Davey, but in workouts Dreyer appeared the stronger of the two.

Davey's record shows 45 contests, with only four losses and two draws. Dreyer has had 42 fights, winning 36, losing 4 and with 2 draws.

The fight will be televised over CBS at 10 p.m. (EST).

Porterhouse May Not Run In Derby

LOS ANGELES, April 6 (AP)—Porterhouse, champion 2-year-old colt of 1953 and favored to win the Kentucky Derby May 1, may not be able to start in the derby, his owner said today.

Mrs. M. E. Person said the fleet colt suffered severe stone bruises on both front feet within 10 days and has been limping badly. He is at Keeneland track, Lexington, Ky., being conditioned for the derby.

Bobby Dykes Wins

Kiner Belts Homer As Cubs Lose, 13-2

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 6 (AP)—With Don Larsen pitching the distance and allowing only five hits, the Baltimore Orioles pummeled the Chicago Cubs 13-2 today.

Don Lenhardt highlighted an 18-hit Oriole attack with a two-run homer in the sixth inning, when Baltimore scored five runs to zoom out of reach. The blow came off Howie Pollet, third of four Cub hurlers, none of them effective.

The Chicago club got one score on Ralph Kiner's homer in the fourth.

Walter F. Kettell of the bureau said 27 of the city's most influential men will serve on a committee campaigning for the game.

Merrill C. Meigs, executive vice president of the Hearst Corp., will serve as chairman.

The Army-Navy game of 1926—a 21-21 thriller—dedicated Soldier Field in Chicago and drew a crowd of 111,000. The game has been played mainly in the East since then.

SPARTANSBURG, S. C., April 6 (AP)—A 475-foot double by Del Ennis and Willie Jones' 9th inning home run were the scoring punch as the Philadelphia Phillies came on with a late inning rush to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-0, today.

Ennis doubled home Richie Ashburn and Earl Torgeson in the eighth inning after they had singled and walked. Jones whacked his home run off former National Leaguer Ralph Branca in the 9th inning.

Murry Dickson and Jim Konstanty gave the Tigers four hits each.

Kellogg's Condition Reported Critical

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 6 (AP) — Junius Kellogg, the Harlem Globetrotter who broke open the 1951 gambling scandal in college basketball, still lay near death today from injuries suffered in a traffic accident last Friday.

Attendants at the Veterans Administration Hospital here listed Kellogg's condition as "critical," and said his chances for eventual recovery remain "poor."

Kellogg and four other professional basketball players were hurt when a car in which they were riding overturned. The other four were not hurt seriously.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 6 (INS) — At Dr. Mark Rabwin's party honoring Sir Alexander and Lady Fleming, I cornered Dore Schary to ask him the inevitable question, "What's new?" He laughed and said, "Well, we just signed Eleanor Parker as the star of 'Interrupted Melody.' "

This is the story of Marjorie Lawrence, the Metropolitan Opera star who was struck with polio at the height of her career, but who later bravely sang from her wheel chair. She's often visited in Hollywood and she's a charming woman.

"What about the songs, will Marjorie sing them?" I asked.

But about this Dore was very evasive and said, "Well, perhaps some of them."

Originally, "Interrupted Melody" was bought for Greer Garson and Producer Jack Cummings has the script in readiness.

Goes without saying that 20th is well satisfied with Edmund Purdom in "The Egyptian," or else their two million suit against Marlon Brando never would have been settled. True, Brando will pay some of the expense incurred when he walked out on the picture.

There are apparently no hard feelings as he does get his heart's wish, the chance to play Napoleon in "Desiree." Now the question is, will Marlon be around when the shooting time comes?

The death of his mother had a great sobering effect on the high strung young actor. And he has been visiting a psychiatrist, so he may have had his lesson. According to his friends, it's a strange feeling of fright that affects him when he walks out.

Lost: One diary, which can only be of interest to its owner, Jean Wallace. She said she had it on the plane coming back from Europe and it mysteriously disappeared.

"I told everything," she said, "everything that happened on our trip."

"Any secrets Cornell shouldn't hear?" I asked her.

"No, but I told about things that could only be of interest to Cornel and me, and you don't like people reading your life story."

Jean said that Franchot Tone is coming to take the two boys on their Easter vacation.

I pinned Cecil B. De Mille down after I heard he had looked at "Man With a Million," the Gregory Peck picture, and had greatly admired Jane Griffiths.

"Is she going to have one of the top roles in "The Ten Commandments?" I asked C. B.

"No," he said, "she's a beautiful girl and a very good actress, and I would like to use her in another picture, but I cannot seem to feel she's right for the role I had in mind for her."

C. B. said "Man With a Million" is a very funny picture. It's based on Mark Twain's story, "Million Dollar Note."

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lana Turner turned down a Lux program to go with Lex Barker to the Mojave Desert on location for "Nevada Gold." And boy, is it hot there!

Singer Patti Page of "Tennessee Waltz," is saving all her waltzes for Art Fellows, to whom she is reported engaged.

Spike and Helen Jones are putting on the cutest Easter program with the young fry participating—the two and four year old Jones children are hosts. A dwarf will play Peter Cotton Tail, who leads a 14 "carrot" band. Spike invited me to come to see the children, and I hope I can.

At the dinner Milton and Kay Pickman gave honoring Myrt Blum and his bride, Peter Ustinov said their baby will be born in Hollywood.

What a nice thing for Cobina Wright to do. She gave her housekeeper, Elisabeth Nicol, and Felicien Philippe a wedding. They had champagne, a cake and all the trimmings. Judge Joseph Marchetti performed the ceremony before a flower-bedecked altar, with Cobina as matron of honor and Tony Longinotti as best man.

All of Hollywood goes to the Beaux Arts Ball at the El Mirador Hotel in Palm Springs. Lily Pons is queen and Ray Ryan King. The hotel will be transformed into a "Night in Spain."

John Wayne's TV test is getting raves — but is that surprising?

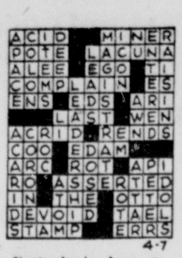

A Charley Foy twosome, Jack Dempsey and Helen Gurley.

While Jack Entratter was in town, he signed Peggy Lee for an engagement at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas. It's nice that Peggy is feeling better and is doing so well.

That's all today. See you tomorri.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Shorter hemlines and new fashions in shoes and stockings make grooming of feet and legs important.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Yesterday I told you about fashions with leg and foot interest. Now let's plunge, feet first, into plans for grooming legs and feet so that you can wear those new fashions—and the shorter hemlines—attractively.

Your feet work hard for you, and they deserve as much pampering as your hands. Give yourself a pedicure as frequently as you manicure.

Soak your feet in warm water, then scrub them with a stiff brush to stimulate circulation and remove dead cuticle and calluses. (If calluses are pronounced, use a pumice.) Dry briskly, with particular care around nails and between the toes.

Nail Care

Thumb on instep, fingers on sole, massage each foot with cream. Rub oil around the nails and push back the cuticle with a towel. Don't clip the cuticle if you can possibly avoid it.

Cut the nails straight across, and not so short that the soft flesh is exposed. Curving down into the corners is simply asking for ingrown nails. Now wash away the oil, and file off the rough edges with an emery board.

If you polish your toenails, use a shade that matches your fingernails. Cotton balls between your toes will avoid smudging. Polish over the end of the nails, as this smoothness protects your stockings.

Like the rest of your body, your feet need relaxation—shoes off, feet up—and exercise. In the summer, go barefoot on sandy beaches; otherwise, exercise barefoot at home.

Do, of course, wear shoes that fit. Stand and walk correctly. Good posture helps to keep feet straight.

Leg Lines

Legs benefit, too, from good posture, exercise and relaxation. One good tip for keeping them shapely is to relax, whenever possible, with feet higher than head.

You can slim your thighs and calves with massage, this way: lie on your back and lift one leg high; gently pull with your hands on the leg muscles, working them in circular motion. Then do the same with the other leg.

To improve calves, try this exercise: stand behind a chair holding onto its back. Feet together, slowly lower yourself to a deep knee bend, staying on the balls of your feet and holding your back straight. Don't squat on your heels—this is not the idea. Balancing in the raised heel position strengthens the muscles of the legs and slims their contours.

Tomorrow—Slimming hints for hips.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Maryland's First Triple Dead Heat Is Run At Laurel

Three-Way Tie For 3rd Place Marks Opener

Deadlock Is Fifth In U. S.; Track Pays Off On Five Horses

LAUREL, Md., April 6 (AP) — Maryland's first triple dead heat and fifth in the United States since use of the photo finish camera about 20 years ago occurred today in the first race at Laurel.

The three-way tie was for third place and marked the second time a track paid off on five horses. Laurel had to hastily paint signs to show payoffs on two of them on the odds board.

It almost turned out to be the first four-way tie in racing history when Milldale missed by only a nose getting into the deadlock for third.

The three noses on the wire belonged to Noble Idea, Weird Music and Happy Bull. Noble Idea paid $6.40, Weird Music $2.80 and Happy Bull $3.60.

Hackensack was virtually overlooked as winner of the race among 12 horses.

The first and only other triple deadheat for show was at Bay Meadows in 1937.

Laurel racing fans have had more than their quota of dead heats this spring. Prior to today's triple, there had been two-way ties for first in two races and a two-way deadlock for third in 15 days of racing.

Two Yankees Get Treatment At Hospital

Robinson, McDougald Go North With Team

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 6 (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees received a triple scare today when first baseman Eddie Robinson was hospitalized with a kidney attack and infielder Gil McDougald and pitcher Allie Reynolds were hit by balls in practice.

Everything turned out all right, however, even though Robinson and McDougald spent a short time in the hospital.

Both were discharged after X-rays and treatment and permitted to continue the northward journey with the team. Reynolds sustained a knee injury but didn't require medical attention.

Robinson complained of kidney pains when the Yankees arrived here from Charlotte this morning and was sent to the hospital immediately. The trouble was diagnosed as a kidney stone.

He obtained relief a couple of hours after being admitted and Dr. C. T. Whittington said it was probable that he had passed the stone. The 32-year-old infielder had a previous history of the ailment, having had such an attack while barnstorming in Honolulu last fall.

McDougald was hit on the right side of the rear of the head by a pitch in batting practice and suffered a concussion. Jim McDonald threw the ball. X-rays showed no damage had been done.

Reynolds was hurt while pitching batting practice. A liner from the bat of catcher Charley Silvera struck him on the left knee.

Marciano And Charles Train In Catskills

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles will train at Catskill Mountain resorts only 14 miles apart.

Charles' co-managers Tom Tannas and Jake Mintz today selected Kutsher's Country Club at Monticello, N. Y. as the spot where the former heavyweight king will prepare for his title fight with Marciano at Yankee Stadium June 17.

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

THEY TELL these, and if you've heard 'em before, don't carry on:

• • • •

YOGI BERRA, they say, was playing golf one day this spring and the Yankee catcher was doing pretty well.

After he had reached the seventh hole he turned to his partner and said:

"Say, ya know, I'm really playing OUT of my head today."

• • • •

ED LOPAT, the Yankee lefthander, was hit hard by a group of rookies during a batting practice session at the St. Pete camp of the champs.

When he walked off the field, the Yankee physician, Dr. Sidney Gaynor, yelled at Ed:

"Hey, Lopat, they really shellacked you out there today."

"Think nothing of it," was Ed's retort. "Someone has to build up their confidence."

• • • •

THREE sportswriters were standing on the training field at the Reds' camp at Tampa when a Cincinnati writer turned around and looked toward the stands.

"Wow," he exclaimed, "look at that beautiful gal in the sweater over there."

"Don't look too long," warned a Pittsburgh writer in the group. "That's my wife."

• • • •

THE UMPIRE was having a tough time with one of the batters but he kept his temper.

After he called a second strike on the batter, the explosion came:

"Why, ya bum," the batter yelled, "that was a ball if I ever saw one."

Came the next pitch. The ump called it a strike and the batter tossed his bat up in the air.

"Ya blind so-and-so," stormed the batter. "They ought to toss you out of the league."

"Mebbe so," came back the ump, "but if that bat comes down, you're out of the game!"

• • • •

OH, WELL, maybe it's that spring fever.

Loughlin To Direct Athletics At Navy

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — Capt. C. Elliott Loughlin, one of the Navy's outstanding athletes in the 1930s, is the Naval Academy's next director of athletics.

The Navy Department said today in Washington that Loughlin will replace Capt. Ian C. Eddy when relieved as commander of Submarine Squadron 3 at San Diego, Calif.

Changes in the position usually take place in early summer, and that's when Academy officials expect Loughlin to report.

The Navy Department said also that Eddy, completing the customary three-year tour as athletic director, will enter the hospital here for treatment and observation. Further assignment depends on a finding that he is fit for continued active duty.

Bowed Tendon Puts Big Crest Out Of Derby

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Harry F. Guggenheim announced today that another of his Kentucky Derby eligibles, Big Crest, had bowed a tendon in training and would be unable to run in the Louisville classic May 1.

Like three other of the Cain Hoy stable's crack thoroughbreds who suffered a similar fate, the colt probably will have to be retired from racing and placed in stud.

Guggenheim's future book derby favorite, Turn-To, suffered a bowed tendon March 24 and yesterday the Cain Hoy owner announced the colt would be sent to stud.

Black Star, a three-year-old bought from the Aga Khan, had a similar accident during the past winter at Hialeah.

Panthers Beat West Virginia Deaf, 15-1; Three Belt Homers

Little Capon Bridge High School provided the big surprise yesterday when Coach Clifford Towles' aggregation knocked off its Hampshire county rival, Romney High School, finalist in last year's state tournament, in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Romney by the score of 11 to 2.

The victory was the second straight for Capon Bridge in the West Virginia circuit. Coach Towles' tossers defeated the West Virginia School for the Deaf on April 1 by the score of 20-9.

Glen Anderson went all the way for the Bridge nine, scattered six hits fired the third strike past ten batsmen.

Capon scored its runs in bunches, collecting five in the first inning and six in the fourth, at the expense of Ray Haines. Romney counted twice in the third frame.

Clarence Saville of Capon Bridge and Eddie Hartman and Michael, of Romney, garnered two hits each.

Capon Bridge gained an even break in its two-game series with Romney last season. The teams play again on April 27.

Franklin Whips Lions

Coach Bob Hartman's Franklin Tigers from Pendleton County made their season debut in the P.V.C. yesterday by routing the West Virginia School for the Deaf at Romney to the tune of 15 to 1.

Franklin belted the offerings of McWilliams and Popovich for 16 safeties, including circuit belts by Harry Kniceley in the second, Jim Propst in the third and Gary Simmons in the seventh inning.

Harlan Dahmer and Carl Puffenbarger sparked the Panthers' attack with three blows each. Sixteen Franklin players saw action and eleven got one or more hits.

Jack Depoy limited the Deaf School stickers to three hits, one a double by Ronnie Davis, and struck out ten. Dave McWilliams, who pitched the first six innings and yielded 13 hits, was charged with the loss. Johnny Popovich finished on the rubber for the Lions.

Jim Tatum To Direct All-Stars

To Lead Collegians Against Pros Aug. 13

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—Jim Tatum, coach of the Maryland team voted tops in the 1953 Associated Press football poll, today was named to direct the college All-Stars against the Detroit Lions at Soldier Field the night of Aug. 13.

Jim Tatum

Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune which sponsors the All-Star game, said that while Tatum will be in command of the collegians, his specific job will be to prepare the defenses against the Lions.

One of his All-Star assistants, Charles Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma, will be in charge of the collegiate offense. Several more assistants, from the Far West and Midwest, will be named later.

Wilkinson's Oklahoma Sooners defeated Tatum's Maryland Terrapins, 7-0 in last New Year's Orange Bowl game at Miami for Maryland's sole loss of the season.

Tiger Jack Fox Drops Dead Of Heart Attack

Former Light-Heavy Fighter Dies Broke

SPOKANE, Wash., April 6 (AP)—Tiger Jack Fox, who made a small fortune as a lightheavyweight boxer and came close to the title in 1939, dropped dead of a heart attack today, broke and half paralyzed.

The Tiger collapsed at the door of a 25-cent theater where he went almost daily to rest a weary body left crippled by a stroke two years ago. He was dead when help arrived.

His was the familiar story of a great athlete who spent money freely while he made it, wouldn't quit when the time was right and wound up a pitiful figure helped along by friends who knew him when.

The lean Negro came out of an Indiana blacksmith shop in 1932 and in 14 years as an able light-heavyweight won 111 fights, 73 by knockouts, and lost just 14. His 24 first round KO's were second in number only to Jack Dempsey.

Williams Says 1954 His Last In Baseball

NEW YORK, April 6 (INS)—Ted Williams said today in a Saturday Evening Post article that this will be his last year in baseball.

The Boston Red Sox slugger said he had made up his mind to retire even before he broke his collarbone last month.

Terps Win, 11-5

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 6 (AP)—Tom Baden's second homer in as many days featured a seven-run lucky seventh as Maryland defeated William and Mary 11-5 for its third straight victory of the baseball campaign.

The visitors had a 3-2 lead before Maryland tied it up in the sixth. The Terps then sent ace pitcher Connie Hemphill to the mound to replace Warren Grafton and the Indians were shut out in their half of the seventh.

Southern High Tossers Beat Keyser, 11-5

Eight-Run Outburst In Third Frame Wins For Garrett Outfit

KEYSER, April 6—Making its 1954 debut under its new coach, Leonard Ritchie, Southern High School of Oakland, Md., defeated Keyser High School's baseball team in the opening game for both schools today before a large crowd at Newcome Field. The score was 11-5.

An eight-run explosion in the third inning put the game on ice for the Garrett countians.

Coach Fred "Tack" Clark used 22 players in an effort to pull the game out of the fire but the home team was unable to overcome the big lead given Fred Colaw in the first three frames.

Colaw let Keyser down with seven hits, two of which were credited to Tom Melody. Bob Glaze and Fred Colaw shared four of Oakland's eight safeties. Tim Sisler and Howard Sweitzer of Oakland and Melody of Keyser rapped three-baggers.

Colaw struck out six. Eddie Smith, starting pitcher, was charged with the defeat. He was followed to the hillock by Roland, Raines, Dave Blackburn and George Rosedale.

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

(While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be continued by a number of guest writers. This one is by Bing Crosby.)

Dilemma

I snapped like a badger at this chance to do a guest column for John Crosby—not only because I'm a frustrated columnist, but because I am a charter member of that ever increasing group who have felt the sting of his critical lash. I figure anything I can do to get him away to Europe and off our backs will be a great service. For a time, at least, we poor players can strut and grimace, bow and bask, secure in the knowledge that his vigilant and ruthless eye is "casing" bikinis and Beaujolais in the South of France. Liberace, for one, will be ecstatic.

Actually, I scarcely qualify as a guest columnist for John because he is a TV columnist, and my connection with this medium has been very fleeting to say the least. Just two short films made and released on the networks this season, and I must say received with something less than widespread approval. Although honestly I thought they were at least as good as some of the old Warner Brothers musical shorts made when Vitaphone first was used. I swear we gave it the full try and we probably will again—I hope with better success.

I asked John what he thought I should talk about, and he averred that there was some interest among the viewers as to what my plans for next year were likely to be—with relation to TV of course. Well honestly, I don't know. That's not a very newsy item, I appreciate, but at least it's true. Along this line I saw a story recently in the papers where I was quoted as saying "I dont' need TV"—misquoted, rather, as I certainly never said anything as smug or fatuous. TV is certainly a large part of show business. Maybe the way it's going lately it might be the largest, and if I am going to be in the entertainment field I will certainly have to grab a little of it here and there. Like any other entertainer, I like to be "on." Not as much as Hope, maybe, but some. With him, being "on" is a passionate hunger. I never knew him to turn down a chance to say a few words any place he can get more than two people to stand still for a minute, and if they'll laugh a little, he'll homestead.

But here is the thing with me. I'll be "half a C" come May next, and as I look back on it I see that I have been pretty busy for about 26 years. I don't want to appear modest or coy, but I have a gnawing fear of being "on" too long, of having someone say "oh, no—not him again!" I want to stay in action for a while, the good Lord willing, but I think audiences could hold still for maybe just a good movie now and then, without national apathy setting in.

To reduce it to sordid figures, I get $200,000 for a film, which takes about nine weeks to make. If I made nine TV films they would take about nine weeks and I would get $90,000. In the first case I would net $20,000 from the film after taxes, and from the TV I would net $9,000. So, as I say, I just don't know. It certainly gives one to think. There is lots of golfing, fishing, traveling to be done while I have the desire and am still able to do these things. And I have four teen-age boys, all with the usual built-in problems, some of them of major dimensions. Things that require my continuing attention. Seems as though you get one fellow straightened out and on the beam and another one goes over the wall. Sometimes I feel like going with him. So there is my dilemma. I guess I better make up my mind pretty soor, or everybody will lose interest, particularly the sponsors.

Now there have been some premature announcements of my imminent retirement — untrue of course. I would like to keep my hand in some phase of show business as long as I can get away with it. But I don't want to get involved in a yearly series of farewell appearances, like Eddie Leonars, or Melba, or Harry Lauder. (Putting myself in some pretty good company there, ain't I?)

There used to be an actor in vaudeville called Bob Ward. Bob used to do seven or eight minutes of songs, patter and parodies, but he never knew when to get off. If there was a single patron in the theater who could be milked into some demonstration of approval, such as light applause, Bob would stay on forever. One week in Boston he was followed on the bill by an act called "General Magano, Marksman and Trick Shot Expert." Closing night, the General wanted to make a train for New York so he could open there the next day, and he went to Ward and implored him to keep his act to reasonable length so the General could get on and do his stint and still make the train. Bob said he would, but when he got on, that old feeling hit him again, and he stayed on and on while the General fumed in the wings. He gesticulated, he hissed, and he beckoned, but it was useless. Finally he strode to the gun rack, selected a rifle, took aim and shot the heel right off of Ward's shoe. Ward's

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Barclay

LIES ARE HARD TO READ

PITY the poor defender. He does the best he can to guess what the other side is up to. That is not only during the play but while the bidding is on, if his own side has taken no part in it. The fellow who becomes the declarer, or his partner, may make some call along the way which is not based on possession of the cards it proclaims, but rather on lack of those cards. Its purpose may be to prevent the defenders from leading a certain suit. But it can be pretty hard to read some of the lies in that category.

	♠ 10 8 6 4 ♥ A 8 5 ♦ 9 8 6 ♣ A Q 2
♠ Q 5 ♥ Q J 10 6 ♦ 5 4 ♣ 10 9 7 4 3	N W E S	♠ J 2 ♥ K 9 2 ♦ A 3 2 ♣ K J 8 6 5
	♠ A K 9 7 3 ♥ 7 4 3 ♦ K Q J 10 7 ♣ None

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	6 ♠

Sometimes you hold the cards which enable you to figure out what somebody else is up to in the auction, but sometimes you don't. It was not too hard for North to guess his partner's cue-bid of 4-Hearts was probably for the purpose of steering the opening lead into diamonds. He himself had the heart A, so South's bid could not have been on the level unless he had a blank in hearts, which was none too likely since the not-vulnerable opponents were unable to overcall with a long holding. He could not visualize South as wanting a club lead, in view of his own acequeen. So to help steer the lead to diamonds, he himself cue-bid the clubs at the five level.

Note that West had no such way of figuring out what South's bid of 4-Hearts portended. He reckoned that worthy probably had four to the A-K, so eschewed his own otherwise natural lead of that suit to select the diamond 5. East won with the A and, since that was the only unbid suit, decided to return it instead of leading up to either of the aces he saw in dummy.

That made it easy for South. Winning with the diamond K, he then removed trumps in two rounds and discarded dummy's two losing hearts on diamonds to make his slam.

If the bidding had been normal, the heart lead would have caused South to be set two tricks. With the A removed at the outset, two crucial tricks would have awaited the defenders as soon as East won with his diamond topper.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A K 6 4 ♥ 8 4 3 ♦ 7 3 2 ♣ 8 7 3
♠ 9 3 ♥ K J 7 2 ♦ Q 9 6 5 ♣ 9 5 4	N W E S	♠ Q J 10 8 2 ♥ 10 9 ♦ K 8 4 ♣ 10 6 2
	♠ 7 5 ♥ A Q 6 5 ♦ A J 10 ♣ A K Q J

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

What is South's sound play for 3-No Trumps after West leads the spade 9?

Eighty To Start Play In Masters Golf Tourney Thursday

Hogan Will Defend Title In 18th Event

No Player Has Won Tourney At Augusta Twice In Succession

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 6 (AP)—If you discount Ben Hogan's chances for an unprecedented repeat victory, about half the 80 golfers in the field automatically become eligible for selection as possible winners in the 18th Masters tournament.

But you never can discount Hogan. That's one of the things that makes picking a winner difficult.

There probably hasn't been a time since the Masters was instituted in 1934 that one man has dominated the field the way Hogan does now.

Play Starts Thursday

Ben hasn't been out grubbing for the weekly purses like most of the 60 or so professionals who'll start play Thursday. That might count against anyone else, but Hogan has his own ways of sharpening his game for competition.

He has been here more than a week, practicing diligently over the Augusta National course.

The strictly unofficial reports of his scores on practice rounds indicate he's shooting the same kind of golf that he did a year ago when he set the tournament record of 274.

But no player ever has won the Masters twice in succession. And only one, Jimmy Demaret, ever has achieved the third victory Hogan is aiming for.

All but two of the other winter winners are on hand. They all must be conceded a chance, along with such noted non-winners as Sam Snead.

Snead is another player like Hogan who never can be counted out, even though he isn't "tournament hard" now. The semi-retired slugger from West Virginia hasn't played much competitive golf this winter, but he went down to Panama in January and fired a winning 271.

Snead Has Won Twice

Snead has won the Masters twice and there's probably nothing he'd like better than to make it three and at the same time get even with Hogan for the licking Ben gave him in the Open last year.

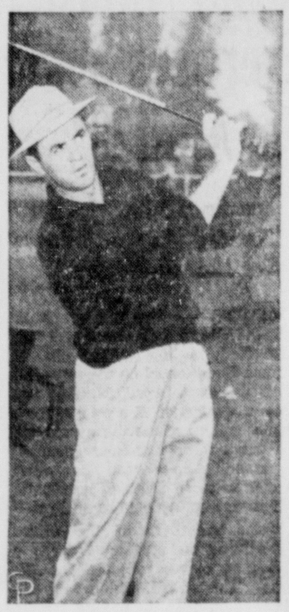

THEY'RE FAVORITES IN 18th ANNUAL MASTERS GOLF

Jimmy Demaret

Ben Hogan

Sam Snead

FORMER WINNERS of the Masters Golf tourney, Jimmy Demaret, Sam Snead and Ben Hogan rule as the favorites in the 18th annual links classic at Augusta, Ga., April 8-11. Demaret is a three-time winner and Snead and Hogan are two-time winners. Hogan is the defending champion, having set a new tourney record of 274 last year. (International)

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, April 6—(INS)—We felt confident Bobo Olson would beat Kid Gavilan.

We feel even more confident that in his next title defense Olso will knock out Joey Giardello.

While it lasts—probably 10 or 12 rounds—this should be more exciting than the Gavilan fight. Giardello may hit a little harder than Gavilan, but his midriff isn't too strong and that's where Olso will throw most of his punches.

Olso will have to chase Giardello because Joey is inclined to backtrack a lot when anybody starts pounding his spare ribs as Olso surely will.

We shuder to think of the amount of unadulterated tripe the International Boxing Club tub-thumpers are going to hand out before this fight.

You will be told about the "dynamic" challenger and his "murderous" left hook—but nothing about Olso probably throwing a lot of stiff straight rights over the left hook—and all about how Giardello stopped Willie Trop in seven rounds.

And that brings us to some more of the facts of life, especially that one pertaining to easy or synthetic or phony knock-outs.

Pay no attention to a "great" record of KO's.

Most early career knockouts are at the expense of bums your Aunt Emma could flatten.

These records look better in the book than they did in the ring. Thus you will find some in Giardello's early career. But last year against stiffer opposition he fought eight times. He won six by decision and lost two to Billy Graham and Johnny Saxton and not a kayo in the lot.

The Willie Troy he flattened was a raw novice who didn't know the first rudiments of boxing.

Probably the greatest string of phony knock-outs ever scored was by Primo Carnera in 1930.

That, you will recall, was in the heydey of prohibition and Primo was controlled by a gang of racket boys. Poor Muscle-bound Primo must have been amazed at the ease of his "victories."

The mobsters took him across the U. S. as a build-up toward a title fight and Primo scored 22 consecutive knock-outs. Seven were in the first round, seven more in the second round and none went more than six rounds.

Anybody who was big and could breathe was shoved in to show his aquatic skill against Primo and Major Sammy Lee could have taken lessons from some of them.

Eventually the mob had Primo in with Champion Jack Sharkey and Primo won the title by a kayo in six rounds. To this day the fight mob refers to that one as the kayo of the invisible punch.

On that kayo tour Primo thought he had earned about $300,000 for himself but when the mobsters got through figuring, it appeared poor Primo had earned nothing but experience, which has little value in buying groceries.

Dykes Knows All Starters But Baltimore's Twirler

Coleman, Pillette Or Larsen To Hurl

NEW ORLEANS, April 6 (AP)—Manager Jimmy Dykes said today he knows who's going to be everywhere except on the mound when the Baltimore Orioles open their American League season next Tuesday in Detroit.

"It'll be either Joe Coleman, Duane Pillette or Don Larsen," he said of his starting pitcher.

Picking the first pitcher for the Baltimore Orioles in the American League in 52 years is expected to be only the beginning of a season of mound problems for Dykes

The pitching staff which won only a total of 54 games as the St. Louis Browns last year is basicaly the same. The two veteran acquisitions are Coleman and Vern Bickford. Coleman won three for the Philadelphia Athletics and Bickford two for Milwaukee last year.

The only rookie likely to be carried is Jehosie Heard, a little Negro southpaw who won 16 for Portland in 1953. He has been hit soundly in recent spring exhibition games with the Chicago Cubs.

Dykes listed the rest of his lineup as Bobby Young, 2b; Eddie Waitkus, 1b, Gil Coan, cf; Vic Wertz, rf; Sam Mele, lf; Vern Stephens, 3b; Billy Hunter, ss; and Clint Courtney, c.

Davey And Dreyer Clash On Coast

OAKLAND, Calif., April 6 (AP)—Chuck Davey today ruled a strong favorite to win his 10-round nationally televised fight tomorrow night against Gerry Dreyer, former British empire welterweight champion.

But local boxing followers believed Davey may have all he can handle and more when he faces Dreyer in Oakland Auditorium.

Speed and boxing skill favor Davey, but in workouts Dreyer appeared the stronger of the two.

Davey's record shows 45 contests, with only four losses and two draws. Dreyer has had 42 fights, winning 36, losing 4 and with 2 draws.

The fight will be televised over CBS at 10 p.m. (EST).

Larsen Scores For Baltimore

Kiner Belts Homer As Cubs Lose, 13-2

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 6 (AP)—With Don Larsen pitching the distance and allowing only five hits, the Baltimore Orioles pummeled the Chicago Cubs 13-2 today.

Don Lenhardt highlighted an 18-hit Oriole attack with a two-run homer in the sixth inning, when Baltimore scored five runs to zoom out of reach. The blow came off Howie Pollet, third of four Cub hurlers, none of them effective.

The Chicago club got one score on Ralph Kiner's homer in the fourth.

Army-Navy Game Sought By Chicago

CHICAGO, April 6 (AP)—The Chicago Convention Bureau today opened a new drive to bring the Army-Navy football game to Chicago this fall.

Walter F. Kettell of the bureau said 27 of the city's most influential men will serve on a committee campaigning for the game.

Merrill C. Meigs, executive vice president of the Hearst Corp., will serve as chairman.

The Army-Navy game of 1926—a 21-21 thriller—dedicated Soldier Field in Chicago and drew a crowd of 111,000. The game has been played mainly in the East since then.

Kellogg's Condition Reported Critical

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 6 (AP)—Junius Kellogg, the Harlem Globetrotter who broke open the 1951 gambling scandal in college basketball, still lay near death today from injuries suffered in a traffic accident last Friday.

Attendants at the Veterans Administration Hospital here listed Kellogg's condition as "critical," and said his chances for eventual recovery remain "poor."

Kellogg and four other professional basketball players were hurt when a car in which they were riding overturned. The other four were not hurt seriously.

Repulski, Musial Homer In 9-2 Tilt

SHREVEPORT, La., April 6 (AP)—Vic Raschi and Stu Miller combined pitching talents today and Rip Repulski and Stan Musial bat power as the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Chicago White Sox 9-2.

Raschi and Miller allowed seven hits between them, Raschi starting the exhibition game and leaving after six innings with an 8-1 lead. Repulski started the 13-hit Card assault by socking Sox starter Jocko Thompson's third pitch over the left field wall. It was Rip's fourth homer of the spring. Musial got his roundtripper with two men on base during the four-run St. Louis sixth.

NBA Title Series Resumes Thursday

SYRACUSE, N. Y., April 6 (AP)—The Minneapolis Lakers, confident of winning another world basketball championship, and the Syracuse Nationals, hoping to get its injured stars back in business, both worked out today for their NBA championship tilt Thursday.

Laker Coach John Kundla, with a two to one lead in the best-of-seven series, aimed his workout at keeping his favored club in the pink.

Al Cervi of the Nats worked toward getting five of his players out of the black and blue. Cervi said he expected George King, suffering from a broken wrist, to be able to play in the fourth game of the series.

He added that Dolph Schayes had a new light cast on his broken wrist and probably would see considerable action. Earl Lloyd has a broken bone in his right hand.

Corriganville Drills

The Corriganville team of the County Softball League will practice today at 5 p. m. Players who have signed contracts and others desiring tryouts are requested to attend.

Amvets To Meet

A meeting of the Amvets softball team of the Rocking Chair League and the Amvets junior team will be held tonight at the home at 8 o'clock.

Phillies Blank Detroit Tigers

SPARTANSBURG, S. C., April 6 (AP)—A 475-foot double by Del Ennis and Willie Jones' 9th inning home run were the scoring punch as the Philadelphia Phillies came on with a late inning rush to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 4-0, today.

Ennis doubled home Richie Ashburn and Earl Torgeson in the eighth inning after they had singled and walked. Jones whacked his home run off former National Leaguer Ralph Branca in the 9th inning.

Murry Dickson and Jim Konstanty gave the Tigers four hits each.

Ted Williams May Return To Majors May 1

Broken Collarbone Is Healing Fast

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Despite gloomy predictions, there is a better than fair chance that Ted Williams' name will be in a Boston Red Sox box score about May 1.

Maybe not as a starter, but as a pinch hitter showing at least a reasonable facsimile of the power that has made him an awesome figure when he steps to the plate.

His broken collar bone has been healing so fast it is not improbable he will be taking light workouts in Fenway Park in 10 days or less, and by April 21 he should be swinging at the ball fairly hard.

He is due for another checkup and X-ray tomorrow, probably his last. After getting this once-over he will be on his own, with the problem of others most interested in his welfare being to hold him down. He's fizzing with energy and enthusiasm.

Redlegs Crush Senators, 18-1

Judson And Zuverink Yield Only Four Hits

LYNCHBURG, Va., April 6 (AP)—The Cincinnati batting barrage blasted 20 hits, including three homers, off Washington today for a lopsided 18-1 victory.

Howie Judson held the Senators to four hits in six innings, and rookie George Zuverink, who pitched for Indianapolis last season, reeled off three hitless frames.

Bobby Adams led off with a homer in the first, added his second in the fifth, the same frame Ted Kluszewski contributed his circuit blow.

Washington's only marker was a home run by Ed Fitzgerald.

Porterhouse May Not Run In Derby

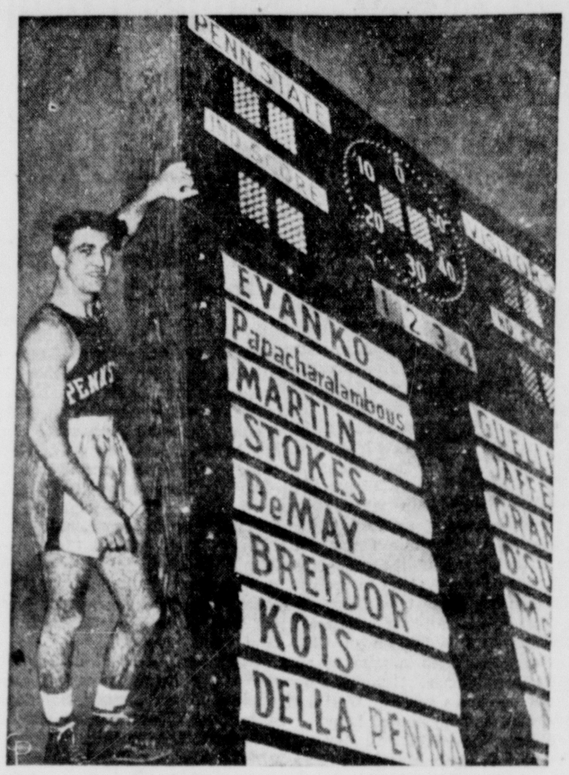

LOS ANGELES, April 6 (AP)—Porterhouse, champion 2-year-old colt of 1953 and favored to win the Kentucky Derby May 1, may not be able to start in the derby, his owner said today.

Mrs. M. E. Person said the fleet colt suffered severe stone bruises on both front feet within 10 days and has been limping badly. He is at Keeneland track, Lexington, Ky., being conditioned for the derby.

Bobby Dykes Wins

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., April 6 (AP)—Miami's Bobby Dykes won a unanimous but unpopular 10-round decision over Joe Rindone of Boston in a hard-fought ring battle here tonight before 2,444 fans.

Oh Mein PAPAcharalambous!

WHAT'S in a name? Well, Harry Papacharalambous, featherweight boxer on the Penn State college team, certainly is no favorite of the intertype operators in newspaper composing rooms but he is a favorite of Lions' fans. He will compete in the National Collegiate boxing championships at State College, Pa., April 8-10. (International)

Maryland's First Triple Dead Heat Is Run At Laurel

Deadlock Is Fifth In U. S.; Track Pays Off On Five Horses

LAUREL, Md., April 6 (AP) — Maryland's first triple dead heat and fifth in the United States since use of the photo finish camera about 20 years ago occurred today in the first race at Laurel.

The three-way tie was for third place and marked the second time a track paid off on five horses. Laurel had to hastily paint signs to show payoffs on two of them on the odds board.

It almost turned out to be the first four-way tie in racing history when Milldale missed by only a nose getting into the deadlock for third.

The three noses on the wire belonged to Noble Idea, Weird Music and Happy Bull. Noble Idea paid $6.40, Weird Music $2.80 and Happy Bull $3.60.

Hackensack was virtually overlooked as winner of the race among 12 horses.

The first and only other triple deadheat for show was at Bay Meadows in 1937.

Laurel racing fans have had more than their quota of dead heats this spring. Prior to today's triple, there had been two-way ties for first in two races and a two-way deadlock for third in 15 days of racing.

Two Yankees Get Treatment At Hospital

Robinson, McDougald Go North With Team

GREENSBORO, N. C., April 6 (AP)—The world champion New York Yankees received a triple scare today when first baseman Eddie Robinson was hospitalized with a kidney attack and infielder Gil McDougald and pitcher Allie Reynolds were hit by balls in practice.

Everything turned out all right, however, even though Robinson and McDougald spent a short time in the hospital.

Both were discharged after X-rays and treatment and permitted to continue the northward journey with the team. Reynolds sustained a knee injury but didn't require medical attention.

Robinson complained of kidney pains when the Yankees arrived here from Charlotte this morning and was sent to the hospital immediately. The trouble was diagnosed as a kidney stone.

He obtained relief a couple of hours after being admitted and Dr. C. T. Whittington said it was probable that he had passed the stone. The 32-year-old infielder had a previous history of the ailment, having had such an attack while barnstorming in Honolulu last fall.

McDougald was hit on the right side of the rear of the head by a pitch in batting practice and suffered a concussion. Jim McDonald threw the ball. X-rays showed no damage had been done.

Reynolds was hurt while pitching batting practice. A liner from the bat of catcher Charley Silvera struck him on the left knee.

Marciano And Charles Train In Catskills

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano and challenger Ezzard Charles will train at Catskill Mountain resorts only 14 miles apart.

Charles' co-managers Tom Tannas and Jake Mintz today selected Kutsher's Country Club at Monticello, N. Y. as the spot where the former heavyweight king will prepare for his title fight with Marciano at Yankee Stadium June 17.

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

THEY TELL these, and if you've heard 'em before, don't carry on:

• • • •

YOGI BERRA, they say, was playing golf one day this spring and the Yankee catcher was doing pretty well.

After he had reached the seventh hole he turned to his partner and said:

"Say, ya know, I'm really playing OUT of my head today."

• • • •

ED LOPAT, the Yankee lefthander, was hit hard by a group of rookies during a batting practice session at the St. Pete camp of the champs.

When he walked off the field, the Yankee physician, Dr. Sidney Gaynor, yelled at Ed:

"Hey, Lopat, they really shellacked you out there today."

"Think nothing of it," was Ed's retort. "Someone has to build up their confidence."

• • • •

THREE sportswriters were standing on the training field at the Reds' camp at Tampa when a Cincinnati writer turned around and looked toward the stands.

"Wow," he exclaimed, "look at that beautiful gal in the sweater over there."

"Don't look too long," warned a Pittsburgh writer in the group. "That's my wife."

• • • •

THE UMPIRE was having a tough time with one of the batters but he kept his temper.

After he called a second strike on the batter, the explosion came:

"Why, ya bum," the batter yelled, "that was a ball if I ever saw one."

Came the next pitch. The ump called it a strike and the batter tossed his bat up in the air.

"Ya blind so-and-so," stormed the batter. "They ought to toss you out of the league."

"Mebbe so," came back the ump, "but if that bat comes down, you're out of the game!"

OH, WELL, maybe it's that spring fever.

Loughlin To Direct Athletics At Navy

ANNAPOLIS, April 6 (AP) — Capt. C. Elliott Loughlin, one of the Navy's outstanding athletes in the 1930s, is the Naval Academy's next director of athletics.

The Navy Department said today in Washington that Loughlin will replace Capt. Ian C. Eddy when relieved as commander of Submarine Squadron 3 at San Diego, Calif.

Changes in the position usually take place in early summer, and that's when Academy officials expect Loughlin to report.

The Navy Department said also that Eddy, completing the customary three-year tour as athletic director, will enter the hospital here for treatment and observation. Further assignment depends on a finding that he is fit for continued active duty.

Bowed Tendon Puts Big Crest Out Of Derby

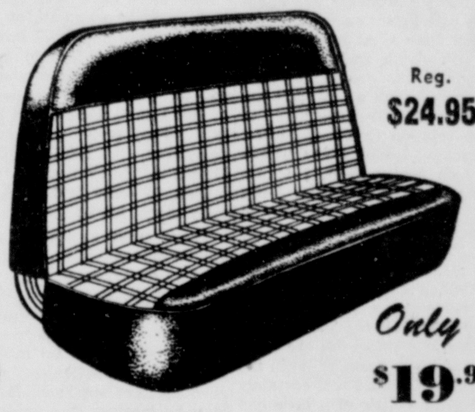

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP)—Harry F. Guggenheim announced today that another of his Kentucky Derby eligibles, Big Crest, had bowed a tendon in training and would be unable to run in the Louisville classic May 1.

Like three other of the Cain Hoy stable's crack thoroughbreds who suffered a similar fate, the colt probably will have to be retired from racing and placed in stud.

Guggenheim's future book derby favorite, Turn-To, suffered a bowed tendon March 24 and yesterday the Cain Hoy owner announced the colt would be sent to stud.

Black Star, a three-year-old bought from the Aga Khan, had a similar accident during the past winter at Hialeah.

In loving memory of James E. Moats, who passed away 3 years ago, April 5, 1951.
Three years ago Pop left us,
For that home up in the sky.
Some day we hope to greet him,
No more to say good-bye.
The smile that lingered on his face,
When at last he closed his eyes,
Assured us of the glory place,
Where his soul did gently rise.

Radio And Television

by John Crosby

(While John Crosby is on vacation, his column will be continued by a number of guest writers. This one is by Bing Crosby.)

Dilemma

I snapped like a badger at this chance to do a guest column for John Crosby—not only because I'm a frustrated columnist, but because I am a charter member of that ever increasing group who have felt the sting of his critical lash. I figure anything I can do to get him away to Europe and off our backs will be a great service. For a time, at least, we poor players can strut and grimace, bow and bask, secure in the knowledge that his vigilant and ruthless eye is "casing" bikinis and Beaujolais in the South of France. Liberace, for one, will be ecstatic.

Actually, I scarcely qualify as a guest columnist for John because he is a TV columnist, and my connection with this medium has been very fleeting to say the least. Just two short films made and released on the networks this season, and I must say received with something less than widespread approval. Although honestly I thought they were at least as good as some of the old Warner Brothers musical shorts made when Vitaphone first was used. I swear we gave it the full try and we probably will again—I hope with better success.

I asked John what he thought I should talk about, and he averred that there was some interest among the viewers as to what my plans for next year were likely to be—with relation to TV of course. Well honestly, I don't know. That's not a very newsy item, I appreciate, but at least it's true. Along this line I saw a story recently in the papers where I was quoted as saying "I dont' need TV"—misquoted, rather, as I certainly never said anything as smug or fatuous. TV is certainly a large part of show business. Maybe the way it's going lately it might be the largest, and if I am going to be in the entertainment field I will certainly have to grab a little of it here and there. Like any other entertainer, I like to be "on." Not as much as Hope, maybe, but some. With him, being "on" is a passionate hunger. I never knew him to turn down a chance to say a few words any place he can get more than two people to stand still for a minute, and if they'll laugh a little, he'll homestead.

But here is the thing with me. I'll be "half a C" come May next, and as I look back on it I see that I have been pretty busy for about 26 years. I don't want to appear modest or coy, but I have a gnawing fear of being "on" too long, of having someone say "oh, no—not him again!" I want to stay in action for a while, the good Lord willing, but I think audiences could hold still for maybe just a good movie now and then, without national apathy setting in.

To reduce it to sordid figures, I get $200,000 for a film, which takes about nine weeks to make. If I made nine TV films they would take about nine weeks and I would get $90,000. In the first case I would net $20,000 from the film after taxes, and from the TV I would net $9,000. So, as I say, I just don't know. It certainly gives one to think. There is lots of golfing, fishing, traveling to be done while I have the desire and am still able to do these things. And I have four teen-age boys, all with the usual built-in problems, some of them of major dimensions. Things that require my continuing attention. Seems as though you get one fellow straightened out and on the beam and another one goes over the wall. Sometimes I feel like going with him. So there is my dilemma. I guess I better make up my mind pretty soor, or everybody will lose interest, particularly the sponsors.

Now there have been some premature announcements of my imminent retirement — untrue of course. I would like to keep my hand in some phase of show business as long as I can get away with it. But I don't want to get involved in a yearly series of farewell appearances, like Eddie Leonars, or Melba, or Harry Lauder. (Putting myself in some pretty good company there, ain't I?)

There used to be an actor in vaudeville called Bob Ward. Bob used to do seven or eight minutes of songs, patter and parodies, but he never knew when to get off. If there was a single patron in the theater who could be milked into some demonstration of approval, such as light applause, Bob would stay on forever. One week in Boston he was followed on the bill by an act called "General Magano, Marksman and Trick Shot Expert." Closing night, the General wanted to make a train for New York so he could open there the next day, and he went to Ward and implored him to keep his act to reasonable length so the General could get on and do his stint and still make the train. Bob said he would, but when he got on, that old feeling hit him again, and he stayed on and on while the General fumed in the wings. He gesticulated, he hissed, and he beckoned, but it was useless. Finally he strode to the gun rack, selected a rifle, took aim and shot the heel right off of Ward's shoe. Ward's

LIES ARE HARD TO READ

PITY the poor defender. He does the best he can to guess what the other side is up to. That is not only during the play but while the bidding is on, if his own side has taken no part in it. The fellow who becomes the declarer, or his partner, may make some call along the way which is not based on possession of the cards it proclaims, but rather on lack of those cards. Its purpose may be to prevent the defenders from leading a certain suit. But it can be pretty hard to read some of the lies in that category.

	♠ 10 8 6 4 ♥ A 8 5 ♦ 9 8 6 ♣ A Q 2
♠ Q 5 ♥ Q J 10 6 ♦ 5 4 ♣ 10 9 7 4 3	N W E S	♠ J 2 ♥ K 9 2 ♦ A 3 2 ♣ K J 8 6 5
	♠ A K 9 7 3 ♥ 7 4 3 ♦ K Q J 10 7 ♣ None

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
5 ♣	Pass	6 ♠

Sometimes you hold the cards which enable you to figure out what somebody else is up to in the auction, but sometimes you don't. It was not too hard for North to guess his partner's cue-bid of 4-Hearts was probably for the purpose of steering the opening lead into diamonds. He himself had the heart A, so South's bid could not have been on the level unless he had a blank in hearts, which was none too likely since the not-vulnerable opponents were unable to overcall with a long holding. He could not visualize South as wanting a club lead, in view of his own ace-queen. So to help steer the lead to diamonds, he himself cue-bid the clubs at the five level.

Note that West had no such way of figuring out what South's bid of 4-Hearts portended. He reckoned that worthy probably had four to the A-K, so eschewed his own otherwise natural lead of that suit to select the diamond 5. East won with the A and, since that was the only unbid suit, decided to return it instead of leading up to either of the aces he saw in dummy.

That made it easy for South. Winning with the diamond K, he then removed trumps in two rounds and discarded dummy's two losing hearts on diamonds to make his slam.

If the bidding had been normal, the heart lead would have caused South to be set two tricks. With the A removed at the outset, two crucial tricks would have awaited the defenders as soon as East won with his diamond topper.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ A K 6 4 ♥ 8 4 3 ♦ 7 3 2 ♣ 8 7 3
♠ 9 3 ♥ K J 7 2 ♦ Q 9 6 5 ♣ 9 5 4	N W E S	♠ Q J 10 8 2 ♥ 10 9 ♦ K 8 4 ♣ 10 6 2
	♠ 7 5 ♥ A Q 6 5 ♦ A J 10 ♣ A K Q J

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

What is South's sound play for 3-No Trumps after West leads the spade 9?

First Frostburg Election Returns Give Myers Lead

3 Incumbents Head Race For Council

Frostburg Police Commissioner Perry Myers was leading incumbent Mayor Jesse Jacobs by a margin of 122 votes early today on the basis of nearly complete, but unofficial, returns in the Frostburg mayoral race.

With fewer than 500 of the 1,870-odd votes still to be counted, the score was Myers 755, Jacobs 633.

Ward 3 was the first polling place to report complete returns, at 1:10 a. m. Ward 2 followed closely at 1:20 a. m., but election workers at Ward 1 at City Hall, biggest of the city's three wards, were still counting away at 1:30 a. m. in the wake of a whopping turnout of 75.75 per cent of the city's 2,470 registered voters.

Incumbents Lead

Three incumbent councilmen also held slim leads, along with a fourth who previously served on the City Council, among the 12 candidates seeking four City Council berths as election supervisors worked feverishly to complete the count.

The council leaders are:

William J. Eberly	821
Arthur Thomas	756
John R. Hendley	649
Paul C. Haberlein	636
G. Franklin Martens	608
William W. Sluss	541

Trailing in the race for Council were James Evans, Charles Rafferty, George Kyle, Gilbert Bittner, Mrs. Olive Patton and Charles Powell, in that order.

Eberly is present finance commissioner while Hendley was finance commissioner two years ago before being defeated in the city's last election. Haberlein is present street commissioner and Thomas is water commissioner.

William W. Sluss also is a previous councilman who is seeking to return to city office while G. Franklin Martens is a newcomer to the political field in Frostburg.

A close ballot on the city's new charter which was passed by the General Assembly subject to referendum indicated the people are pretty evenly divided in thought as to whether they want a new charter or not.

Votes cast in favor of the charter were 323, while opposed were 303.

The polls were open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. for the biennial election and early indications were that the vote would be exceedingly heavy. Over 700 ballots had been cast by early afternoon.

300 Couldn't Vote

One indication of the high interest in the election was that more than 300 persons attempted to vote who didn't know they were not registered and could not cast ballots.

Frostburg has its own continuous registration and election officials said that failure of anyone to cast a vote within the past five years caused the clerks to strike his name from the books.

Ward I had 878 registered voters, Ward 2 has 844 and Ward 3 has 748 voters, the supervisors said.

Lockard Draws Suspended Term In Assault Case

One man was given a suspended sentence for assault and another posted $500 bond for trial on assault charges yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court here.

Robert Shrout, 514 Greene Street, was charged with assault and battery when he allegedly assaulted Louis Waingold, Braddock Road, following an argument in Shrout's business establishment on South Mechanic Street. Shrout posted bond for appearance before Magistrate Donald W. Mason Thursday morning for trial.

Charles Lockard, 31, of Bowman's Addition, was given a suspended 30-day sentence in Allegany County Jail yesterday by Magistrate J. Milton Dick on a charge of assaulting a Cumberland man.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, said Lockard struck Harry William Sweeney, about 40, Monday night in Cresaptown. The state policeman said Lockard and Sweeney had engaged in an argument about a year ago and that on Monday Lockard was driving in the Cresaptown area when he saw Sweeney seated in a parked car.

Sweeney was waiting for a woman who later said she saw Lockard walk to the car, invite Sweeney to get out and, when the latter refused, got into the automobile and strike Sweeney several times.

Lockard pleaded guilty to the charge and Dick suspended sentence on condition he be of good behavior and pay Sweeney's medical expenses.

Trooper First Class Charles H. Wade assisted in the case.

New Coal Hopper Examined

The Western Maryland Railway Company has received 50 new 55-ton roller-bearing coal hoppers and will put them into service between the Ida May Mine in Chiefton, W. Va. and the company's marine terminal in Port Covington, Baltimore. Joseph M. Miller, superintendent of the Elkins Division, is shown above pointing to one of the trucks of a car containing the new roller bearings.

Roller-Bearing Coal Hoppers Are Received By Railway

Something new is being added to facilitate the fast freight service of the Western Maryland Railway Company.

The company has received 50 new 55-ton roller-bearing hopper cars which are being put into service between the Ida May Mine in Chiefton, W. Va., and its coal pier at the company's marine terminal at Port Covington, Baltimore.

CANDIDATE—Thomas Nash, a magistrate at McCoole, has filed notice of his candidacy for the House of Delegates, subject to the Republican primary election June 28.

The Ida May Mine is located between Fairmont and Clarksburg and the hoppers will pass through Cumberland on their way toward the Baltimore destination.

The Western Maryland will operate the hoppers in a block and will maintain records to see if the roller bearings provide a saving over the conventional bearing, officials said.

The cars are being added to the Western Maryland 9,100-hopper fleet. They were built by the Bethlehem Steel Company at Johnstown, Pa.

The sides of the cars carry, in addition to the spectacular speed-lettering of the words, "Western Maryland," from one end of the car to the other, a special yellow band along the top for easy identification. The ends of the cars are also painted yellow.

Diminishing difficulties with hot journal boxes are promised through use of the roller-bearing hoppers, officials said. Up to the present time, roller-bearing trucks have been largely confined to passenger cars of American railroads.

Caution Is Urged By Firemen In Burning Of Brush

Now that the cleaning up and raking of backyards and small home gardens is in full sway, city and area firemen urge caution in the burning of brush.

A permit is required for the setting off of a brush fire within the city limits. They may be obtained from Central Fire Station or any of the other three stations.

A few pointers are cited by firemen in the event a brush fire is lighted. Such fires should not be ignited on a day which is even slightly windy as spark and embers may be carried to other property or catch nearby buildings afire.

The brush burner should take care in having water available in case the flames get out of control. Firemen note the burning of brush is not allowed on Sunday and should not be lit off on Mondays as the backyard neighbor usually has her wash on the line.

Eight Woods Fires Occur During March

Eight woodland fires occurred in the four Western Maryland counties during March and they burned over a total of 39.25 acres, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

Four of the eight were in Frederick County and they burned 30.75 acres. Three others burned five and one-half acres in Washington County. One in Allegany County burned three acres. There were none reported in Garrett County. All of the blazes occurred in four days. Four were on March 12, two on March 9 and one each on March 22 and 24.

Controlled burning regulations remain in effect in Maryland until June 15, the forester cautioned.

Rides, Shows Booked For May 13, 14, 15

The third annual Fun Fair, sponsored by the South Cumberland Businessmen's Association will be held May 13, 14 and 15 at Pennsylvania Avenue Baseball Field.

Nelson W. Russler is general chairman, assisted by the following general committee: Glenn Morris, Casper Kight, Roy Cunningham, James Scarpelli, Dr. [illegible] McKenzie, Harry Shobe, George Millenson, F. Perry Smith and Paul Shircliff.

The event is held for the benefit of the Halloween and Christmas street decorations fund and other community activities sponsored by the South End Association.

This year, Col. Russler said, George Clyde Smith Rides and Shows have been booked for the fair. A number of popular kiddie rides including merry-go-round will be erected for the occasion along with a number of fun shows, novelty booths and all the attractions of a fair for young and old.

Russler emphasized that there will be no gambling games, nor any undesirable attractions permitted, and the South End Businessmen always conduct a fair to which anyone can feel free to come and bring the entire family.

Among the committees assigned to help organize and operate the project are finance and publicity.

The finance committee is headed by James Weber, chairman, assisted by Paul Shircliff, co-chairman, John Conway, Marcus Naughton, William Umstot and George Millenson.

The publicity committe includes Thomas K. Whalley, chairman; Roy Knotts, Raymond Whitehair, Munroe MacKenzie and Harry Wilson.

Col. Russler said other committees will be announced in a few days.

Group Will Hear Famous Band

The Cumberland Salvation Army will be well represented when the Tranas Salvation Army Band presents a concert Thursday at 8:15 p. m. in Jaffa Mosque, Altoona, Pa.

The 38-member musical organization, composed of members of the Salvation Army Corps of Tranas, Sweden, is touring the United States and Canada.

The Salvation Army Citadel plans to send a delegation of some 40 Salvationists to the concert, in charge of Capt. Daniel Biggs, commander of the Cumberland Corps.

The South Cumberland Corps, headed by Lt. Harold May, will have about 15 members in its party.

A number of members of the Salvation Army Advisory Board also plans to attend the concert.

Capt. Biggs said the Tranas Band is acknowledged as one of the best brass bands in Europe.

Tranas is situated in southern Sweden and is famed as a resort.

Anton's Brother, Family May Stay In This Country

Anton Squillari's brother and sister-in-law and their two children, who came here from their native Italy for a visit almost three years ago, may remain in this country permanently, the U. S. House of Representatives in Washington decided yesterday.

The bill, introduced in the U. S. Senate by Senator J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg and first approved by the upper chamber, now needs only the signature of President Eisenhower to become law.

"That's the best news I've heard in a long time," Anton, local restaurateur, exclaimed last night when informed by a Cumberland News reporter of the story that was dispatched from Washington by the Associated Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Giulio Squillari and their minor children, Rosanna and Eugenio, came to the United States in May, 1951, to visit Squillari's brother, Anton. They originally were to have remained here six months.

The Giulio Squillaris are making their home at Big Savage Inn on Route 40 in Garrett County, just west of Frostburg. The husband is currently working in Anton's restaurant in Hagerstown but will return here May 1 when Big Savage reopens for the summer. Their son is a sophomore at LaSalle High School here and their 10-year-old daughter is enrolled at the College Laboratory School in Frostburg.

Liquor Board Hears Complaint About License

A remonstrance against the issuance of a package goods beer, wine and liquor license to Joseph R. Long, 34, of 1019 Bedford Street, for premises at 318 North Centre Street was heard yesterday morning by the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners.

Even before the hearing started, Walter C. Capper, board chairman, said that Long had no immediate opportunity of getting a beer, wine and liquor license.

Capper explained that all of the 68 beer, wine and liquor licenses other than club-type permits already have been issued. Consequently, the application could only be considered as for a beer and wine license.

The board held its decision in abeyance.

Six witnesses against the issuance of the permit were heard by the board. They included persons living in the neighborhood and members of Trinity Lutheran Church, which is located less than a block away from 318 North Centre Street.

In general they argued that there already are enough liquor licenses in the area. In addition, they said that the place is too close to the church.

Several other witnesses also were on hand but they were not heard when it was agreed that their views were the same as others already heard.

Those who testified were Alfred Zimmerla, 446 North Centre Street; Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Wagner, Harold J. Dreyer, Raymond F. Wigfield and Henry J. Kiiffner. The remonstrants were represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges and Long was represented by Attorney Harold E. Naughton.

Area Industries Face Big Boost In Gas Bills

Four Would Share $25,000 Increase

Cumberland area industries face a considerable increase in operating costs under the rate schedule proposed by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company.

In fact, the bills of just four of the industries would be increased by almost $25,000 a year if the boost were approved.

Hardest hit would be the Big Savage Refractories Corporation and the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation.

C. A. Massa, vice president of the C & A, said the Big Savage Refractories, bill would be boosted $10,217 a year, a 7.7 per cent increase, and the Celanese plant $10,138, for an average increase of nine per cent.

Bills Would Increase

Other major industrial users are the Big Savage Fire Brick Company, which faces a $2,540 increase in its gas bill, an 18.1 per cent boost, and the Cumberland Glass Company, whose annual gas bill would be increased by $1,860, or 18.7 per cent.

At the opening of the rate increase hearing before the Public Service Commission on March 10, Massa said the major reasons for the lower increase to industrial users—nine per cent in comparison to 22.3 per cent for all customers—was due largely to two factors.

Encourages Industries

Industries, he said, are more sensitive to prices of competing fuels than domestic users, who take into consideration such factors as cleanliness and convenience.

The second factor is that the C & A tries to keep industrial rates low in order to encourage new industries to come into its area and to prevent an exodus to areas which have lower rates.

The policy, he added, creates more employment and thus is a benefit to all citizens of the area.

Hazelwood Firm Is Low Bidder On Bridge Job

The George F. Hazelwood Construction Company, of Cumberland, was the apparent low bidder yesterday when the State Roads Commission opened bids for the construction of a new bridge across the Potomac River at Kitzmiller.

The local contractor submitted a bid of $311,901 for the Garrett County project which involves the construction of a five-span steel bridge over the Potomac River at Kitzmiller on a proposed relocation of State Route 38 and West Virginia Route 42.

The second low bidder on the job was Buckley Company, Inc., of Philadelphia, which offered to build the span for $314,612.

Sam Finley, Inc. of Roanoke, Va., submitted the apparent low bid of $199,446 on a resurfacing project on State Route 26 in the Unionville-Libertytown area.

The project includes widening and resurfacing the highway from about 2 miles west of Unionville and extending west through Libertytown, a total distance of about 2.3 miles.

The second low bid was by Richard F. Kline, of Frederick, at $203,094.

Driver Hurt In Collision

A Philadelphia resident was injured early yesterday morning when the car he was driving crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer truck east of the Bedford Interchange on the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Pennsylvania State Police identified him as Hal H. Priest, 58. Approximately $1,300 in damage to his car resulted from the accident.

Police said both the car and tractor-trailer were eastbound when the accident occurred at 3:30 a. m.

Priest was reported to have crashed into the rear of the trailer, which was damaged to the extent of approximately $50. Investigating officer was Pvt. Daniel Wengrenovich.

Board Receives 281 Beverage Applications

So far the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners has received 281 applications for various types of alcoholic beverage licenses for the new year which starts May 1.

That means that at least 46 of the present licensees have not yet filed for their new permits. There now are 327 licenses in operation. Among the 281 new applications are 136 for beer only, 26 for beer and wine, 47 club-type beer, wine and liquor and 72 other beer, wine and liquor permits.

Hearings will be held April 26 and 27.

Joins Gallon Club

The youngest member of the Red Cross Gallon Club is 19-year-old James Stafford, 307 Footer Place, who gave his eighth pint of blood during the two-day visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit. Shown above after becoming a club member, he smiles approvingly as he eats the light lunch provided by the Red Cross.

Donors Give 256 Pints Of Blood To RC Project

300-Pint Quota Is Not Reached

The quota of 300 pints of blood sought in Cumberland during the past two-day visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit from Johnstown, Pa., was not realized as only 112 pints were collected yesterday and 144 pints on Monday, bringing the total to 256.

Mrs. Charles F. Helmrich, recruiting chairman of the Red Cross project here, last night said 194 persons had been scheduled to give blood, but only 94 showed up.

She pointed out that there were 48 "walk-ins," and that 30 of the persons were rejected. Mrs. Helmrich said two more persons gave their eighth pints of blood yesterday afternoon and became members of the Gallon Club.

They are: Mrs. Edna Hounshell, RD 5, city; and Graydon S. Dunlop, of 117 Greene Street. On Monday there were three donors who joined the club.

Among those persons was a 19-year-old student of Fort Hill High School, James Stafford, 307 Footer Place. He is the youngest member of the club.

A total of 194 pints of blood were collected here on March 1, 44 pints more than the 150 pint quota assigned to Cumberland and Allegany County, but it did not reach February's one day record of 217½ pints.

Next month the bloodmobile unit will visit Cumberland for one day and the following day will be in Westernport.

On Monday, May 3, the unit will be at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street from noon until 6 p. m. and on Tuesday, May 4, it will be at the home of Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport, during the same hours.

Bowman's Store Will Be Razed And Rebuilt

The George Construction Company yesterday secured a permit to raze the H. F. Bowman property at 500-504 North Mechanic Street and to build a 30-by-60-foot storeroom on part of the site.

A portion of the land is needed for the approach to the new Valley Street Bridge which is being built by the S. T. Brotemarkle Construction Company.

The new building will be moved up about nine feet to make way for the new bridge.

Plans call for the new building to be of concrete block foundation, with a brick veneer exterior. Cost is estimated at $20,000.

Trooper Is Ill

Trooper First Class Milton G. Hart of the LaVale barracks, Maryland State Police, was stricken ill yesterday morning and was admitted to Memorial Hospital for observation and treatment.

Local Music Teacher Gets State Post

Mrs. Alice Routch, wife of W. Valgene Routch, supervisor of music for Allegany County Board of Education, has been appointed state chairman of class piano instruction in Maryland schools by the National Music Educators.

Mr. and Mrs. Routch attended the national conference of the music educators in Chicago all last week and returned to Cumberland Sunday. Mrs. Routch's appointment as state chairman was approved by both the eastern chairman of music educators and the national chairman.

Workshops were held in elementary, junior and senior high music and Lilla Belle Pitts, Columbia University music department, and J. Archibald Carey, first alternate delegate of the U. S. delegation to the Eighth General Assembly of the United Nations, were principal speakers at the session.

Routch said some of the most outstanding works presented at the conference were the performance of an elementary school band from Atlanta, Ga., and a ballet presented by a Chicago high school.

Mrs. Routch is piano instructor for elementary schools in Allegany County.

Two Boys Given Suspended Terms

Two Cumberland youths, 16 and 17, yesterday were put on probation for two years after receiving suspended sentences to the Maryland Training School for Boys as delinquent minors.

The two were apprehended early Sunday with Joseph Biggs, 18, of Ridgeley when they attempted to siphon gasoline from a parked automobile on McMullen Highway about 2:30 in the morning.

Trooper Linwood C. Clark, who picked up the trio after tracing them through an automobile they fled in and later abandoned, said he caught them in the act of trying to siphon the gasoline.

Biggs was given a six-months suspended sentence in the House of Correction Monday by Magistrate Morris Baron in Juvenile Court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was ordered to stay away from Cumberland.

Baron yesterday sentenced his two companions and placed them in the custody of their parents.

Gibson Will Speak To C. Of C. Group

"Spending and taxing" will be discussed by Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, at a meeting of the Economic Discussion Group of the Chamber of Commerce, to be held this evening at 7:30 p. m. in the conference room of the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant.

His talk, dealing with national events, will be the 12th of a series of 17 sessions planned to discuss the American economic system.

City Is Making Baltimore St. Bridge Survey

Design Work May Begin This Month

The J. E. Greiner Company expects this month to begin work on the design of the proposed new Baltimore Street Bridge.

A City Engineering Department survey crew has been busy for several days on the site, preparing data which will be used for planning the new span, one of three which must be replaced in connection with the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program.

City officials said the survey will be completed soon, and data will be forwarded to the Greiner Company in Baltimore.

To Be Steel Span

The bridge is to have a 42-foot roadway—enough for four lanes, and two eight-foot sidewalks.

Reducing the width of the sidewalks on the south side of Baltimore Street west of Mechanic will provide a uniform 42-foot width for Baltimore Street.

Modification of the Greene Street approach by taking part of the park area is also planned.

May Maintain Traffic

Actual construction of the span will depend upon the scheduling of work in the flood job, since the span is to be tied in with the flood protection program.

It is likely, however, that the bridge will be built in advance of the paving of the last section of Wills Creek channel.

The Greiner firm is studying a plan to allow one-way traffic on part of the old bridge while half of the new span is being constructed, since blocking off the route would create a serious traffic situation.

Magistrate Says County Expenses "Whitewashed"

A representative of a group of Allegany County trial magistrates said last night the magistrates thought the county commissioners were trying to "whitewash" overlarge expense accounts and had not answered specifically the paramount questions asked them in two letters to the board prepared by the magistrates.

A second letter was received by the commissioners yesterday from a committee representing the magistrates at the regular meeting of the board in the Court House. It was signed by Magistrates J. Milton Dick, Donald W. Mason, Alban C. Thompson and Morris Baron.

It was after this letter had been read to the commissioners and they had given their reply that Magistrate Mason made the "whitewash" charge.

The magistrates said the board's letter of reply to the original charges over expenses of the county commissioners and other county officials "can hardly be considered responsive to the questions raised in our inquiry."

The magistrates continued "from your reply we gather that you simply paid the expenses we questioned because you paid them and because they had been paid in the past or because you have set them up in the budget and finally because you have the approval of the auditor. In essence, we derived from your weak excuses you paid only those expenses which you wanted to pay."

The letter from the magistrates also pointed out that they "fail to see how enormous expenditures for out-of-state trips and tips in the amounts of $19.31 and $22.75 spent in Detroit and New Orleans have benefited the taxpayers of Allegany County."

Among the items on which the magistrates charged that the commissioners had failed to give adequate answer was the difference in mileage fees paid to different county officials. They especially noted that County Supervisor of Roads J. Walker Chapman submitted private car mileage bills approved by himself, on a basis of 7 cents per mile for a total of $901.53 from December 1951 to December of 1953. This despite the fact, the magistrates said, that the county is supplying him with a county-owned automobile for his work.

The magistrates continued that Chapman's mileage fees increased from $24.64 in December of 1951 to $34.65 in December of 1952 and further to $42.56 for December of 1953.

The committee stated the second letter would be sent to the Allegany County Grand Jury now in session as was the first missive.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to friends and neighbors who were so sympathetic and helpful during the recent death of our beloved husband and father, William A. Cameron. We especially wish to thank Rev. C. H. Goshorn, those who sent floral tributes, loaned or drove cars at the funeral, or who in any manner rendered assistance.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of James E. Moats, who passed away 3 years ago, April 5, 1951.
Three years ago Pop left us,
For that home up in the sky.
Some day we hope to greet him,
No more to say good-bye.
The smile that lingered on his face,
When at last he closed his eyes,
Assured us of the glory place,
Where his soul did gently rise.
Sadly missed by
Wife, Daughters & Grandchildren

Market, Hit Hard By Selling Wave, Closes On Upgrade

NEW YORK, April 6 (AP) — The Stock Market was beaten down hard today in a sharp selling wave, but it snapped back from its lows with vigor before the close.

Brokers in wall street said that concern over developments in the Indochinese War was responsible for the selling. Whether that was in the minds all sellers is debatable, but at least the war in Indochina was the excuse for the sudden dumping of stocks.

Hardest hit were the aircrafts, chemicals and the railroads, but also lower were steels, motors, rubbers, distillers, coppers, utilities, oils, airlines, electronics and a long list of miscellaneous issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost 90 cents at $116.60. That is the third biggest fall of the year for the average. The industrial component fell $1.60, railroads were down 80 cents, and the utilities were off 20 cents.

The market was broad with 1,198 individual issues traded of which 772 declined, the greatest number of losers in nearly seven months. There were only 192 issues showing plus signs. Sixty-four issues made new highs for the year at some time during the day while 19 dropped to new lows.

Volume for the 17th time this year crossed the two million mark at 2,120,000 shares.

New York Central was the day's most active issue off 1⅜ at 22⅛. Interest in the stock continues to be heightened by the proxy fight for control.

Cumberland Stockyards

Health Center Will Be Redecorated

WESTERNPORT — Plans have been made for the redecorating of the Westernport Health Center. They will include the walls, woodwork and furniture being painted. A new ceiling will be installed, a plastic coating will be given the linoleum on the floor and new yellow and green drapes will be hung, John E. Grindle, chairman, states.

The members of the Westernport and Luke Lions Club will do some of the work as a community service project.

First Frostburg Election Returns Give Myers Lead

3 Incumbents Head Race For Council

Frostburg Police Commissioner Perry Myers was leading incumbent Mayor Jesse Jacobs by a margin of 122 votes early today on the basis of nearly complete, but unofficial, returns in the Frostburg mayoral race.

With fewer than 500 of the 1,870-odd votes still to be counted, the score was Myers 755, Jacobs 633.

Ward 3 was the first polling place to report complete returns, at 1:10 a. m. Ward 2 followed closely at 1:20 a. m., but election workers at Ward 1 at City Hall, biggest of the city's three wards, were still counting away at 1:30 a. m. in the wake of a whopping turnout of 75.75 per cent of the city's 2,470 registered voters.

Incumbents Lead

Three incumbent councilmen also held slim leads, along with a fourth who previously served on the City Council, among the 12 candidates seeking four City Council berths as election supervisors worked feverishly to complete the count.

The council leaders are:

William J. Eberly	821
Arthur Thomas	756
John R. Hendley	649
Paul C. Haberlein	636
G. Franklin Martens	608
William W. Sluss	541

Trailing in the race for Council were James Evans, Charles Rafferty, George Kyle, Gilbert Bittner, Mrs. Olive Patton and Charles Powell, in that order.

Eberly is present finance commissioner while Hendley was finance commissioner two years ago before being defeated in the city's last election. Haberlein is present street commissioner and Thomas is water commissioner.

William W. Sluss also is a previous councilman who is seeking to return to city office while G. Franklin Martens is a newcomer to the political field in Frostburg.

A close ballot on the city's new charter which was passed by the General Assembly subject to referendum indicated the people are pretty evenly divided in thought as to whether they want a new charter or not.

Votes cast in favor of the charter were 323, while opposed were 303.

The polls were open from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. for the biennial election and early indications were that the vote would be exceedingly heavy. Over 700 ballots had been cast by early afternoon.

300 Couldn't Vote

One indication of the high interest in the election was that more than 300 persons attempted to vote who didn't know they were not registered and could not cast ballots.

Frostburg has its own continuous registration and election officials said that failure of anyone to cast a vote within the past five years caused the clerks to strike his name from the books.

Ward I had 878 registered voters, Ward 2 has 844 and Ward 3 has 748 voters, the supervisors said.

Lockard Draws Suspended Term In Assault Case

One man was given a suspended sentence for assault and another posted $500 bond for trial on assault charges yesterday in Trial Magistrates Court here.

Robert Shrout, 514 Greene Street, was charged with assault and battery when he allegedly assaulted Louis Waingold, Braddock Road, following an argument in Shrout's business establishment on South Mechanic Street. Shrout posted bond for appearance before Magistrate Donald W. Mason Thursday morning for trial.

Charles Lockard, 31, of Bowman's Addition, was given a suspended 30-day sentence in Allegany County Jail yesterday by Magistrate J. Milton Dick on a charge of assaulting a Cumberland man.

Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the Maryland State Police, said Lockard struck Harry William Sweeney, about 40, Monday night in Cresaptown. The state policeman said Lockard and Sweeney had engaged in an argument about a year ago and that on Monday Lockard was driving in the Cresaptown area when he saw Sweeney seated in a parked car.

Sweeney was waiting for a woman who later said she saw Lockard walk to the car, invite Sweeney to get out and, when the latter refused, got into the automobile and strike Sweeney several times.

Lockard pleaded guilty to the charge and Dick suspended sentence on condition he be of good behavior and pay Sweeney's medical expenses.

Trooper First Class Charles H. Wade assisted in the case.

New Coal Hopper Examined

The Western Maryland Railway Company has received 50 new 55-ton roller-bearing coal hoppers and will put them into service between the Ida May Mine in Chiefton, W. Va. and the company's marine terminal in Port Covington, Baltimore. Joseph M. Miller, superintendent of the Elkins Division, is shown above pointing to one of the trucks of a car containing the new roller bearings.

Roller-Bearing Coal Hoppers Are Received By Railway

Something new is being added to facilitate the fast freight service of the Western Maryland Railway Company.

The company has received 50 new 55-ton roller-bearing hopper cars which are being put into service between the Ida May Mine in Chiefton, W. Va., and its coal pier at the company's marine terminal at Port Covington, Baltimore.

The Ida May Mine is located between Fairmont and Clarksburg and the hoppers will pass through Cumberland on their way toward the Baltimore destination.

The Western Maryland will operate the hoppers in a block and will maintain records to see if the roller bearings provide a saving over the conventional bearing, officials said.

The cars are being added to the Western Maryland 9,100-hopper fleet. They were built by the Bethlehem Steel Company at Johnstown, Pa.

The sides of the cars carry, in addition to the spectacular speed-lettering of the words, "Western Maryland," from one end of the car to the other, a special yellow band along the top for easy identification. The ends of the cars are also painted yellow.

Diminishing difficulties with hot journal boxes are promised through use of the roller-bearing hoppers, officials said. Up to the present time, roller-bearing trucks have been largely confined to passenger cars of American railroads.

Caution Is Urged By Firemen In Burning Of Brush

Now that the cleaning up and raking of backyards and small home gardens is in full sway, city and area firemen urge caution in the burning of brush.

A permit is required for the setting off of a brush fire within the city limits. They may be obtained from Central Fire Station or any of the other three stations.

A few pointers are cited by firemen in the event a brush fire is lighted. Such fires should not be ignited on a day which is even slightly windy as spark and embers may be carried to other property or catch nearby buildings afire.

The brush burner should take care in having water available in case the flames get out of control. Firemen note the burning of brush is not allowed on Sunday and should not be lit off on Mondays as the backyard neighbor usually has her wash on the line.

Eight Woods Fires Occur During March

Eight woodland fires occurred in the four Western Maryland counties during March and they burned over a total of 39.25 acres, according to District Forester William H. Johnson.

Four of the eight were in Frederick County and they burned 30.75 acres. Three others burned five and one-half acres in Washington County. One in Allegany County burned three acres. There were none reported in Garrett County. All of the blazes occurred in four days. Four were on March 12, two on March 9 and one each on March 22 and 24.

Controlled burning regulations remain in effect in Maryland until June 15, the forester cautioned.

Anton's Brother, Family May Stay In This Country

Anton Squillari's brother and sister-in-law and their two children, who came here from their native Italy for a visit almost three years ago, may remain in this country permanently, the U. S. House of Representatives in Washington decided yesterday.

The bill, introduced in the U. S. Senate by Senator J. Glenn Beall of Frostburg and first approved by the upper chamber, now needs only the signature of President Eisenhower to become law.

"That's the best news I've heard in a long time," Anton, local restaurateur, exclaimed last night when informed by a Cumberland News reporter of the story that was dispatched from Washington by the Associated Press.

Mr. and Mrs. Giulio Squillari and their minor children, Rosanna and Eugenio, came to the United States in May, 1951, to visit Squillari's brother, Anton. They originally were to have remained here six months.

The Giulio Squillaris are making their home at Big Savage Inn on Route 40 in Garrett County, just west of Frostburg. The husband is currently working in Anton's restaurant in Hagerstown but will return here May 1 when Big Savage reopens for the summer. Their son is a sophomore at LaSalle High School here and their 10-year-old daughter is enrolled at the College Laboratory School in Frostburg.

Liquor Board Hears Complaint About License

A remonstrance against the issuance of a package goods beer, wine and liquor license to Joseph R. Long, 34, of 1019 Bedford Street, for premises at 318 North Centre Street was heard yesterday morning by the Allegany County Board of License Commissioners.

Even before the hearing started, Walter C. Capper, board chairman, said that Long had no immediate opportunity of getting a beer, wine and liquor license.

Capper explained that all of the 68 beer, wine and liquor licenses other than club-type permits already have been issued. Consequently, the application could only be considered as for a beer and wine license.

The board held its decision in abeyance.

Six witnesses against the issuance of the permit were heard by the board. They included persons living in the neighborhood and members of Trinity Lutheran Church, which is located less than a block away from 318 North Centre Street.

In general they argued that there already are enough liquor licenses in the area. In addition, they said that the place is too close to the church.

Several other witnesses also were on hand but they were not heard when it was agreed that their views were the same as others already heard.

Those who testified were Alfred Zimmerla, 446 North Centre Street; Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Wagner, Harold J. Dreyer, Raymond F. Wigfield and Henry J. Kiiffner. The remonstrants were represented by Attorney Earl E. Manges and Long was represented by Attorney Harold E. Naughton.

Area Industries Face Big Boost In Gas Bills

Four Would Share $25,000 Increase

Cumberland area industries face a considerable increase in operating costs under the rate schedule proposed by the Cumberland and Allegheny Gas Company.

In fact, the bills of just four of the industries would be increased by almost $25,000 a year if the boost were approved.

Hardest hit would be the Big Savage Refractories Corporation and the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation.

C. A. Massa, vice president of the C & A, said the Big Savage Refractories, bill would be boosted $10,217 a year, a 7.7 per cent increase, and the Celanese plant $10,138, for an average increase of nine per cent.

Bills Would Increase

Other major industrial users are the Big Savage Fire Brick Company, which faces a $2,540 increase in its gas bill, an 18.1 per cent boost, and the Cumberland Glass Company, whose annual gas bill would be increased by $1,860, or 18.7 per cent.

At the opening of the rate increase hearing before the Public Service Commission on March 10, Massa said the major reasons for the lower increase to industrial users—nine per cent in comparison to 22.3 per cent for all customers—was due largely to two factors.

Encourages Industries

Industries, he said, are more sensitive to prices of competing fuels than domestic users, who take into consideration such factors as cleanliness and convenience.

The second factor is that the C & A tries to keep industrial rates low in order to encourage new industries to come into its area and to prevent an exodus to areas which have lower rates.

The policy, he added, creates more employment and thus is a benefit to all citizens of the area.

Hazelwood Firm Is Low Bidder On Bridge Job

The George F. Hazelwood Construction Company, of Cumberland, was the apparent low bidder yesterday when the State Roads Commission opened bids for the construction of a new bridge across the Potomac River at Kitzmiller.

The local contractor submitted a bid of $311,901 for the Garrett County project which involves the construction of a five-span steel bridge over the Potomac River at Kitzmiller on a proposed relocation of State Route 38 and West Virginia Route 42.

The second low bidder on the job was Buckley Company, Inc., of Philadelphia, which offered to build the span for $314,612.

Sam Finley, Inc. of Roanoke, Va., submitted the apparent low bid of $199,446 on a resurfacing project on State Route 26 in the Unionville-Libertytown area.

The project includes widening and resurfacing the highway from about 2 miles west of Unionville and extending west through Libertytown, a total distance of about 2.3 miles.

The second low bid was by Richard F. Kline, of Frederick, at $203,094.

Donors Give 256 Pints Of Blood To RC Project

300-Pint Quota Is Not Reached

The quota of 300 pints of blood sought in Cumberland during the past two-day visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile Unit from Johnstown, Pa., was not realized as only 112 pints were collected yesterday and 144 pints on Monday, bringing the total to 256.

Mrs. Charles F. Helmrich, recruiting chairman of the Red Cross project here, last night said 194 persons had been scheduled to give blood, but only 94 showed up.

She pointed out that there were 48 "walk-ins," and that 30 of the persons were rejected. Mrs. Helmrich said two more persons gave their eighth pints of blood yesterday afternoon and become members of the Gallon Club.

They are: Mrs. Edna Hounshell, RD 5, city; and Graydon S. Dunlop, of 117 Greene Street. On Monday there were three donors who joined the club.

Among those persons was a 19-year-old student of Fort Hill High School, James Stafford, 307 Footer Place. He is the youngest member of the club.

A total of 194 pints of blood were collected here on March 1, 44 pints more than the 150 pint quota assigned to Cumberland and Allegany County, but it did not reach February's one day record of 217½ pints.

Next month the bloodmobile unit will visit Cumberland for one day and the following day will be in Westernport.

On Monday, May 3, the unit will be at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street from noon until 6 p. m. and on Tuesday, May 4, it will be at the home of Victory Post 155, American Legion, Westernport, during the same hours.

Plans call for the new building to be of concrete block foundation, with a brick veneer exterior. Cost is estimated at $20,000.

Two Boys Given Suspended Terms

Two Cumberland youths, 16 and 17, yesterday were put on probation for two years after receiving suspended sentences to the Maryland Training School for Boys as delinquent minors.

The two were apprehended early Sunday with Joseph Biggs, 18, of Ridgeley when they attempted to siphon gasoline from a parked automobile on McMullen Highway about 2:30 in the morning.

Trooper Linwood C. Clark, who picked up the trio after tracing them through an automobile they fled in and later abandoned, said he caught them in the act of trying to siphon the gasoline.

Biggs was given a six-months suspended sentence in the House of Correction Monday by Magistrate Morris Baron in Juvenile Court on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of minors. He was ordered to stay away from Cumberland.

City Is Making Baltimore St. Bridge Survey

Design Work May Begin This Month

The J. E. Greiner Company expects this month to begin work on the design of the proposed new Baltimore Street Bridge.

A City Engineering Department survey crew has been busy for several days on the site, preparing data which will be used for planning the new span, one of three which must be replaced in connection with the Cumberland-Ridgeley Flood Protection program.

City officials said the survey will be completed soon, and data will be forwarded to the Greiner Company in Baltimore.

To Be Steel Span

Preliminary plans call for a single-span bridge across Wills Creek, built of steel girder construction with a concrete deck.

The bridge is to have a 42-foot roadway—enough for four lanes, and two eight-foot sidewalks.

Reducing the width of the sidewalks on the south side of Baltimore Street west of Mechanic will provide a uniform 42-foot width for Baltimore Street.

Modification of the Greene Street approach by taking part of the park area is also planned.

May Maintain Traffic

Actual construction of the span will depend upon the scheduling of work in the flood job, since the span is to be tied in with the flood protection program.

It is likely, however, that the bridge will be built in advance of the paving of the last section of Wills Creek channel.

The Greiner firm is studying a plan to allow one-way traffic on part of the old bridge while half of the new span is being constructed, since blocking off the route would create a serious traffic situation.

Magistrate Says County Expenses "Whitewashed"

A representative of a group of Allegany County trial magistrates said last night the magistrates thought the county commissioners were trying to "whitewash" overlarge expense accounts and had not answered specifically the paramount questions asked them in two letters to the board prepared by the magistrates.

A second letter was received by the commissioners yesterday from a committee representing the magistrates at the regular meeting of the board in the Court House. It was signed by Magistrates J. Milton Dick, Donald W. Mason, Alban C. Thompson and Morris Baron.

It was after this letter had been read to the commissioners and they had given their reply that Magistrate Mason made the "whitewash" charge.

The magistrates said the board's letter of reply to the original charges over expenses of the county commissioners and other county officials "can hardly be considered responsive to the questions raised in our inquiry."

The magistrates continued "from your reply we gather that you simply paid the expenses we questioned because you paid them and because they had been paid in the past or because you have set them up in the budget and finally because you have the approval of the auditor. In essence, we derived from your weak excuses you paid only those expenses which you wanted to pay."

The letter from the magistrates also pointed out that they "fail to see how enormous expenditures for out-of-state trips and tips in the amounts of $19.31 and $22.75 spent in Detroit and New Orleans have benefited the taxpayers of Allegany County."

Among the items on which the magistrates charged that the commissioners had failed to give adequate answer was the difference in mileage fees paid to different county officials. They especially noted that County Supervisor of Roads J. Walker Chapman submitted private car mileage bills approved by himself, on a basis of 7 cents per mile for a total of $901.53 from December 1951 to December of 1953. This despite the fact, the magistrates said, that the county is supplying him with a county-owned automobile for his work.

The magistrates continued that Chapman's mileage fees increased from $24.64 in December of 1951 to $34.65 in December of 1952 and further to $42.56 for December of 1953.

The committee stated the second letter would be sent to the Allegany County Grand Jury now in session as was the first missive.
